Hi Jim, I do have that GLASCOCK/WALTRIP line in my database. Mary was daughter of Gregory GLASCOCK. Some of our dates don't match, but they are close. You have some dates I don't and vice versa. Here's a bit of Mary's line and what I've got:

1. Gregory GLASCOCK b. cir 1767, , Fauquier, Va., m. cir 1792, in ,

Burr Glascock, b. Aug. 18, 1812, d. Apr. 3, 1896. He m. March 25, 1845 (Loudon Co., VA) to Emma "Emsey" Lake. Burr and Emma are buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Prince William County, Virginia. In 1850 Burr and Emma donated land for the construction of Old Bethel Church in Prince William County, and were the main leaders of the Church. The Church is now called "Bethel United Methodist Church" and is located in Woodbridge, Virginia.

Burr Hezekiah Glascock, b. ?, d. ?. He m. Dec. 12, 1878 (Loudon Co., VA) to Mildred Norman, dau. of C. E. & M. F. Norman. Members of this family are buried in Lovettsville Union Cemetery (Virginia), to which I am travelling to tomorrow.
Children of Burr Hezekiah and Mildred Glascock:

(1) Norman Lake Glascock, b. Jan. 16, 1881, d. Aug. 14, 1937. He m. Feb. 17, 1916 (Wash., DC) to Rosalia Maria De Meza, b. Jan. 19, 1887 (Wash., DC), d. April 30, 1968 (Newport News, VA). Norman buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Washington, DC. Rosalia buried in Oakland Cemetery, Hampton, Virginia.

(2) Male Glascock, b. (dead) March 5, 1883 (Near Lovettsville, Virginia)

(3) West Glascock, b. May 8, 1884 (Near Lovettsville, Virginia)

(4) Male Glascock, b. (dead) Dec. 29, 1886 (Loudon County, VA)

(5) Mary W. Glascock, b. Aug. 18, 1888 (Loudon County, VA)

Re: BURR H. GLASCOCK-LOUDON COUNTY VA

thru to Burr. Therer is a Burr Richard Glascock too but he is a different one.

I hope this helps you.

My best guesstimate at this would be the following:

Your Burr Hezekiah Glascock is probably the son of Burr Glascock who is the son of Hezekiah Glascock.

Burr was born in 1812 in Virginia. He married Emsey W. Lake on March 25, 1845.

Hezekiah was born on August 26, 1773 in the Virginia Colony. He married Edith Bishop on Dec. 26, 1805.

My sources on this are the following books by the Rev. Lawrence A. Glassco:

the Glas(s)cock - Glassco Saga
the Glas(s)cocks of England & America

Unfortunately, Burr's children are not mentioned in the book. But based on his father, Hezekiah and Burr's wife, Emsey Lake, it is a good guesstimate that Burr Hezekiah is Burr's son. The Lake family had many marriages with the Glasscocks so that would not be unusual.

HICKMAN'S Buried in Ralls County, Missouri (Rosenkrans Cem)

Posted by Private Cemetary on March 28, 1998 at 11:00:45:

Hickman's Buried in Glascock Cemetary in Ralls Co., MO.

(this is a private cemetary)

Hickman, Sylvester (from Virginia)
b. 03/28/1811 d. 09/05/1874

Spouse: Charlotte Glascock, born 1805 in Virginia, daughter of Downing H. Glascock, born 1775 and Susanah Strother.

Sylvester and Charlotte moved to Missouri in the mid 1840's from Virginia.

The next 3 are sons of Sylvester & Charlotte
Hickman of Virginia

Hickman, James F.
b. 04/09/1849 d. 07/13/1874

Hickman, Richard J.
b. 03/27/1839 d. 08/24/1855

Hickman, Thomas W.
b. 09/04/1833 d. 07/23/1849

All the above Hickmans are buried in the same vicinity of this cemetary. 2 more stones are located next to them with only initials and no dates on the stones.
They are:

S. H. (probably Hickman)
J.E.H. (probably Hickman)

4/8/98

Re: Glascocks Buried In Ralls County, Missouri...

Another stone is identified only as:

Dr. A J (C or G) can't tell which it is, one or the other.
May be a Hickman or a Glascock.

2 stones are broken off and are missing. Don't know if this was due to vandalism, family removal or cows possibly knocking them over. (cemetery is now fenced in)
The 2 stones are next to Hickman graves and are probably Hickman stones.

go to the following address:

<http://www.genforum.com/hickman>

Charlotte's brother, James S. Glascock, and her sister, Susanah Glascock are buried in this same cemetery.

James S. Glascock is my great, great grandfather (born in 1821 in Virginia and died in 1878 in Missouri. Charlotte would be a great, great aunt.

In Reply to: Benjamin Glasscock Family by Maxine kaul of 2932

Maxine,

From the information that you have provided in some of your postings at Genforum and from that I can piece together, Benjamin Glascock must be the son of John Glascock and Sarah Lanier. John Glascock was born in 1773 in Virginia and died September 8, 1839 in St. Helena Parish, Louisiana. He married Sarah Lanier in Natchez, Louisiana or St. Helena Parish, Louisiana on January 17, 1797. John Glascock was the son of James Glascock and Constance Jackson. James Glascock, the son of Peter Glascock Sr. & Jane (Fishback?).

Our Children:

1. Diannah Adelaide was born May 17, 1812, Sunday night 01:30 (buried by pastor Hendren)
2. Elizabeth was born May 24, 1814, and died Nov. 23, 1814 (buried in Virginia)
3. Frances Ann was born Sept. 14, 1816, Saturday night
4. William Hand was born Feb. 8, 1819, Monday Night (buried beside pastor Hendren)
5. Robert Sample was born March 13, 1821 Tues. evening at 06:30 (two children of Robert and Martha Hendren are buried in the cemetery on Hendren farm.)

This is the end of the commentary by Robert Hendren, this original material came from Mrs. Evelyn Hartung of Seattle Washington. What follows is the research and comments by Mary B. Chandler and Lucile Hendren Cox of Memphis Tenn., 1965. Records show in 1830-1840 that many churches were having a controversy over missions. Robert Hendren participated in organization of Bethel Assn. and at annual meeting of Assn. in 1837 Bear Creek Baptist Church passed a resolution denouncing missions. Upon adoption of this Rev. Robert Hendren, pastor of Bear Creek Baptist Church obtained a letter of dismission. (Bear Creek Church was constituted under the shade of a large maple tree near Hannibal, MO. in 1820. It was not only the first Baptist Church organized north of Salt River but is said to have been first church of any denomination to be organized in this territory. It is now over 100 years old and is still standing, built of stone and located 3 miles west of Hannibal and 1/2 mile south of Highway 36.) On Nov. 25, 1837 eight member with letters of dismissal met at the home of Stewart Self (2 miles west of Hannibal) and there formed into a Baptist Church by Rev. Robert Hendren. The name Zoar Baptist Church was adopted. In 1839 this church joined Bethel Association. The Zoar Baptist Church worshiped in the stone building from 1837 to July 1841. (This building still stands and is now the summer home of Mr. and Mrs C.A. Trowbridge.) Zoar Baptist Church decided to hold its meetings in Hannibal in 1841. He began his ministry in 1824 and served as a pastor of several churches in Virginia. He came with his family to Marion County, Mo. in the spring of 1831 and located 5 miles west of Hannibal. He gave his full time to ministry, (Duncan History of Missouri Baptist, P. 335 states "The country being sparsely settled and there being but few houses of worship he preached the gospel in log school houses, private residences, and under the trees of the forest, to the people of his day." They called themselves "Hannibal United Baptist Church". Robert Hendren was only pastor of Zoar Baptist Church and first pastor of "Hannibal United Baptist Church". The next name of the church was First Baptist Church and later Fifth Street Baptist Church. Duncan's History of Missouri reports a revival was held in Hannibal Jan. 1842, and the baptist of three of Pastor Hendren's children the first Baptismal service ever witnessed Hannibal in County and entered myself to William Peck, as apprentice, of Battletown to learn the stone mason business. I engaged myself for three years but Mr. Peck decided to move to Kentucky in the fall of 1801 hence I only served two years.

In the course of these two years I determined to learn the trade although I had suffered many impositions from Mr. Peck, I resolved to bear all for the desired end with submission.

After he had begun to make arrangements for moving, I resolved to stay with him until he finished all the work he had undertaken, but a renewed imposition which was to go at work that was my trade altered my decision. While preparing for my work one Monday morning I was informed by one of the workmen of his intention. I immediately threw down my tools, started to his house with the determination to meet the worst. I was nearly grown and felt strong and quite active. On account of this last fact I resolved I would flog him if possible if he attempted assault on my person. We met in the street and I informed him that I would not remain longer with him.

This conduct of mine seemed to surprise him very much. I immediately repaired to his house and called for my clothes and removed my tool chest to Capt. Mott's tavern. This was about the latter part of September. I started from Meryville with a sad heart without money, good clothes or tools to work with. I soon secured a position where I made about seventy dollars.

In the winter I boarded with a respectable family and went to school where I learned more about arithmetic. It was always a maxim of mine to keep good company or no company.

The ensuing year 1802 I undertook work to a considerable profit, bought a good horse, took an apprentice, employed journey-man, was honored with a commission and soon began to think myself a man of consequence. The following winter I took a trip to see my relatives who lived in Westmoreland and Richmond Counties. This was like a jubilee to me. After a lapse of eight years and hard times to me to see once more the place of my birth and my school boy walks and my relatives who had changed as much as myself was indeed a great treat.

