WELL KNOWN CITIZEN DIES – Complications After Removal Of Eye Are Fatal To Theo. Jaglowicz – END SHOCK TO FRIENDS

Theodore Jaglowicz, 53 years old, for more than twenty-five years engaged in the merchant tailoring business in this city, died Monday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock at the Baptist Hospital in Louisville where he had been undergoing treatment for an eye trouble for about two weeks. Although it was known for several days before he passed away that his condition was dangerous, news of his death came as a shock to his friends and was received with sorrow by everyone who knew him. Mr. Jaglowicz's right eye became infected last April, but for a while following the trouble was not thought to be serious. It was not known what caused the infection. Some time later, when the eye did not get better, the physician who was treating it suggested that a Louisville specialist be consulted. This was done. The specialist informed Mr. Jaglowicz that the treatment he was receiving from his local physical was, in his opinion, the proper one and he returned home. For a while afterward the eye seemed to improve, but later it again became worse. Mr. Jaglowicz went to Louisville on February 15 where he placed himself under the care of a specialist. On Monday of last week the eye was removed and two days later he became seriously ill from erysipelas. Afterward pneumonia developed which hastened the end.

The body was brought home Monday night and taken to the residence on East Chandler street. Funeral services were held at St. Augustine's church Wednesday morning with Solemn High Mass, Mr. Jaglowicz's brother, the Rev. Father Michael Jaglowicz of Chicago, Ill., being the celebrant. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery. The pallbearers were Dr. John T. Boldrick, John A. Wathen, Will T. Abell, La Motte Spalding, Lee Goodin and M.H. Bottom.

Mr. Jaglowicz was born in Preston, Ontario, on May 15, 1877. He was a son of Michael and Rose Laszenski Jaglowicz, and was reared and educated in Ontario. He came to this city to locate in 1906 and had since that time been engaged in the tailoring business here. He was a splendid tailor and was widely known for the quality of his workmanship. Capable and attentive to business, he enjoyed a large patronage. He was well known throughout the community, his genial, companionable disposition having made many warm friends.

Surviving him are his wife, who was Miss Jeanette Hilpp of this city, to whom he was married in 1920, and one son, Theodore Jaglowicz, Jr. Five brothers and three sisters also survive. They are: Rev. Michael Jaglowicz of Chicago, Ill., former president of St. Mary's College; Leo Jaglowicz of Detroit, Mich.; Joe Jaglowicz of Louisville; John Jaglowicz of Chicago, Ill.; Frank Jaglowicz, Mrs. Rose Coughlin, Mrs. Anne Sobisch of Preston, Ontario, and Mrs. Mary McNamara of Detroit, Michigan.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH – Mrs. W.B. Jarboe Succumbs At Her Home Near Town Monday Evening

Mrs. Mary Blanche Jarboe, wife of W. Byrne Jarboe, died Monday evening at 6:00 o'clock at her home on the National Cemetery Road, about three miles from town. Death was due to cancer from which she had been a sufferer for some time. During the summer she was taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary in Louisville for treatment but did not seem to improve and was returned to her home where she had since declined rapidly. Although her death was expected, news of her passing came as a shock to all who knew her and cast a gloom over the community in which she lived.

Marion County and Related Obituaries

Mrs. Jarboe, who was a daughter of the late George A. and Victoria Johnson Bricken, was 56 years of age, having been born March 23, 1877, and spent most of her life in the community where she died. Her devotion to her family was one of the marked characteristics of her life that won for her the love and admiration of a wide circle of friends. She was a faithful member of the Catholic Church and lived in accordance with its teachings.

Other than her husband, to whom she was married about thirty years ago, she is survived by one son, Walter Jarboe, who has a position at the Citizens National Bank; one brother, George A. Bricken of Charleston, S.C., and a number of nieces and nephews. A brother, William Bricken, died at his home in Atlanta, Ga., April 15, 1933.

In Memoriam

Miss Perpetua Jarboe departed this life January 31, 1929, in her seventy-eighth year. Death always speaks with the voice of instruction. Hence the heroic Christian fortitude of Miss Jarboe, as she lay for over fourteen months in her last illness, is worthy of record and imitation. In November 1927 the dear deceased was stricken with a painful incurable disease. Since that time to the day of her holy death, she was never heard to utter a moan or a complaint. Just as some herbs need to be crushed to give forth their sweetest odors so anguish did but evoke the beauty of Miss Jarboe's blessed soul. Affliction is the touchstone of character; and life is but one vast representation of the beauty and value of patience. In Miss Jarboe, Christian patience was a quality graciously inherent in her high born valiant woman soul, spiritualized by strict adherence to the principles of her holy Catholic faith. No costly monument of granite or marble can be built to her memory comparable to the enduring impress of her heroic example of Christian patience. She was solaced in her hours of painful loneliness by the maternal solicitude of Mother Williams and the good Sisters of Mercy at the Sacred Heart Home, aided by the loyal devotion of her niece, Mother Bernadine of the Convent of Mercy.

The funeral took place from her parish church, St. Paul's, Owensboro, Ky., Rev. Father Norman officiating. The interment was in St. Alphonsus, Davies county, Ky. "May her soul rest in peace!"

Albert J. Jenkins

Mr. Albert J. Jenkins died at his residence on High Street, this city, Friday night, the 15th inst., of flux. His funeral took place from St. Augustine's Church Sunday morning, after which his remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. Mr. Jenkins was one of Lebanon's most prominent citizens, and was an exemplary man. During business hours he could always be found at his post of duty, ready, capable and willing to his duty upon business principles. He was a gentleman for whom everyone entertained the highest regard. He possessed many noble traits – one in particular, which was to attend strictly to his own affairs, without meddling or mentioning improperly those of others. He had been in the employ of the Louisville and Nashville railroad for twenty-eight years, and was regarded by the company as one of its best and most substantial men. In his death our city has sustained a severe loss. His family have the sympathy of the community in the great loss they have undergone.
