Dear Madam,

I plan to be in Lebanon Friday, Aug. 9 to do some research on my "BLAND FAMILY". As the national convention of the BLANDS will be held in Elizabethtown the weekend of the 10th and 11th of August, it seemed a fine time to combine my visit with research at Lebanon. THOMAS MORTON BLAND AND his wife, ANNE LAWRENCE lived in that part of Washington Co. that became Marion Co. Washington Co. has some records for this family, but I am sure that Marion Co. <sup>has</sup> some <sup>too</sup> as the Bland left Marion Co. to go to Warren, Logan and Simpson Counties. Anne Lawrence Bland must have died before the move to western Ky. as no mention is made of her in western Ky. records.

I am aware that your courthouse burned but am hoping there are some books or articles or cemetery records available that might mention these folks.. Thomas, John, Milton and Leland Bland.

Do you have any of the following; or know who does?

Cemetery Records--Nelson-Marion Cos.

Marion Co. Genealogy by John Dahringer (Lebanon Enterprise)

Judge C. L. Johnson's newspaper articles written 1918-20 featuring early Marion Co. families
Bland Collection compiled by Jessamine Bland.

I will stop by the library to find if any of the above named publications are available.

Thank you in advance for any help you might give me.

Sincerely,

Jane D. Arnold (Mrs. J. P.)

Dr. Bland honored

Any Marion countian who has ever had his or her head examined knows Dr. James Bland.

All jesting aside, psychiatrist Bland is a real home-grown asset to the local and state mental health care system.

In recognition of his "excellent couch-side manner," Dr. Bland has been awarded the 1995 Exemplary Psychiatrist Award from the National Alliance for the Mental Ill (NAMI).

Local NAMI spokeswoman Margaret Grundy presented the frameable certificate to Dr. Bland in a low-key ceremony at Communicare in Lebanon on June 10.

"Thanks again for the honor," said Bland. "I really appreciate your thoughts and efforts. It's certainly a nice personal award for me and also reflects well on NAMI that they are keeping an eye on the field. We've come a long way in more appropriately and fairly helping those with emotional and mental problems. The future is bright with both technique and attitude changes."

Dr. Bland has come a long way from his birth in Marion County 62 years ago. After graduating from Lebanon High in 1952, he attended Centre College, and, after graduation went on to the University of Louisville Medical School where he earned his doctorate in 1960. He then spent four years in military service ending in 1965.

Bland was Kentucky deputy commissioner for Mental Health in 1968-1971. He's been associated with Communicare for 25 years and is under contract to two other area mental health services.

Local NAMI spokeswoman Margaret Grundy presented the 1995 Exemplary Psychiatrist Award to Marion County native and mental health care provider Dr. James Bland (photo submitted)

Hinde. — Dr. Thomas Hinde born in Oxfordshire England, July, 1734, died in Clark County, Ky., in 1836. He served as surgeon mate during the French and Indian Wars, first at Louisburg and then on the staff of Gen. Wolfe, at Quebec, attending that General who fell into his arms, mortally wounded, soon after the fall of Quebec. He returned to England and served at the reduction of Bellisle. In 1765 he returned to Virginia, and settled at Hobb's Hole, Essex County. He was commissioned surgeon of the Continental Army by Gov. Patrick Henry and served throughout the war, receiving a military warrant for 20,000 acres of land in Kentucky. In 1797 he settled in Clark County. Dr. Hinde married September 24, 1767, Mary Todd Hubbard, daughter of Benjamin Hubbard, and left Essex. Children: 1. Elizabeth Clifford, born June 11, 1768; 2. Susanne Brooks, born December 15, 1770; 3. John Wood, born March 6, 1772; 4. Hannah Hubbard, born March 6, 1775, married the Rev. William Kavanaugh; 5. Mary Todd, born January 27, 1780, married Edmund Taylor, second, John McKinney; 6. Ann Winston, born December 12, 1783, married Richard Southgate; 7. Thomas Spottswood, born April 19, 1785; 8. Martha Harrison, born May 21, 1789. For an interesting account of Dr. Hinde see "Life and Times of Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh, D. D.," by A. H. Redford.

Talbot. — Lord John Talbot was an Englishman, who distinguished himself at the battle of Orleans, 1428. He was created Earl of Shrewsbury during the reign of Henry VI, and died in 1453. From him Isham Talbot (who represented Kentucky in the United States Senate) was descended and Isham was the father of the late W. G. Talbot, of Bourbon County.