After spending the winter season in a most agreeable manner with my relatives in these parts I returned home and took a turn among my brothers and friends. After that I resumed my occupation. But alas! All this while I was a stranger to God and he to me. But it pleased the gracious God in the spring of 1803 to call me from the dark state of sin and death in which he gave me sight to see I was in, and forsake my carnal pleasures in which I had much delighted for the services of the true and living God. Thru the instrumentality of the glorious gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ I was baptized the following June by the celebrated James Ireland and was taken in as a member of the church at Buch-March and remained under his pastoral care until June 1806 when he ended his labors and went to rest in the more inviting regions of undisturbed repose.

I remained a member of that church till the fall of 1811 and removed by letter to the church of Happy Creek. The cause of my removal was my marriage, settlement retirement from occupation to that of agriculturist. I was married August 1, 1811 to Sara, youngest daughter of William Hand. She being in her twentieth year. She was born Sept. 29, 1790.

beat me in a most heartless manner.

He wore out several switches on me and I thought he surely would kill me but a length he stopped after I had entreated him many times and then sent me to work again without giving me the faintest idea what crime I had committed.

The same day he and his negro man went to a place where they were erecting a house. That evening my merciful mistress (who never came out to beg for me) sent me to hunt the cows. Instead of going after the cows I went to see my brother who lived not too far distant and thought I would stay long enough to show him how I had been abused, but little did I think that my oldest brother, who was but a youth would have courage to rest me from such a monster in human shape. When I entered my brothers house, he and my sister insisted that I sit down but I told him that I had not the time. On account of my not complying with his request and he noticed some agitation on my part inquired particularly what was the cause of my timidity.

After some hesitation I told him the whole story where upon he stepped up to me and stripped me of my shirt where he beheld a spectacle that put him almost in a rage and my sister almost frantic.

Suffice it to say I will carry the scars to my grave.

My brother declared I should never return to Foster. I told him if he undertook it he must go thru it or my treatment would only be worse than over. He took me to a magistrate who advised that I should stay with my brother until court convened.

The next day a message was sent to me in Mrs. Foster's name telling me to come after my clothes or she would burn them. Brother seeing into her stratagem went in my stead. Instead of receiving my clothes he received an order from the merciless wretch telling him to send his servant here. But my brother had lots of courage and firmness and soon convinced Mr. Foster I was no longer his servant. At court Col. Walker, a warm friend of my father's and one of the bench, stated my case to the court, and after the sheriff had called in Mr. Foster, our lawyer demanded of him the cause of such barbarity exercised on a orphan child who had been placed in his care, to which he replied that it was for telling lies on his wife which was the first time I had ever heard my accusation.

Brother John challenged him to prove it which he could not do.

The court released me from Mr. Foster and placed me in the care of my brother who from that time forward acted just as my father would have done. I was then twelve years of age quite large enough to earn my living. In the year of 1794 brother John was drafted to take a tour of the mountains after the insurgents. As he passed thru Faquier he called to see Uncle and Aunt Glascock. On his return he called again and spent some time with them.

He provided homes for brother, Samuel and me. Soon after he returned home Cousin Uriah Glascock came down for us. Brother, William also went with us and went to weaving at Uncle Glascock's. I went to live with cousin Thomas Glascock where I stayed for three years. The year following I went to milling business on Goose Creek under John Buchanan, but the mill being sold that year and put in repair and W.E. having moved that year was the reason of my leaving that business.

The beginning of the next year 1800 I went over into Frederick separated and the we would be glad to see one another. Little did I think then that I would so soon realize her faithful precautions. My father in the course of the following fall began to find his health on the decline. It was not many months before he found himself in the last stage of consumption. He, being anxious for the welfare of his children, began to wonder what they would do after his departure. Ezekial Foster, who lived in the neighborhood, being a carpenter and house joiner, came to my father while on his death bed and begged that he might have me as he had discovered that I was somewhat of a genius superior to boys my age. He also promised he would teach me his trade, give me a good education, and bring me up as his child, and be a tender father to me. As young as I was I did not approve of the plan because I did not think that Mr. Foster a man of firmness and I knew he was too fond of strong drink, but thru the persuasion of my father and two older brothers I consented and was bound to him before my fathers death. Brother, William, he advised to go and live with Uncle John Glascock in Fauquier and brother Samuel was to be put under the care of Uncle Samuel Oldham and brother, John and our sister he advised to keep house together and these two were to provide for James our younger brother.

After these arrangements had been completed in the spring of 1792 my father committed his spirit to the keeping of the Savior of the world and bade adieu to his children and time in the 48th year of his age. By this time I had become perfectly satisfied with my situation, but to my great mortification soon after my father's death and there it was that the deportment of Mrs. Foster began to change toward me ere I knew it I found I was to be their servant instead of their child. They did not teach me the trade, nor send me to school as they had agreed to do, but instead I was sent to the corn field and such other work as best suited them.

The countenances became more and more morose towards me and I was soon chastised for some pretend fault. I became more and more dissatisfied with my home and would quite frequently weep bitterly when alone over the loss of my parents and hard fate to which Providence had consigned me. My discontentment was such that I thought the term of apprenticeship like an age. The time seemed to pass so slowly that an hour seemed like a day, a day like a week and a week like a month.

I did not know there was any power that could rest me from the clutches of my tyrannical master, whose countenance I dreaded more than a death bed. When I contrasted my situation with that of my affectionate parents, I thought I would surely become distracted, while my breast big with grief would swell up and overflow in streams of tears from my eyes I would try to fancy myself that it was all a dream that I would soon awaken in bed in my fathers house and all would be well.

As long as this state of mind would last it would seem to give a momentary relief to my troubled mind, but alas too soon convinced when I got into the yard.

My master came out with about six long beech switches under his arm and told me he was going to give me a flogging and ordered me to shed my coat. I instantly obeyed his orders but not however without asking his reasons for all this, but the only answer that I received was that I knew what it was for whereupon he began to

My Uncle, Samuel Oldham, was a sailing master from my first recollections until his marriage in 1804. My father, William Hendren and mother Pricilla Oldham, were married in the year A.D. 1769 and had one daughter and seven sons as follows:

1st - Mary was born Tues. morning April 1770 died May 5, 1796 age 26.

2nd - John H. was born Nov. 15, 1772, Sunday.

3rd - William was born March 21, 1776, Thursday.

4th - Robert was born Dec. 29, 1778, Tuesday.

5th - Samuel was born Jan. 29, 1782.

6th - James the first was born April 3, 1784, Sat. and died Oct. 21, 1784 age 6 months 18 days.

7th - James the second was born April 18, 1787, Wednesday died Aug. 23, 1805 age 18 years.

8th - Cryus was born in 1790, Monday night and died Feb. 1791.

My father was born, married, lived and died in Richmond Co. Virginia. In the early part of his marriage, he had to supply the place of fortune by the dint of industry.

He was doing well until the Revolutionary War broke out. This altered the case with every one especially the poor. The distress that was common to all was not the worst with him, toward the latter part of the war my father was drafted in an eighteen month tour. He had four small children, myself being the youngest, and my mother as it were in a state of widowhood with this little group to sustain the loss of a father for two years without so much seeing his face or hearing his voice to cheer them in the gloom of danger and distress.

His desire to return at length arrived with a return of peace to the nation and it cannot be suggested that so much lost time could be covered in a year or two. This is an era that I date my first recollections of things in this our world.

My father's death, peace and concord were inhabitants of my father's house and I never knew what it was to want for the necessities of life while he lived.

While in my tender infantile years, little did I think that man was born to trouble as the sparks are to fly upward, but I can say with Jeremiah, that I am the man who has affliction from childhood. While care and sorrow were like strangers to my tender mind, it was my misfortune to lose my dear and affectionate mother. Death relentless death regardless of the big falling tears of her children and cry of her tender infant at her breast, closed her eyes in silent sleep to wake no more to pain nor to attend to the means of her tender orphan babe. She departed this life Jan. 2, 1791 in the thirty-ninth year of her age, leaving six sons and one daughter to lament her loss. Neither could the screams and cries of her sisters the day following awaken her from her deathly slumber.

But little did the sojourner stay to drink the cup of orphan bitterness. No it began to sip, but turned away it's head and refuse the draught. Its means of the - of Feb. and went the way of its mother while in the care of my father's sister, Aunt briant. My sister being grown, seemed in a measure to supply the place of a mother but yet my mother was gone.

When little differences would take place between us children our sister would admonish us that we should not fall out with each other that we did not know how soon it might be, that we might be here with some remarks for two reasons:

1. First, that should Providence in the future bless my children with wealth, or honor, or both, they may not forget the humble family from which they descended. The remembrance of which may keep down pride, the most hurtful sin and thereby avoid many snares and dangerous temptations.

2. That should adversity be their lot, I wish then to know that the conduct of their forefathers was regulated by the Bible instructions (as to their moral deportment) and their motto was, "Honesty and Uprightness" and I wish them to know that when they died their neighbors could truthfully say "We have lost another good neighbor". This my children is the only legacy I received of my father, and this I prize more than wealth without it. My grandfather, William Hendren was a native of Ireland. He was born according to my own calculations about the year A.D. 1712. He was put an apprentice to the weaving business and while in his minority, the prospects of America in their most flattering colors were held out to invite him away from his native land and through the importunity of some false friends, he with his brother, John, in a clandestine manner and to the grief of their father, embarked for the land of Columbia. They landed in the northern neck of Virginia in the lower end of Richmond County where he indentured himself to the widow Howel, for the consideration of his passage expenses.

While in her services he followed his occupation and courted her daughter, Mara, whom he afterwards married and had eight children, four daughters and four sons. They were as follows:

1st. - John was born August 24, 1735

2nd - Sally " " May 10, 1737

3rd - Mary " " May 21, 1741

4th - William " " May 30, 1744

5th - Lyda " " Jan. 30, 1746

6th - Ann " " Dec. 1, 1749

7th - Downing " " April 7, 1754

8th - Robert " " May 20, 1756

My grandfather and grandmother having left this world before I had a being I know nothing of them except what I have heard from their acquaintances.

