TO WHOM IT CONCERNS:

A couple years ago, I needed a copy of an Obituary and one of your departments there was able to do this for me.

My Mother's Uncle, Joseph Hardin Boskey died 6-21-1970. Could you please locate and make a copy for me. I always look 2-3 days before that date and 4-5 days after the date. He did not live in Lebanon at the time of his death, therefore this obituary could have run a few days later. He is buried in Ryder Cemetery. One of his brothers was Cranston Boskey of Boskey Funeral Home.

Enclosed is $20.00 to pay for your effort in locating this for me.

Sister Carmila, superior and principal at the St. Augustine's High School, who succeeds Sister Mary Ann, registered 48 in the four High School classes and 235 in the grades when the school opened its doors Tuesday for the term. Although there was a slump in the number attending the High School department, the total number of pupils is slightly above that of last year. St. Monica's Colored School has 72 students and the Public Colored School approximately 136.

Annual Picnic Success.

The annual Labor Day Picnic, sponsored by members of St. Augustine's church, was in every way a success, both financially and socially. Several thousand people from this city and county and many from a distance attended the affair which was held at the Marion County Fair grounds. Many stated it was the largest crowd assembled at the grounds in many years. Over 1,200 people were served at dinner and nearly as many at supper.

Among the amusements was a baseball game in the morning between St. Mary and a team composed of players from Lebanon and several towns in the county. The game which was a very exciting one ended by the score of 14 to 3 in favor of St. Mary. During the afternoon the features consisted of races of all kinds and other amusements. Refreshments were plentiful and the music was furnished by the Lebanon Colored Band.

The following were awarded prizes: Robert I. Smith, $50.00 in gold; Rev. J. W. Saffer, $15.00; St. Mary's College, $10.00; Arch S. O'Daniel, Sr., $7.50; H. J. Land, New Albany, $5.00; Miss Jennie Kelly, $4.00; Edward Backler, $3.00; C. O. Masley, $2.50; Rev. J. P. McGee, $2.00; Mrs. Ben D. Cecil, $1.00.

Three Trustees Named.

Also elected at the same meeting were three trustees who will serve for terms of three years each. They are Eddie A. Deep, William Isaacs and Joseph Hamilton.

The membership was loud in its praise of the retiring commander, Mr. Spalding, under whose guidance the post has made notable progress. A devoted and diligent officer, he has given extensively of his time and effort to promote the welfare of the V.F.W. Not least among the achievements of the post in recent years is its retirement of the $17,100 debt it incurred to purchase the suburban property that serves as its headquarters.

The incoming commander, who saw military duty abroad during World War II, is a charter member of the Maple-Caldwell Post and has played an active role in its affairs.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Mrs. C. O. Bosley, Sr., 56, Expires At Home Here Saturday Evening.

Mrs. Mae Placide Rubel Bosley, 50, wife of Cranston O. Bosley, Sr., local funeral director, died Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock at her home on South Proctor Knott Avenue. The immediate cause of her death was a heart attack suffered the previous day, following three months' serious illness. She had been in failing health for more than a year and was under hospital treatment at several different times, the last in mid-December. She was removed to her home shortly before Christmas and since had remained there.

A daughter of the late John A. and Annie Heffernan Rubel, she had lived in the same house practically all her life. She died in the same room in which she was born on October 12, 1895.

Married In 1915.

As a child she attended the public schools and was graduated from the Lebanon High School with the Class of 1914. Her marriage to Mr. Bosley was solemnized on October 31, 1915, in New Albany, Ind. A Catholic in her early youth, she united with the Presbyterian Church as a young woman and was an active and devoted member through the years, rearing her family in the Protestant faith. A few days before her passing, she returned to the Catholic Church.

Mrs. Bosley was of a lovable disposition and numbered her friends by her acquaintances. Until her health broke, she played an active

$49.50 Support Price Set For 1952 Burley

A support average of $49.50 a hundred pounds on the 1952 Kentucky burley tobacco crop was announced Monday by the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington.

He went to Lexington in January to be with his son, Joseph Henry Wuert, and entered the hospital a few days later.

Professor Wuert was a native of Detroit, Mich., born on November 22, 1879, a son of W.G. and Phyllis Cox Wuert. He was graduated from the Detroit Conservatory of Music and the famed Thomas Normal Training School. For three years he played first violin with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and also was connected with the Detroit Festival Society.

Former College Instructor.