Bland. — My great-grandfather and mother, Bland, were captured by the Indians and imprisoned at one of their towns. He was kept closely guarded, but she was not, and made her escape. Being closely pursued, she crept into a hollow log, over which the Indians passed. She was some days in the woods without food other than the forest supplied. Their children were Jesse, Elam, Osborne, Margaret and perhaps others. Margaret married William

A Gathering At The Nathan Day House - 1906

Editor:

I just recently learned about The Kentucky Explorer. I am very pleased with it. I have lived many of the very things I am reading about, and have heard my father tell many stories that come to me. Some concern the shot that kept the whole family out of the upstairs part of the house; the squabbles between themselves; and share cropping. The old house, see above, is now gone. It was the old Nathan Day home located near the mouth of Frozen in Breathitt County, Kentucky. Seven of my people are pictured in the above print made in 1906. My father, Thomas Sheridan Duncil, who was ten years old at the time is pictured at the top left side of the porch. He was the youngest of ten, all deceased. My grandfather and grandmother Stephen and Catherine (Burgess) Duncil are buried in the Lawson Cemetery on the other side of the river from the Day farm. It is of interest to know that my grandmother Catherine was a full-blooded Cherokee.

I am the third of seven children of Sheridan Duncil (1896-1968). I would certainly enjoy hearing from anyone connected to this family or anyone who has genealogical material on it. Thanks.

Phillips, of Lebanon, Ky., and they were my grandparents. I remember seeing a pamphlet giving an account of the capture and escape of Mr. and Mrs. B. and would be glad to have a copy of it or other information concerning the Bland family. Mrs. B. was perhaps a Peak. Her sisters married Willet, Sutton, Hunter and Brown. Her brothers were William and perhaps Robert.

 Edited By J. Emerson Miller

Editor's Note: In the mid-1930s, The Louisville Herald-Post conducted a genealogy column featuring materials sent in by its readers. We thought our readers would find the column interesting. We will reprint parts from this column each month. Because they were printed some 70 years ago, we do not have any other facts except those given below. We hope our readers enjoy the Kentucky Kinfolks column.

Calloway

My grandmother was Mary Calloway, a daughter of James Calloway and Sallie Bramlet. Their sons were Flanders, Dudley, Chelsey, James, Micajah, Edmund, and William. The daughters were Elizabeth, Susan, and Mary, my grandmother. Flanders Calloway married Jemima Boone, daughter of Daniel. Elizabeth was in the skiff with Frances Calloway and Jemima Boone when captured that fatal Sunday afternoon. They were rescued on Tuesday. I have heard my grandmother tell of their wonderful fortitude and presence of mind. Micajah and James Calloway were taken prisoners by the Indians at Blue Licks, Nicholas County, Kentucky. Micajah remained prisoner five years and was but 17 when he reached home.

Sanders-Saunders

Robert J. Sanders was born in Fairfax County, Virginia, January 22, 1803, and died August 12, 1899, at Chaplin, Kentucky. He had the following brothers and sisters: Lewis N. Sanders, born December 20, 1837; Evaline A. Sanders, born March 5, 1805, died young; Eliza A. Sanders, born June 10, 1806, married October 10, 1826, John Holsclaw of Bullitt County, Kentucky, and had issue: William H. Holsclaw, born July 21, 1827; Lewis Holsclaw, born February 15, 1829; B. Franklin Holsclaw, born March 16, 1831; and Eliza Sanders Holsclaw, born August 16, 1833. Robert J. Sanders married Adelaide Dawson of Nelson County, Kentucky, on June 22, 1834, and had 13 children, but I have the name of only these: Gabriel, Lewis, Betty, Eliza, Martha, Charles, Robert N., and Dr. Hugh Berkeley Sanders, born November 24, 1858, died October 8, 1935.

Haynes

Josiah Haynes, my grandfather, married Judith New, by whom he had ten girls and three sons. His second wife was Miss Howard, by whom he had three girls and one son. Charles Haynes died, leaving wife and children. John B. and wife, Hulda, left a large family of girls and boys. From these three brothers, there are numerous descendants in Ohio and Daviess Counties, Kentucky.

Browning

The Kentucky giantess, Miss Cynthia Browning, was born September 9, 1816, and died July 22, 1845. She was over seven feet tall. Her father was Benjamin Browning, and she had a brother, Levi. Two of the children married. One married Fitzgerald of Mt. Carmel, Fleming County, Kentucky, and the other Dr. Arnell and moved to Ohio.

Bland

My great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bland, were captured by the Indians and imprisoned at one of their towns. He was kept closely guarded, but she was not and made her escape. Being closely pursued, she crept into a hollow log, over which the Indians passed. She was some days in the Alvaro was the son of A. E. Funk and Eugenia Holsclaw Funk. He was born 6/14/1895 at Brooks, Bullitt County, Kentucky. Alvaro graduated from the Jefferson School of Law in Louisville and was admitted to the Kentucky Bar in 1917. In 1917 he married Myrtle Childers of Bullitt County, and shortly after he joined the Army and served in WWI. Returning home he began practicing law in Shepherdsville and later was elected Bullitt County Attorney and served from 1930 to 1934. In 1936 he was named Assistant Attorney General and served from 1936-1944. In 1947 he was elected Attorney General of Kentucky, 1948-1952. Alvaro died in Frankfort, Franklin County, Kentucky, 7/21/1954. Alvaro was affectionately called General Funk. General and his wife, Myrtle, had four children.