They never became wealthy, but lived above want, reared their children to industry and brought them up in good credit.

The knowledge I have of my mother's parents is much more limited as they died before I was born; but from what I have learned, my grandfather, William Oldham, was a man of respectable standing. He was not only a large man, but a man of courage, activity, and strength, and by an ocular demonstration of his manhood, his name became a terror to the rude part of his acquaintances.

He left to lament his loss two sons and seven daughters, my not having the registry of their names I shall have to partly guess at their order. My mother Pricilla, who was the oldest daughter to William Oldham and Mary his wife, was born April 23, 1752. The other children were as follows; Mary, Amelia, Elizabeth, Samuel, Nancy, Catherine, Sally and William; all of whom arrived at the age of maturity and married except Uncle William who was lost at sea on a voyage to the East Indies, Just as he was stepping from the vigor of youth to the summit of manhood and fame amid the growing expectations of his relatives and friends.

- vi. John Elder, born November 25, 1723.
- vii. Edmond Elder, born August 21, 1727.
- viii. Charles Elder, born May 30, 1729.
- ix. Ruth Ann Elder, born May 19, 1730.

SKINNER CEMETERY

Marker # 11847

Location: SE corner of US 377 at Strittmatter Road

City: Pilot Point, Texas

Marker Erected: 1998

Marker Text:

In the early days of Pilot Point, Lucinda (Glasscock) and Richard Skinner set aside a 2.44-acre piece of land to be used as a cemetery. The first recorded burial was that of 5-year-old Josiah Taylor in March of 1858; his father, Josiah Sr., died the following July. Predominantly of Anglo-Saxon Protestant descent, most of those buried here came from Kentucky, Virginia, Missouri, Arkansas, and Tennessee. Many were farmers or ranchers. Significant graves include that of J. D. Merchant, Sr., a local businessman who built the first brick building in the area. Also here are several victims of yellow fever, including Prissie and Sarah Wilson, sisters who died within 2 months of one another during the epidemic of 1872 and 1873. Two people named James Graham, born on the same date two years apart, died on the same September day in 1867. Lucinda Skinner, the last charter member of the Pilot Point First Baptist Church, died in 1890. By 1900, there were probably 200 graves in the cemetery. The land was sold by John Skinner to the Skinner Cemetery Association in 1905; the last recorded burial was that of Joe Mylo Phipps, an infant who died in 1928. The Skinner Cemetery remains a vital link to the early settlers of the Pilot Point community. (1998)

Francis J. Glascock

SOURCE: History of Fountain County, H. W. Beckwith, Chicago, 1881, pp. 400 SOURCE TEXT: Francis J. Glascock, farmer, Steam Corner, was b. Jan 24, 1821 in Ill 15 Mi W. of Vincennes on the St. Louis Trace. His parents, Joseph & Nancy Glascock, moved from Ill to Fountain County IN in 1825 and entered. Francis remained at home till 20. He made a trip to New Orleans on a flatboat returned and worked at anything he could get to do. At the age of 22 he was married to Elizabeth Reynolds, d/o Wm & Eliz (Underwood) Reynolds. She was b. Sept 17, 1824 and her parents were very early settlers of Fountain County After marriage which took place in 1843, Mr. Glascock rented the Parson place one year, then lived one year on Coal Creek, then rented the Chapman property one year, then bought the Furr property but his wife dying April 29, 1849 left Mr. Glascock alone. He then lived for a while with his deceased wife's people. Dec 20, 1849 he was married to Isabel Moffett, d/o Thomas & Christina (Lee) Moffett. She is a native of Indiana, and her parents were from Ireland. Mr. Glascock then bought 200 acres of his present farm. In 1858 he built a large brick house, then second in the township. This burned out before he occupied it, but he immediately rebuilt. He added land till he owned 320 acres a part of which he has deeded away. Mr Glascock has been a prominent democrat for many years. He was JP 5 years under the old law. He was the Douglas democrat nominee for representative, and was beaten by the Breckenridge Democrats by 13 votes. During the war he was continually employed in recruiting soldiers. Besides doing his own work he has settled many estates for others. He has been elder in the Church of Disciples for 30 years and a trustee.

A Duplicate Copy of Robert Hendren's Family Record

As I am in possession of my father's Register I shall insert it

A literal copy of a sketch in the handwriting of Braxton Bryant Bailey found in his desk at the time of his death which took place Jan. 24, 1890--

MOCKSVILLE, NC

Braxton Bailey was born on the east Bank of Dutchman Creek near the Mill now known as "Mud Mill" about 4½ miles from Mocksville. The mills were then the property of my father
- William Bailey. My birthday was March 4, 1809. My father moved in the year 1812 about four miles from where he was then living to a farm bought by him South East near a church by the name of the "Dutch Meeting House" where the denomination of Lutherans worshipped. Old man Nicholas Click was one of the leading members of the Church. Old man Gottlieb Shober preached there occasionally. Among the old members of the congregation of that day I remember the Moores, the Marches, Henkles and others
The war with the Seminole Indians in Alabama and Florida came later. General Andrew Jackson was the leading General. He commanded at the battle of "The Horse Shoe" and settled the Indians for the time being. They, by treaty, were soon moved west of the Mississippi River. Many of the able men of that day were in the army, P. Cheshire, William Glasscock, who married a sister of my father, and others. I have heard old man Glasscock talk of that war. Although but a small boy the impression made on my mind was lasting. My eldest brother, Thomas, was in the army.
He was young. He was detailed to haul General Jackson's baggage. Have heard tell how his wagon was misplaced by the wagon master on one occasion. Jackson, looking for his baggage, found the mistake and reprimanded Thomas severely, shaking his sword over him, which alarmed him very much. After the General became acquainted with the facts in the case, he sent for Thomas to come to his tent and made him take a cup of coffee with him, which put him in greater fear until the General explained to him that he was not in fault, which relieved him and made him a strong Jackson man. I remember hearing the men talk a great deal of the battle of New Orleans in 1814, and of the breastworks of cotton bales as a defense for his men; Jackson's great victory over the British, and the killing of the great British General Packingham; the declaring of Martial Law in the city; and his having Judge Hall arrested for which the Judge fined him one thousand dollars, which was in after years refunded to him by Congress, and the Resolution of censure expunged from the Records; - Jackson becoming very popular among the masses that I, a small boy, would listen to.
Remember but little of politics and nothing except what I heard from the men of that day. Jackson seemed to be their only theme. Heard a good deal said of the wars of Napoleon and the Allied Powers, and his great defeat at Waterloo, and being sent as a prisoner for life to the solitary island of St. Helena. Heard much said of Madison, Monroe and Jefferson and the Monroe doctrine, which I know nothing about.
In 1824 was the great Presidential Contest - Jackson, John Q.
Adams, Crawford and Calhoun, and of there being a heated contest and no choice by the people.

I am tracing my family (DOBBINS) and would appreciate any leads.
What I know so far is:

Great-grandfather: Joseph Glasscock Dobbins
Died July 29, 1886 at age 61
New Orleans, La.
Native of Virginia
Father from Kentucky
Mother born in Virginia
Married Mary Ann Murphy
(born La. Parents born Ireland)
sea captain by trade
possible birth year, 1830

Married Mary Ann Murphy at St. Alphonsus
Church in New Orleans on January 22, 1866
Children born to Joseph Glasscock Dobbins:
female child, (Alice) born August 8, 1881
lawful issue of Joseph Glasscock Dobbins, grocer and his wife, Mary Ann Murphy Died, August 1970.

Joseph M. Dobbins
died June 3, 1880, at age 5yrs 11 mos of spinal meningitis

Elizabeth Dobbins
born 1879

My grandfather Ralph Samuel Dobbins
born 1878
died April 1943

Children of Ralph S. Dobbins:

James H. Dobbins
Michael George Dobbins
Ralph Dobbins

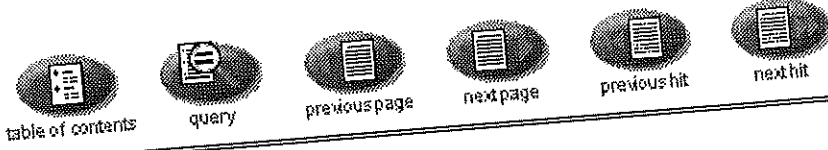

My Father: James H. Dobbins

apocraphal data:

Joseph Glasscock Dobbins (Dobyys) was in Virginia. A relative, his aunt, had a fight with her husband and emptied a gun in him. Family scandal. He left for New Orleans, and in the process changed the spelling of the last name from Dobyys to Dobbins. There was also some discussion about a possible prior marriage in Virginia, but no evidence.

Looking for leads, etc. Don't know if Joseph G. has siblings. If he did, their families probably stayed in Virginia or Kentucky.

Charles "Gus" Glasscock: Texas Oilman

Date: May 22, 2002 at 12:49:27

Posted by: Jay McAfee (ID 5224)1897 of 2932

GLASSCOCK, CHARLES GUS (1895-1965). Charles Gus Glasscock, oilman, was born on December 16, 1895, in Leon County, Texas, the son of J. B. and Elizabeth (Armstrong) Glasscock. He attended public school at Longview and Blanco and Southwest Texas State College (now Southwest Texas State University) at San Marcos. Before World War Iqv he and his three brothers performed as acrobats with Ringling Brothers; later they opened a vaudeville act at Madison Square Garden and performed on the big vaudeville circuits. In 1917 Glasscock married Lucille Freeman; they had two children.