He joined the faculty at St. Mary's in January, 1906, as head of the music department, and he also taught several natural science classes. He continued there, with one year's exception, until 1913. His orchestras at the college were among the best in the history of the school. As a younger man, he was truly a virtuoso, and his exquisite rendition of classical selections on the violin enhanced every program. His perfect poise and masterful technique are remembered still.

After leaving St. Mary, he taught music in Owensboro for two years, and since had made his home in Lebanon. He also was a music teacher here, but spent the greater part of his time as a piano salesman and in piano tuning throughout this section of the State.

He was a member of St. Augustine's Church and of the Holy Name

GOLFERS TO TALK ABOUT CLUBHOUSE

Meeting Is Scheduled For Next Thursday At Humkey's.

Plans for the construction of a new clubhouse this year at the local golf course will be among matters that are to be discussed next Thursday evening at a dinner meeting of the membership of the Lebanon Country Club. The meeting will be held in Humkey's private dining hall, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

Joe Stooksbury, president of the club, said that members will be afforded an opportunity to hear a report of the progress that was made in 1951 and to participate in the formulation of a program for the coming year. Opinions and suggestions will be welcome, he said.

surrounding towns will be afforded the opportunity to lend their financial support before the drive comes to an end next month. A few committees are well advanced with the canvass of their assigned territories but most have scarcely begun. Consequently no report on the progress of the effort has yet been issued.

Unfortunately, few people who have not actually had to call on the Red Cross for its services know the scope of its work in this locality. Not the least of its present duties is to help military men and their families. On numerous occasions here, the chapter has assisted in obtaining leaves for soldiers and sailors when serious illness or death occurred among their relatives. It also has helped arrange loans or has made grants to servicemen's families in need, has aided military personnel in getting their allotments, has helped them secure advances in their pay in cases of emergency, and has looked after their retirement appropriations, pensions, insurance and medical benefits.

Besides such services, the Red Cross goes to the rescue of local people who have been made indigents by illness, destruction of their property by fire or by other personal disasters. Further, it spends around $1,000 a year to defray the cost of the mobile unit which comes to this community five times a year to collect blood from volunteer donors. Such blood is used to treat war casualties and to provide free transfusions for county citizens who need them in any hospital in Kentucky.

Only by the liberal gifts of the public can the program of the Red Cross be maintained.

Fishing Season Is Given State Approval

Because of an excess of rough fish in Kentucky lakes and streams, the Game and Fish Department announced an open season for eating such fish from noon tomorrow till midnight April 30 in certain lakes.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, KY., Oct. 23, 1882.

Correspondence Standard and Times.

A very enjoyable affair occurred at this place on the 17th inst. I refer to the double wedding at St. Francis' Church at nine o'clock High Mass, Rev. Edwin Drury officiating, of Mr. T. Frank Osborne and Miss Victoria H., youngest daughter of G. W. Goodrum, Esq., and Mr. J. H. Mattingly and Miss Sallie M. Riggs, all of this vicinity. The brides were beautifully and tastefully dressed, Miss Goodrum looked her prettiest (and that is saying much) in myrtle green brocade satin, a most lovely hat which I cannot describe, and all the ornaments necessary to make out a beautiful bride. Frank is a lucky fellow and is the envy of most young men hereabouts.

Miss Riggs looked charming in garnet velvet and a most beautiful bonnet; in fact, nothing was neglected to make a beautiful bride. The gentlemen were elegantly dressed and looked—well too full for utterance. They reminded one of a couple of champagne bottles uncorked. No attendants. After the ceremony the happy parties repaired to the residence of Mrs. Isabella Riggs, where, in company of a few select friends, they partook of a sumptuous breakfast, then took the train for Louisville and Cincinnati. We wish them a happy journey through life.

A "slave hucking" and joining machine has been put in operation here by an extensive exportation dealer residing in Portland, Maine. The machinery is driven by a 10-horse power portable engine. A VERY DEPLORABLE AFFAIR.

On the morning of the 18th inst.

William Deaven dug a few days ago, a sweet potato that measured four feet and a fraction in length, but very slim. Mr. Richard Sutton has on exhibition a sweet potato, (old-fashioned Mississippi red) that measures two feet six inches in length, and eight inches in diameter, in the middle, tapering each way to the ends down to about one inch. If we can't get "blud out of a turnip" we can out of "laters."

SCHOOL PICNIC.