Margaret married William Phillips of Lebanon, Kentucky, and they were my grandparents. Mrs. Bland was perhaps a Peak. Her sisters married Willie Sutton, Hunter, and Brown. Her brothers were William and perhaps Robert.

Anderson

William Anderson was born in Augusta County, Virginia, 1750, and moved to Kentucky between the years 1780 and 1785. He married first a Miss Craig, daughter of Dr. Craig, founder of Craig's Station, Lincoln County, Kentucky. She died in Jessamine County, Kentucky, 1817. William Anderson's second wife was Catherine Blair. They reared several children, one of whom was Oliver Anderson, who represented Fayette or Jessamine County in the Kentucky Senate in 1849.

Winlock

My great-grandfather, Joseph Carter, son of Thomas Carter, of Lancaster, Virginia, married Nancy (Anne) Winlock in Virginia and moved with her to Kentucky about 1800. She was his second wife. He had previously married _____ Shelton, who bore him four children: Edward, Thorton, Polly, and Jane. Nancy bore him nine children: Thomas, Harvey, William, Jackson, Robert, George, Joseph, Mary, and Elizabeth. On reaching Kentucky, they settled west of Lebanon in Jefferson County, what is now the west end of Marion. There he died in 1846, Nancy having died in 1814.

Linthicum

Thomas Linthicum, Sr., of Bardstown, Kentucky, married Nancy Williams, daughter of Charles Williams and wife, early settlers at Louisville but later moved to Bardstown, dying there. Chas. Williams had Ruth, married Mason; Priscilla, married Samuel Belmear; Basil, returned to England; Thomas Linthicum had Nancy, married William Kendrick; Sallie, married Robert Abel; Ruth, married Frank Nall; Priscilla, married Oliver Howard; Delphia, married Marmaduke Berkley, of Missouri; Mary, married Stephen Cameron; Angeline, married William Foreman; Elizabeth, married Judge Albert Bolts, of Owensboro, Kentucky; Linda C., married Henry Lewis; Charles, married Elizabeth Slaughter; and Judge Thomas L., married Elizabeth Malone, of Nelson County.

Campbell

James Campbell married Phaneul Reynolds and by her had five children. James was a lieutenant in the Revolutionary Army. He died on the old homestead in Petus Township, now St. Thomas Township, in Pennsylvania, which town was laid out on the land of his brother, Thomas, and named for him. The names of James and Phaneul Campbell's children were: Charles, the oldest, went to Bowling Green, Kentucky; the second son, John R., went to Virginia and died there; and James, the third son, inherited the homestead in Pennsylvania, and died there. James, who remained on the homestead in Pennsylvania, married Margaret Poe by whom he had two children, Charlotte and Charles T. Campbell, who lived in Scotland, S. D.

Born—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Bland of the Calvary section on Saturday, March 30. The little one has been named Lois Ann.

The wedding of Miss Lelia Ryan and Edgar Bland, a well known couple of the Calvary section, took place at Holy Mary's Church at Calvary Tuesday morning at 8:00 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. J. P. Welsh, officiating in the presence of quite a number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. A Nuptial High Mass followed the ceremony.

Miss Mary Ola Thomas was the bridesmaid and Shelby Spalding, Jr., was the groom's best man.

The bride was becomingly attired in brown with harmonizing accessories. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ferns. The bridesmaid wore a green crepe dress with brown accessories. She carried yellow chrysanthemums.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, after which the couple left on a short bridal trip.

The bride is the daughter of John Ryan. She is a fine young woman with a pleasing personality. Mr. Bland is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bland and is a farmer.

173 Mattingly-Bland.

Bland
Holy Mary's church at Calvary was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Tuesday morning, February 25, when Miss Pauline Mattingly, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spalding Mattingly, and Joseph H. Bland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Bland, both residents of the Calvary section, were united in holy matrimony, the Rev. J. P. Welsh officiating.

The bride was attractively attired in tan crepe with hat and accessories to match. Miss Elizabeth Mattingly, cousin of the bride, was her attendant. She wore a pink crepe gown with hat to match.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of a wedding march played by Mrs. Shelby Spalding.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride attended by a host of relatives and friends.

The bride has endeared herself to all her acquaintances by her charming personality. The groom is a progressive young farmer of sterling worth. The couple will make their home for the present with the bride's parents.

Bland-Abell.

Bland

The marriage of Miss Mary Thelma Bland, of the Raywick section, and Louis Raymond Abell, of the eastern part of the county, was solemnized at St. Francis' church at Raywick Wednesday morning. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Bland and has a host of warm friends in the community where she lives. The groom, who is a highly regarded young farmer, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Abell.