After he was rejected for military service in 1917, he worked briefly in the construction and taxicab businesses, then in the Texas oilfields. In December 1919 Glasscock and his three brothers formed an oil syndicate. Not until 1927 did their well near Big Spring come in, and then Glasscock's career began a meteoric rise. In 1939 he moved to Corpus Christi and organized his own drilling company. His first venture into tidewater drilling was a rig in Corpus Christi Bay in 1948. Dissatisfied with the cumbersome method and expense of this new facet of the oil industry, he contracted with Bethlehem Steel for a barge-rig that could be towed to a drilling site for stationary mooring. The barge was 155 feet long and 52 feet wide, with a draft of 5½ feet. The jackknife derrick was 132 feet high. The lower section of the barge could be dropped to the floor of the bay, and the upper half could be elevated on caissons above wave interference. The unit cost $700,000. Auxiliary barges carried equipment and supplies. The successful innovation resulted in the construction of fleets of similar rigs. Use of the barge-rigs revolutionized tidewater drilling, made Glasscock the biggest offshore driller in the state, and gave him national prominence. When the United States returned the tidelands of Texas to state ownership in 1953 (see TIDELANDS CONTROVERSY), new problems soon developed with deepwater drilling. Another Glasscock innovation resulted in "Mr. Gus," a modified barge-rig equipped to drill a 15,000-foot well. Its cost exceeded $1 million. It was also a success and was soon emulated by competitors all over the world.

Glasscock also had extensive holdings in oil properties and real estate, with ranches in Texas, Montana, and Wyoming. He served on the staffs of governors Robert Kennan and Jimmie Davis of Louisiana and Governor Price Daniel, Sr.,qv of Texas. He was a strong supporter of the University of

What little there is about her is in the Glasscock book....by Lawrence A Glassco. He thinks the marriage of Thomas and Jane took place in England and that the sons were born there before the move to Virginia.

In Vol 2 of this genealogy on page 207, he writes that he found a London marriage licence of 1634 for a Thomas Glascock and Jane Juet. He also speculates about the relationship of Jane to an explorer, Robert Juet, who went with Henry Hudson to America. He thinks she might have been his daughter, but has found no documentation. That's all there is, Dorothy Hunter

* Gregory Glascock, second son of Peter, born in 1738 or 1739; married Jemima; had large grants of land in Kentucky; resided all his life in Fauquier County, Virginia and died there in 1819.

* Asa Glascock, born ca. 1785, probably in Fauquier County, Virginia, twelfth son of Peter; married to Anna and moved to Ralls County, Missouri in 1820 and settled in New London; died in Ralls County, Missouri in 1844.

Any information on these individuals would be greatly appreciated. Also, since I am unfamiliar in tracing family histories, feel free to suggest any other sources that may be of help.

Your help is greatly appreciated.

George John Glascock Jr. m. Ann Payne Coleman

GLASCOCK, GEORGE JOHN, JR. (1799-1875). George John Glascock, Jr., early settler, the son of George John and Mary (Lee) Glascock, Sr., was born in Pittsylvania County, Virginia, on March 20, 1799. His daughter Mary Ann often stated that her father fought in the War of 1812. Soon after the war, he met Ann Payne Coleman in Virginia, and they were married on January 18, 1819; they eventually had six sons and two daughters. In 1834 the family started for Texas. After a year in Alabama they boarded a boat to cross the Gulf. The trip took eight days, during which time several passengers died of cholera, and the boat hit bottom three times crossing the bar at Velasco before coming to a safe anchorage. The fifteen-year-old Mary Ann was selected to reply to the welcoming address they received.

George, his wife, their four children, and their slaves traveled to Washington City on a newly purchased horse and two wild mules. There they remained six to eight months while the slaves used a whipsaw to saw what may have been the first boards used for building in Washington-on-the-Brazos. After receiving a headright certificate for a league and a labor, they moved to Mina Municipality (now Bastrop County) just as the war with Mexico erupted. Glascock was away with the Texas army when the family joined the Runaway Scrape. The Glascock family was the last to travel through Mina as they joined the main body of noncombatants, about 300 in all. Mary Glascock rode on a cart, but the children walked the entire distance of over 300 miles. Mary Ann remembered taking with them Chesterfield's book on manners (Letters to His Son), her newly finished sampler, and one trunk apiece for her mother and herself. They crossed the Brazos River and were at the crossing of the Trinity River when news arrived of the Goliad Massacre; they hurried on.

They halted and camped two or three miles beyond the Sabine River, where they remained for two years before returning to Bastrop and home. They finally reached their old home at Webberville, to find only a shell with feather beds ripped open and the feathers scattered. However, with the help of their slaves, they soon settled back into their home. By 1860 Glascock's real estate was valued at $32,866 and his personal property at $7,870.

Ann P. Glascock lived to see all six sons in the Confederate Army; she died on September 8, 1863.

George Washington Glasscock 1st and his wife Cynthia C. Knight had the following children, all born in Texas:

1. Josephine Glasscock - b. Mar. 25, 1838, in Jasper County, d. June 10, 1839.
2. Eliza A. Glasscock - b. Aug. 4, 1839, in Jasper County, d. May 1, 1841.
3. Elizabeth Jane Glasscock - b. October 3, 1841, in Bastrop County, d. Mar. 1, 1917, at Georgetown and is buried there. Her first marriage was to Alonzo T. Logan in Hays County. Children of this marriage were sons Thaddeus and Jefferson both of whom left descendants. Elizabeth Jane married Logan June 28, 1857, and divorced him in Travis County June 6, 1873. Her second marriage was to Sampson G. Talbot at Austin Sept. 11, 1876. Only children by Talbot were twin sons, Lee and Terrell, who died as infants. Apparently the second marriage was short lived. During 1875 to 1878 Elizabeth Jane lived at times in Kentucky, California and Oregon; otherwise, she lived in Texas.
4. Margaret C. (Mug) Glasscock - b. June 3, 1843, in Bastrop County, d. Oct. 29, 1931 in Palestine, buried in Glasscock family plot in Oakwood Cemetery at Austin. Her first marriage was to Richard Milton Davis at Austin on May 8, 1861. She lived with Davis about two years. One child, a daughter Catherine is known to have been born of this marriage. Catherine died Sept. 13, 1867, at Navasota, Texas, of yellow fever and was buried in the Glasscock family plot in Oakwood Cemetery at Austin. Margaret's second marriage was to Micajah S. Boatner at Austin Oct. 16, 1866. She had one child by Boatner, Edward M., who had one child, a daughter Eddie Mae. Margaret divorced Boatner in Robertson County July 3, 1875.
5. George Washington Glasscock, Jr. - b. Jan. 10, 1846, in Travis County, d. May 30, 1911 at Georgetown and is buried there. He married Jane Helen Boatner Mar. 19, 1865, at Tennessee Colony in Anderson County. They had no children. George W. Jr. was in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. He lived at Austin, Navasota and Georgetown. He was a lawyer and was State Senator at one time.
6. Albert Horton Glasscock - b. Dec. 15, 1847, in Travis County, d. July 27, 1920, at Abilene and is buried there. He married Rebecca Jane Northington Dec. 16, 1872, at Georgetown. Rebecca Jane was the daughter of Marshall Washington Northington and Jane M. Chism. She died Jan. 1, 1916, at Abilene and is buried there. This couple had seven children: Elizabeth Jane, George Washington, 3rd, John Albert, Northington, Mary, Earl Horton and Thomas. Only the first three children left descendants. (The writer's wife is a granddaughter of Albert Horton).
7. Andrew J. Glasscock - b. Aug. 8, 1851, in Williamson County, d. Jan. 28, 1886, at Georgetown and is buried there. He married Esther L. Lemond Sept. 3, 1874, at Georgetown. Two daughters, Annie and Virginia, were born of this marriage. Virginia died less than a month after her father's death. Annie married Dillard E. Shofner at Georgetown Feb. 3, 1894. Andrew's widow married Geo. L. Hollabough at Georgetown Jan. 30, 1887. When the estate of Andrew's father was divided in 1870, Andrew received the family home at 1400 West Avenue

Austin, as part of his inheritance. Andrew sold this place to his brother George in 1873 for $17,000.00. George in turn traded it to D. M. Wilson for a farm on Colorado River 5 miles from Austin on April 15, 1886.

8. Sarah J. (Sallie) Glasscock - b. Mar. 25, 1855, in Travis County, date and place of death unknown. She was known to have been alive as late as about 1920. First marriage was to Phidella W. Hall at Calvert, Texas, on Mar. 27, 1873. Hall was about twice Sallie's age. Hall came to Texas after the Civil War having been a First Lieut. in Co. L, 11th Regt. Ky. Calv., Union Army. Hall had a number of political positions during reconstruction days, one of them being State Senator from Robertson County. Hall and Sallie had four children: Phidella W. Jr., George G., Charles O., and Maggie E. Hall had two sons by a former marriage, William and Jesse N. P. W. Hall, Sr. died in April 1888 at Cottonwood in Callahan County. Sallie then married David P. Rawlings of Cottonwood. They had no children. Sallie and David moved to Bandera County to a place very near Utopia which is in Uvalde County, in 1897 or 1898. They lived there several years at which time they separated. Sallie is shown as living at Louise, Wharton County, in Feb. 1905. She signs deed selling property in Bandera County in the Indian Territory in June 1905. She is shown as living in Hardin County in 1911 and after that she is said to have lived in Seadrift, Calhoun County. During 1870-72 Sallie attended school at the Ursuline Convent, San Antonio.
9. Anna Eliza (Annie) Glasscock - b. Nov. 26, 1856, in Travis County, date and place of death unknown. Annie is known to have been alive and in Texas about 1915. Nothing known of her after that date. Annie's first marriage was to Francis M. Hall Mar. 27, 1873, at Calvert, Texas, (Same date her sister Sallie married P.W. Hall). Hall was sheriff of Robertson County. This was during the reconstruction era and it is probable that Francis M. Hall was related to Phidella W. Hall and may also have been from the North. Francis M. Hall died in Robertson County in early 1876. Annie's second marriage was to William Crawford Allen at Austin Nov. 16, 1876. They had one child, William Crawford Allen, Jr. who died at Hearne Mar. 1, 1945, leaving no descendants except two adopted children. W. C. Allen divorced Annie at Austin Mar. 30, 1889; Annie was then living at Cincinnati, Ohio. Annie later married a Mr. Nichols and lived at Loeta Landing, Washington County, Miss., at one time prior to 1910. Annie also attended school at Ursuline Convent at San Antonio during 1870-72.
10. John Thomas Glasscock - b. Aug. 29, 1857, in Travis County, d. Sept. 23, 1857.