On last Wednesday morning, by permission of the Mother Superior and with the co-operation of Mr. John M. Elder, the efficient overseer, at an early hour all the available vehicles of every description belonging to the institution of Loretto, were brought into requisition for the purpose of conveying about twenty of the sisters and all the young ladies and misses attending school at that place to the base of Roban's Knob. Alighting from their conveyances, and being joined by the Rev. Father Lynch, they started upon the difficult journey of ascending the highest single peak in the State of Kentucky, being 1,000 feet above the level of the ocean. The primeval forest that yet encircles that historic spot was made vocal by school girls' exclamations of wonder and surprise at being so soon transported to where there was no evidences of civilization, except now and then the ruins of a moonshining distillery. Death of Charles F. Bosley.

It is our painful duty to announce the death of Mr. Charles F. Bosley, President of the Central Publishing Company, which occurred at his residence in Washington County at twenty minutes past twelve o'clock last Monday morning, October 23, after an illness lasting more than eight weeks. He was born on the 23d day of September, 1814, and was consequently at his death sixty-eight years and one month old.

Mr. Bosley was a man of strong character, bold, active and energetic. He was a prominent citizen of his county, extensively known, and one likely always to be foremost in matters affecting the public interests.

He was at different times honored with prominent positions of public trust. In the private relations of life—husband, father, brother, friend—his character was altogether admirable. As a business man, he was energetic and indefatigable; just and honorable with his fellows.

Mr. Bosley became a member of the Methodist Church fifty years ago, and died a member of the Pleasant Run congregation. He was always an active and zealous church member, regular in the performance of the duties which that relation imposed. He was a trustee and steward of the church and the superintendent of the Sunday school. His place in the house of God was seldom vacant. He died resigned to the will of God, sustained in the last hour by the Christian's triumphant hope.

The funeral took place yesterday morning at half-past ten o'clock at Pleasant Run Church, in the presence of a large assembly. Rev. V. Elgin preached the funeral discourse, after which the remains were borne to their resting-place in the churchyard.

Tribute of Respect.

At a meeting of the Directory of the Central Publishing Company, held at the STANDARD AND TIMES office Monday afternoon, Oct. 23, the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, That we are deeply grieved at the intelligence of the death this morning of Charles F. Bosley, President of the Central Publishing Company.

Resolved, That by the death of Mr. Bosley this Company has lost a most capable and energetic President, and the community a good and true man and an intelligent and public-spirited citizen.

Resolved, That we extend to the family and other relatives of the deceased assurances of our unfeigned sympathy in their affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Company and published in the STANDARD AND TIMES.

MARRIAGES.

At St. Charles Church, on the 23d vor of the railroad. Phillips resides at North Fork, and had a foot crushed by an accident while he was working on a construction train, in April, 1881. He compromised with the company for a few hundred dollars, and kept the money, but subsequently sued for $10,000 damages.

MONDAY afternoon, at the blacksmith shop of Mr. A. W. England, trouble arose between Will Lyons, an employee of Mr. England's, and a negro man named George Singleton, which resulted in the latter's receiving a serious wound in the abdomen, inflicted with a red hot rod in the hands of Lyons. The rod is one used for burning holes in, which bolts are inserted, and is pointed at the end. The wound is situated about two and one-half inches to the right of the middle line of the body, one and one-half inches below the navel and extends to the cavity. The negro was resting well yesterday, and will probably recover. Will Lyons is a boy sixteen or seventeen years of age, a son of the late James D. Lyons, of Columbia.

The Louisville Southern.

Dr. E. D. Sundiford, Bennet H. Young, Isaac Caldwell, John McLeod, E. F. Madden and others, representing the management of the proposed Louisville Southern Railroad were at Springfield last Monday, and had a very hearty reception. They addressed the people at the Court-house at considerable length. They said the location of the road had not yet been determined, but intimated that it would very probably pass through Springfield if the proper inducements were held out. It would in any event be necessary for the people of Washington to donate the right of way through the county, land for depot grounds, etc. Something was also said as to a subscription of, say, $50,000, the payment of which would not be asked for till the road was built.

The citizens of the county who were present at the meeting, adopted a series of resolutions favoring the location of the road through Springfield. We have not been furnished with a copy of the resolutions, but learn that they pledged the right of way through the county, land for depots, and tendered the road-bed of the Cumberland and Ohio railroad, upon which a large amount of work was done some years ago. It is also contemplated to subscribe $50,000 to secure the road, if it should be demanded.

New Orleans Minstrels.

A large audience greeted the New Orleans Minstrels last night, and the entertainment was in all respects satisfactory. The clog dancing excellent, and the character sketches were all brimming over with fun. There was a noticeable absence of vulgarity, but the laughter was not decreased thereby. The troupe is composed of men who understand their business and consequently please the public, and their general
