

Edelen

A Surprise Wedding.

A wedding that came as a surprise to relatives and friends of the couple in this city was that of Miss Elizabeth Edelen. of Springfield and Neil Roberts of Louisville. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Edelen. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Roberts. Both are well known in Lebanon, the groom having made his home here until a few years ago.

ANCESTRY OF
JAMES McHENRY EDELEN

Philip Edelen, of County Middlesex, England, married Catherine Offley, the daughter of Thomas Offley and Anne Cletherow. A son, Richard Edelen, was born of this union about 1635. He emigrated to the Province of Maryland and founded the only Edelen family in America. Richard was recorded as being in the Province in 1664. The following year he declared his intention of returning to England, and left in the same year. In 1669 he returned with his wife, Elizabeth, and son, Philip, who had been born in England.

Richard Edelen served the Assembly and was Deputy Surveyor. His adherence to the Roman Catholic Church prevented him from aspiring to higher positions since the government was predominately Protestant. It is readily seen from the records that he was highly respected by all. For this reason he occupied the position of Deputy Surveyor when all other Roman Catholics were discharged from their offices. In all records his name was usually followed by the courtesy title "Gent". He resided at his plantation in St. Mary's County, Maryland until his death. The will was probated July 31, 1694 when his property and personal possessions were distributed among his surviving children.

Richard Edelen, the son of Richard and Elizabeth Edelen, was born in 1671 in Charles County, Maryland. He married Sarah Hagae, the daughter of Thomas and Mary Hagae of Charles County, Maryland. It is interesting to note that the Hagae descendants now use the spelling "Hagan". Richard died in 1760, his wife having died many years before in 1727. He had at least two wives after Sarah, but there seems to be some confusion as to their surnames. This is not too important since our branch of the family definitely descends from Sarah Hagae Edelen.

Edward Edelen, the son of Richard and Sarah Hagae Edelen was born in Charles County, Maryland. He married Susannah Wathen, the sister of Clement Wathen, of Charles County, Md. He died in 1780 at his plantation, "Asslington" in Charles County. It is quite possible that his birthplace in Newport Hundred of Charles County, is still owned by Edelens living in that section today.

Joseph Edelen, the son of Edward and Susannah Wathen Edelen was born in Charles Co., Md. at "Asslington". In the year 1795 he moved to Kentucky with two cousins, Samuel and Robert Edelen. Joseph settled on Pottinger's Creek near the Church of Holy Cross, while his two cousins settled in the neighborhood of Springfield.

George Edelen, the son of Robert Edelen, married Sarah Ann Edelen (his cousin) in May, 1785. They were married by Father Henry Pile in Maryland. George died in 1809 and his wife died July 20, 1848.

James Polin Edelen, son of George and Sarah Edelen, married Rose Ann Cambron, daughter of Joseph Cambron and Patricia Osborne.

Children of James and Rose Ann Edelen:

2. Mary Jane: baptized 1833, married Frederick M or N Hill.