An examination of Milam Land District File No. 48 in the State General Land Office at Austin shows that when Joseph M. Glasscock received the Second Class Headright Land Grant for 1,240 acres referred to in the preceeding paragraph, he "proved according to law that he arrived in this Republic subsequent to the Declaration of Independence". This proves that Joseph M. arrived in Texas after March 2, 1836, and also that the note in the Ellis Bible indicating that Joseph M. fought at the Siege of Bexar in 1835 is in error.

A letter from George W. to his brother Joseph M. previously quoted shows that Joseph was living at Zavala, Jasper County in June 1838.

Joseph Milligan Glasscock and Agnes Priscella Epperson had the following children:

1. Lucy Ann J. Glasscock - b. April 23, 1833, d. March 25, 1896. Lucy Ann's first marriage was to William Stamper whom she divorced in Williamson County June 3, 1854. Her second marriage was to Robert English Moore in Williamson County on Sept. 25, 1854. Moore is shown as "of Travis County". Several children were born of this marriage, one of the daughters marrying first a Francis and having a daughter, Daisy Lucy Francis, born May 4, 1874. Daisy Lucy Francis married L. D. Lewis. Lucy Ann's daughter who first married a Francis, later married a Murdock and became well known as Mrs. Moore Murdock. She died at San Antonio Sept. 24, 1932, and was buried at Llano. R. E. Moore was veteran of U. S. -Mexican War and of Civil War. Lucy Ann Glasscock and her second husband R. E. Moore are buried in marked graves at Llano, Texas.
2. Joseph Abner Glasscock - born in Illinois. The Ellis Bible shows that Joseph Abner was born Jan. 20, 1835, whereas the marker on his grave at Menard, Texas, shows that he was born Aug. 22, 1835 and died Oct. 5, 1917. As the entry in the Bible was clearly not an original entry, the date on the marker is considered correct. The 1850 census of Williamson County shows that Joseph Abner was living in the household of his uncle, George W. Glasscock, in that year. He married Eliza R. Bowmer in Williamson County Feb. 14, 1856. Eliza R. was born May 14, 1838, and died Mar. 12, 1907 and is buried at Menard. Joseph Abner lived at Austin, Georgetown and Burnet and moved to Menard in 1875. Joseph Abner Glasscock had these children: Sam, William, Andrew, Robert, Sonora, Percilla, Lucian, Kather Anne, Jim Brown, Moses Perry, Emmett Milligan and Edward.

3. Catherine B. Glasscock - b. March 23, 1837, d. 1885. The middle initial "B" is as given in the Ellis Bible. Records in Williamson County show the initial as "C". Catherine married John C. Camp in Williamson County December 27, 1855. This couple is said to have lived at Abilene and to have left descendants. Only one child can be named and that is Sarah B. Camp born Nov. 17, 1856.

A record was found where Lucy Ann Glasscock Moore and her husband R. E. Moore in June 1885 gave Power of Attorney to A. G. Walker at Lampasas, Texas, to sue for recovery of property once belonging to Joseph M. Glasscock in Macon County, Ill. This indicates that Joseph M. once lived in Macon County. Macon County is just East of Sangamon County. Springfield is county seat of Sangamon.

A letter was found dated June 12, 1853, at Hights Town, Mercer County, N. J., written by Lucien Britton to "My Dear Sister" Mrs. Agnes P. Britton which shows that the widow of Joseph M. Glasscock had married Alfred Britton, brother of Lucien, and that Alfred had died May 20, 1853, as a result of accident. Letter shows that three children, Sarah, Lucien and Agness Britton were born to this marriage. The Ellis Bible shows names and birth dates as follows: Sarah Dorinda Britton born 1847, Lucien Britton born 1849, and Agnes Pricella Britton born 1850. This Bible also shows that Sarah D. Britton married David Standifer March 15, 1864. Marriage records in Williamson County, Texas, show that Mrs. Agnes P. Britton married Jephtha Billingsley on Aug. 11, 1856, and that Miss Agness Britton married J. P. Wilson Oct. 26, 1869. Records in the Ellis Bible show that Agnes Priscilla Epperson was born April 15, 1813, near Owensburg, Ky., Davies County, and died as Agnes Priscilla Billingsley on Nov. 16, 1880. She is buried at Smithwick Mill in Burnet County.

The probate records in Williamson County on the estate of Joseph M. Glasscock are voluminous and cover the period 1848 to 1856.

George W. Glasscock was made administrator of the estate in Nov. 1848. On Nov, 30, 1852, the record names the following heirs: Agnes P. Britton, surviving wife of Joseph M. Glasscock, and children Lucy Ann Stamper, Joseph Glasscock and Catherine Glasscock all of whom were residing in Williamson County. On June 27, 1853, George W. Glasscock was made guardian of minor heirs of Joseph M., namely Joseph A., and Catherine.

Elizabeth Glasscock (sister of G. W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows that Elizabeth was born in 1801 (questionable) and that she married William Ward in 1833. Nothing else known.

Sarah Jane Glasscock (sister of George W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows that Sarah Jane was born in 1804 (questionable) and that she married Nathaniel J. Cross in 1831. Nothing else known.

Gregory Glasscock (brother of G. W. Glasscock 1st). --- The Ellis Bible shows that Gregory was born in 1812 and died in 1832. He was killed in the Black Hawk War.

Ann Mariah Glasscock (sister of G. W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows that Ann Mariah was born Nov. 15, 1815, and died Jan. 16, 1834. Also that she married Abner Yates Ellis Jan. 26, 1832. Two children were born - Levina Jane Ellis b. Nov. 23, 1832 and d. Jan. 23, 1833, and Mary Ellen Ellis b. Nov. 24, 1833 and d. Dec. 26, 1833.

James Abner Glasscock (brother of G. W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows James Abner as born in 1816 and as having died in 1876. James Abner seems to have been enumerated twice in the 1850 census of Bexar County, Texas. In both places he is shown as a single man and a printer by occupation and is shown as 28 years old in one place and 30 years old in the other, neither age agreeing with that given in the Bible.

→ Spencer Pearce, an orphan male child, born August 23, 1762, bound until age 21 to John Glasscock or his daughter Margaret Glasscock. To be taught the art and mystery of a weaver, to read and write distinctly, and the Lords Prayer, the Creed and Ten Commandments contained in the Church catechism, and be brought up in a Christianlike manner.

Witnesses: Charles Porter and Nicholas George, Junr., June 20, 1764, (p. 30).

Elisha Denis, a male child, said to be age 4 September 1 next, bound until age 21 to Wm. Lashbrooke. To be taught the shoemaker's trade.
Witnesses: Edward Gwatkin and John Whittleage, May 21, 1756, (p. 31).

John Crupper, a poor child, bound until age 21 to Jacob Colvert. To be taught the trade, science or occupation of a house carpenter.
Witnesses: Burr Harrison and Matt. Harrison, March 14, 1756, (pp. 32-33).

Elizabeth Mason, an orphan, bound until age 18 to Nicholas Brown. To be taught to read, spin, knit, and sew.
Witnesses: John Chesser and James Peake, (no month) 4, 1763, (p. 34).

→ Collin Dilon, bound until age 21 to Scarlett Madden. To be taught to read and write, and the trade and art of a cordwinder.
Witnesses: John Simms and Thomas Machen, February 23, 1769, (p. 34).

Lincoln Homestead State Park

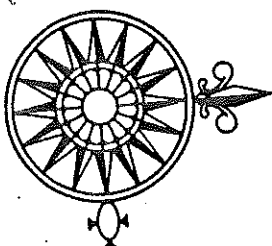

Lincoln Homestead State Park in Washington County in Kentucky's Lincoln county, is a repository of fascinating Lincoln lore. Thomas Lincoln, father of the President, grew to manhood here. Within the park grounds are a reproduction of the cabin that was his boyhood home; the original Francis Berry House, where Nancy Hanks lived for 14 years; and a replica of the blacksmith and carpenter shop where Thomas Lincoln learned his trade. Split-rail fences and pioneer furniture made by Thomas Lincoln and his contemporaries fill out the picture of rugged pioneer life.

Washington County

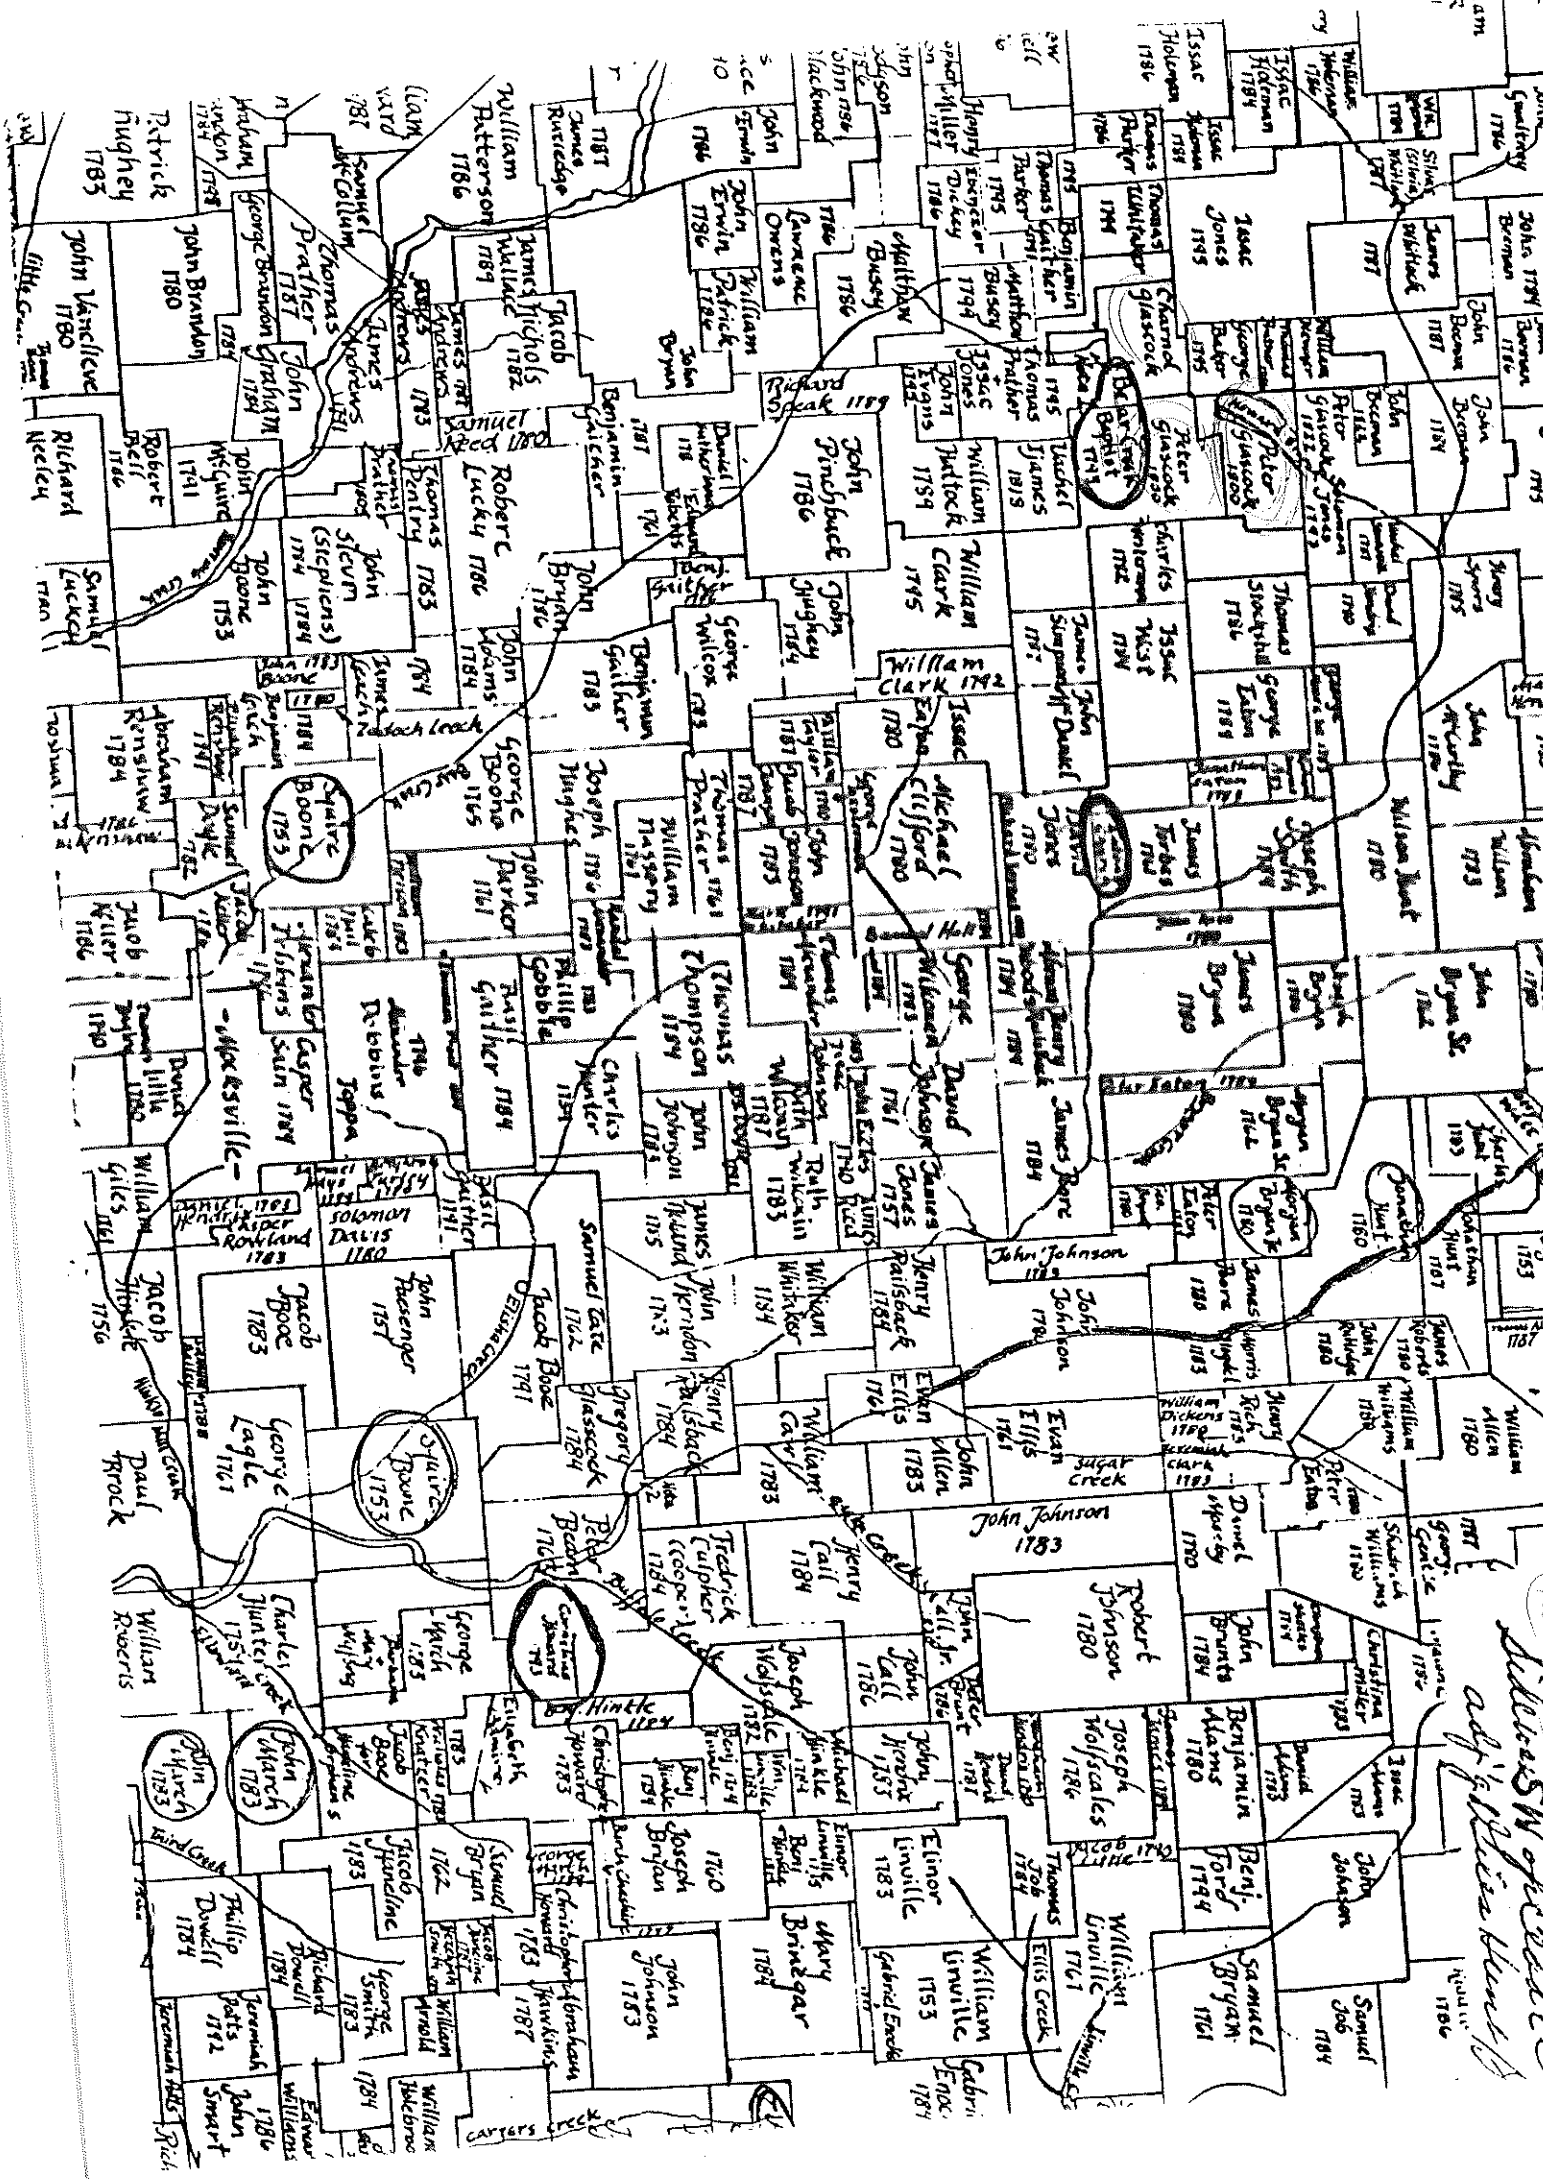

Washington County, established in 1792 as the tenth Kentucky County, was named in honor of General George Washington, first President of the United States. The county was formed from land that earlier had been part of Nelson County. The county seat is at Springfield. The county is located in central or Lincoln Trail area of the state.

Lincoln Homestead State Park is located about four miles north of Springfield and Chaplin Rivers form the western boundary of the county.

The Beech Fork and Chaplin Rivers form the western boundary of the county. It is testimony to Washington's popularity that he would be so honored even before he began his second term as the new nation's president. In fact, the United States who possessed the confidence of the whole, "Washington did so. He was much aware of the West and "the neglect of the West" as a result of his early surveying career and visits to the West. Washington made the early Union secure by making sure that Kentucky, in 1792, became a state.

Hi Pat,

Good to hear from a Glasscock cousin.

The info set forth here is from a book on the descendants of Burton R. Glasscock and Elizabeth M. Vest, parents of Andrew Jackson Glasscock, written by John David Glasscock who has been researching the family for a very long time. Also, Rebecca Edwards was a daughter of Charles Edwards and Elizabeth Wilson. I am researching the Wilson line if you are interested.

The chapter on Andrew reads as thus:

Andrew Jackson Glasscock, b. 1852. He married Rebecca Edwards on 23 January 1874 by Mordecai Robinson, in Baker County, which is now Chilton County. Mordecai Robinson was the first and only Judge of Probate of Baker County.

Andrew Jackson Glasscock was called "Jack" and was a prominent man in the community. He signed many papers that are found in the Chilton County Courthouse. He was a devoted Christian, and member of the Oak Hill Methodist Protestant Church. He spent his entire life in the Oak Hill Community (near Jemison, Alabama in Chilton County). He was true to his church and his family and always took a profound interest in the advancement of his community and county. He was a pioneer Republican in Chilton County, having been instrumental in its early establishment. He always contended for what he thought to be for the best interest of the common people.

Andrew Jackson Glasscock, first wife, Rebecca Edwards, was born 11 April 1857, and died 27 January 1912 at the age of 55 years. Her obituary states that she professed faith in Christ at the age of 16 and united with the Methodist Church and lived as an acceptable member of the church. On the 5th day of December 1911, she attended preaching service at Oak Hill Church and shouted the praise of the Lord. She was a true disciple of Christ because Jesus said "By their fruits ye shall know them." A few days before departing this life, she said she was sleeping in Heaven. Her friends and relatives tell of her suffering untold affliction for 20 years without murmur or complaint. [cancer??] She is buried at Old Rocky Mount Cemetery on Chilton County Road #42, known as Rocky Mount Road.

Twelve children were born to this marriage.

After Jack's first wife died, he married Fannie Lawrence. She was born about 1879. She was the daughter of William and Mary Lemons Lawrence. Her first marriage was to a Balue. She was a native of Texas, but was living in North Alabama when she had come to Jemison to visit her sister, Ola Barnes and met Jack Glasscock and they were married. Fannie's mother had a baby and she knew she was going to die and asked Fannie if she would raise her for her which she did. She and Jack adopted her sister Aileen, who married William Kelley and still lives in Jemison, Alabama (1988). Fannie later married Jeff Ellison after Jack's death. Fannie is buried in Rocky Mount Cemetery near Jemison where she is buried beside Jeff and his first wife.

Andrew Jackson Glasscock died 11 June 1936 and is buried at Oak Hill Church near Jemison.

Jack's estate was settled in Chilton County, Alabama, county house book #29, pages 50-64.

Children of Jack and Rebecca E. Glasscock are:

1. John Harvey (Snider) Glasscock, born Jan. 4, 1875, and died 7 July 1958 and is buried at Rock Springs Cemetery in North Chilton County. He married 1st Florence Boles, she was a daughter of Newt Boles and Kizzy Lowery. From the register of deaths of Chilton County in 1911 on page 293 lists her father as Newt Boles and her age was listed as 29 years. Her tombstone lists her death as 1912. She is buried at Old Rocky Mount Cemetery on Co road #51 known as the Rocky Mount Road. His second marriage was to Mary Mims.
- (A) Willie Glasscock
m. 1st -----Stagner 2nd -----Stagner. (second wife was aunt of first wife) Willie moved to Sylacauga, Ala, where he worked in the cotton mill. He later moved somewhere around Mobile, and worked in a tin shop. He had 7 and his wife had seven children. As his brother told me, they had 14 children to bring through the depression. He was living in Chunchula, Ala, near Mobile when his father died. Willie died at the age of 79 years.

(B) Rosie Glasscock, born July 30, 1899, and died in 1985. She married John K.
McDonald. He was born September 28, 1890, and died November 17, 1957.
They are buried in Shelby Cemetery in Shelby, Alabama. One time Rosie and her family was moving across the Coosa River in a barge and the barge started to sink and she held her baby in her arm and held on to a wooden bedstead which kept her afloat until she was rescued. She had twelve children, but I have not been able to identify them. She also had several step-children. One child was Vilick McDonald, born August 29, 1920, and died September 22, 1921, buried

next to her parents.

(C) Nealie Bell Glasscock, died young.

(D) Leonard Glasscock, died young.

(E) Foster B. Glasscock, born February 1, 1907, and died July 2, 1996. He married

four times. His first wife was Gertrude Jones. He had two sons by her. It is said that she is buried in Shelby Cemetery. Foster's second wife was Annie F.

Williams. She was born May 22, 1902, and died June 24, 1961. She is buried

next to Foster in Pleasant Hill Cemetery in Jemison, Ala. They had four children.

His third wife was Emma Willis. She was born April 2, 1902, and died March 3,
1978. She is buried in Mineral Springs Cemetery out from Jemison. His fourth

wife was Eula McQue, now deceased.

Children by Gertrude Jones:

1. Daniel Glasscock, died about 1986-87.

2. Hoover Glasscock, died about 1986-87. He killed a man in the 1940's in Shelby

County and got a life sentence. He never married, but has a daughter.

Hello,

My source for Robert & Deborah being Thomas' parents is the World Family Tree Volume 2 CD. Its a collection of family trees that people have submitted. Unfortunately it doesn't include who submitted them or their sources.

Glasco's book does list Robert Glascock of Essex as one of the probable fathers of Thomas, but I haven't been able to find out where the Deborah lvey information came from. I didn't realize I had included it on my web site. So far its just speculation and needs to be further researched.

Here's all the information included in the World Family Tree that includes Deborah & Robert. Most of is familiar. Sincerely, David Glasscock

Descendants of Robert Glascock

Generation No. 1

1. ROBERT¹ GLASCOCK was born bef 1601 in Essex County, England, and died WFT Est 1620-1692 in Elizabeth City, Virginia. He married DEBORAH IVEY GLASCOCK 1610 in Essex County, England.

Notes

Robert Glascock received a grant of 200 acres in Elizabeth City, Virginia in 1635, next to Lt. Cheeseman's land. Land could be had almost for the asking throughout the colonial period, although many a frontier squatter who succumbed to the lure for land ignored the formalities of getting a deed. In colonial law, land titles rested ultimately upon grants from the crown, and in colonial practice, the evolution of land policy in the first colony set patterns that were followed everywhere save in New England. In 1614, when Governor Dale gave each of the Virginia Company's colonists three acres for his own use, it was the beginning of a policy that every colonist could claim a plot of his own. In 1618 the company, lacking any assets other than land, promised each investor a fifty-acre "share-right" for twelve pounds, 10 shillings, and each settler a "headright" for paying his own way or for bringing in others. When Virginia became a royal colony in 1624, the headright system continued to apply, administered by the governor and his council. Lord Baltimore adopted the same practice in Maryland, and successive proprietors in the other southern and middle colonies adopted variations on the plan. As time passed, certain tracts were put up for sale and throughout the colonies, special grants (often sizable) went to persons of rank or persons who had performed some meritorious service, such as fighting the Indians. Since land was plentiful and population desired, the rules tended to be generously interpreted and carelessly applied. With the right connections, persons or companies might engross handsome estates and vast speculative tracts in the interior, looking toward future growth and rising land values. From the beginning of colonization, and even before that, the real-estate boomer was a stock figure in American history, and access to power was often access to wealth. But by the early 1700's, acquisition of land was commonly by purchase under more or less regular conditions of survey and sale by the provincial government. The later national land surveys followed the southern practice. The first grants were made without any conditions attached, but at an early date, the crown and proprietors decided to recover something from the giveaways by the levy of annual quit-rents on the land. In the Middle Ages, such payments would quit (release) the tenant from military and other duties to his lord. In the New World, however, such levies had no roots in a feudal tradition, and came to be a point of chronic protest, resistance, and evasion. But they remained on the books. Some promoters of colonization, including Ferdinando Gorges, Lord Baltimore, and the Lords Proprietors of Carolina, had dreams of reviving the feudal manor in the New World. Their plans went awry, it is commonly said, because of the New World environment. With land aplenty, there was little call to volunteer for serfdom. Yet in unexpected ways the southern colonies gave rise to something analogous, a new institution with a new name: the plantation. The word originally carried the meaning of colony. The plantations in the New World were the colonies, and planters were the settlers who had "planted" them. Gradually the name attached itself to individual holdings of large size. If one distinctive feature of the South's staple economy was a good market in England, another was a trend toward large-scale production. Those who planted tobacco soon discovered that it quickly exhausted the soil, thereby giving an advantage to the planter who had extra fields to rotate in beans and corn or to leave fallow. With the increase of the tobacco crop, moreover, a fall in prices meant that economies of scale might come into play: the large planter with lower cost per unit might still make a profit. Gradually he would extend his holdings along the riverfronts, and thereby secure the advantage of direct access to the ocean-going vessels that moved freely up and down the waterways of the Chesapeake, discharging goods from London and taking on hogsheads of tobacco. So easy was the access in fact that the Chesapeake colonies never required a city of any size as a center of commerce, and the larger planters functioned as merchants and harbormasters for their neighbors. If the planter found no volunteers for serfdom, and if wage labor was scarce and expensive, one could still purchase an indentured servant for six pounds to thirty pounds (a substantial sum, which in much of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries would equal perhaps 900 to 5,000 pounds of tobacco), and get his labor for a term of years. Voluntary indentured servitude accounted for probably half the arrivals of white settlers in all the colonies outside New England. The name derived from the indenture, or contract, by which a person could bind himself to labor in return for transportation to the New World. Usually one made the contract with a shipmaster who would then sell it to a new master upon arrival. Not all went voluntarily. The London underworld developed a flourishing trade in "kids" and "spirits", who were kidnapped or spirited into servitude. On occasion orphans were bound off to the New World; from time to time the mother country sent convicts into colonial servitude, the first as early as 1617. After 1717, by act of Parliament, convicts guilty of certain crimes could escape the hangman by "transportation." Most of these, like Moll Flanders, the lusty heroine of Daniel Defoe's novel, seem to have gone to the Chesapeake. And after 1648, political and military offenders met a like fate, beginning with some captives of the Parliamentary armies. In due course, however, the servant reached the end of his term, usually after four to seven years, claimed the freedom dues set by custom and law--some money, tools, clothing, food--and took up land of his own. And with the increase of the colonies, servants had a wider choice of destination. Pennsylvania became more often the chosen land, "one of the best poor man's countries in the world," in the verdict of a judge at the time. Robert Glascock is known to have had indentured servants, a Peter Rigglesworth turned over to Robert Glascocke in 1637. Peter Rigglesworth, purchased by Robert Glascocke, was a land owner by 1652 when Robert Grimes patented 300 acres lying at the head of the westernmost branch of Elizabeth River describes it as adjoining Peter Rigglesworth. The westernmost branch of Elizabeth River is now usually called Western Branch. Robert Glascocke received a patent on October 7, 1635 for 200 acres lying in Elizabeth City County adjoining Lieutenant Cheeseman. The Glascock, like many other Warwick and Elizabeth City County families, somewhat later moved to the Northern Neck of Virginia which lies between the Rappahannock and Potomac rivers. Early church services were conducted at the house of Robert Glascock. The citizens of Elizabeth City, Virginia conducted church services at the house of Robert Glascock until a church could be constructed in Elizabeth City.  2. iii. THOMAS GLASCOCK, b. 1610, Essex County, England; d. 1663, Warwick County, Virginia.

Generation No. 2

2. THOMAS2 GLASCOCK (ROBERT1) was born 1610 in Essex County, England, and died 1663 in Warwick County, Virginia. He married JANE JUST GLASCOCK June 16, 1643 in London, England.

Notes

Just what forces combined to cause Thomas to leave England are unknown. We do know that England was in those days a very distraught country, for the Great Rebellion--the bitter struggle between King Charles I and Parliament for control of the country--was in process. England's Civil War began in 1642 and the battle between the Royalist Cavaliers, who supported the reigning Stuart king, and the Roundheads, who supported Parliament and Oliver Cromwell for political and religious control of the country soon split the nation into two armed camps. 1643 was a bloody year in England and, as in all wars, many people suffered great hardships. Some of them left the country and emigrated to America--and among these emigrants was Thomas Glascock. Perhaps he was a disillusioned Cavalier. During the war a considerable number of these Royalists came to Virginia because it held steadfast to the Crown and the old reign of Charles I under the rule of Sir William Berkely. Berkely, a rich young Royalist, had been commissioned governor of Virginia by Charles and arrived in 1642, about a year ahead of Thomas. Perhaps he left for religious reasons for believers of the established Church of England were at the threats of Puritans and reformers, and vice versa during these dare days. Or perhaps he was just an adventurous younger son who wanted to try his luck as a Virginia planter. One of Thomas' 1643 patents was for 130 acres in Warwick River County

"parallel to his own and land of John Leyden and adjacent to land of Thomas Davis" for transporting three persons to Virginia from England. John Leyden's patents, issued in 1636, are for land on the "Old" Poquoson River, the "New" Poquosin River, and the James River. Thus it appears that Thomas' 1643 patent was for land on the lower part of the peninsula between the James and the York Rivers and situated near the James River somewhat between Newport News, Hampton and Yorktown, now mostly a heavily populated city area. On August 30, 1643, Thomas also patented 200 acres "a mile and a half upon the South side of Peankatanke River, adj Christopher Royce" for transporting 4 persons to Virginia. Two of the four were himself and his wife Jane. We are sure that he lived on this patent, for in 1652 he was appointed Justice of the Peace for the Peankatanke area by the Burgesses, sitting at Jamestown. The Peankatanke River is north of his other patent, in York County on the peninsula between the York and Rappahannock Rivers, and it flows into the Chesapeake Bay just a few miles below the mouth of the Rappahannock. The first patent on the Peankatanke was granted in 1642 and only four others were granted before Thomas', so we know that he was one of the first settlers in the area. Settlement started around Jamestown, moved up and down the James River, and then spread further north and south along the Tidewater coast as Indians were driven back and more settlers arrived. John Leydon (or Laydon) is listed in the records as an "Ancient Planter"...one who arrived in Virginia before 1616. In fact, he arrived with John Smith and the first settlers, at age 27, on the "Susan Constant" in 1607. He married a maid who came in 1608, and the wedding was the first one solemnized in English America. He survived the massacre of 1622 and by the time of the muster of 1624/1625 only one other man is listed as a survivor of the first settlement of 1607--so he was apparently the oldest and the last of the original settlers. If Thomas did live next to him in 1643, the 63 year old Leyden and his wife must have had some interesting tales to tell of the suffering and trials of the first 36 years of the colony! Thomas' other neighbor, Thomas Davis, was the son of James Davis, also an "Ancient Planter" who had died before 1633. We can only speculate about what contact the Glascocks had with these earliest settlers at the Jamestown settlement, but it is interesting to learn that Glascock's patent was apparently between the patents of these revered "Ancient Planters." On June 28, 1652, Thomas Glascock patented 600 acres in Lancaster County, 200 acres of which were granted upon his surrendering "200 acres on Peankatanke River formerly granted." This transaction proves that the Glascocks arrived in Lancaster County in 1652. Here the Glascocks set about the task of building a home and clearing land for tobacco. The typical Virginia dwelling of that day was a frame one and a half story building, with brick underpinning and high chimneys at either end. Nails were so hard to get that settlers often burned their homes when moving in order to get nails to start a new house. After the house was built, the forests had to be cleared. After the trees were cut, the stumps had to be dug up and the soil broken up with hoes before the tobacco could be planted. Probably Thomas had some of his headrights or indentured servants help his sons and him with this hard labor. So their tobacco plantation began to grow and Thomas established a way of life as a Rappahannock River planter that was to continue for generations in the Glascock family. Little else is known about the lives of Thomas and Jane. It is probable that Thomas died before June 3, 1667, for on that date his son, Gregory, was in possession of the Morattico Creek land which had been granted to him in 1662. No record of his or his wife's death; Thomas Glascock's will is presumably in lost will book (1692-1709) of Richmond County. Commissioner, Warwick County, 1652. (Virginia Colonial Abstracts Volume 26, York County, 1648-1657 by Fleet, page 43).

PATENT--THOMAS GLASCOCKE, 130 acres Warwicke River County, August 30, 1643, page 902. Parallel to his own and land of John Leydon and adj Thomas Davis. SouthEast parallel to the branch upon the land of Nicholas Ferman (or Forman) &c. Renewal of patent dated 20 July 1652.

PATENT--THOMAS GLASCOCK, 280 acres on North side of Rappahannock County on the head of Morratico Creek, 4 April 1678, page 630. Adjacent Nicholas Farmer and Thomas Stephens. Transportation of six persons: Joane Wade, John Butcher, Richard Vessi, Edmond Symons, Anthony Billington, John Sharpe.

Children of Thomas Glascock and Jane Glascock are:

- i. JOHN3 GLASCOCK, b. WFT Est 1633-1660; d. 1741, Westmoreland Co., Virginia.
- ii. GRACE GLASCOCK, b. WFT Est 1633-1660, Rappahannock Co., Virginia; d. WFT Est 1639-1743, Warwick County, Virginia.
3. iii. GREGORY GLASCOCK, b. 1634, Essex County, England; d. 1690, St. James Parish, Virginia.
4. iv. THOMAS GLASCOCK II, b. 1645, Rappahannock Co., Virginia; d. 1701, Morattico Creek, Virginia.

Generation No. 3

3. GREGORY3 GLASCOCK (THOMAS2, ROBERT1) was born 1634 in Essex County, England, and died 1690 in St. James Parish, Virginia. He married MARY BARBER GLASCOCK January 18, 1661/62 in Rappahannock Co., Virginia.

Notes

Gregory, or George Glascock, of Curringham, Essex, England arrived in Virginia in 1669. He was the son of Thomas Glascock and Jane Just Glascock. He was born and raised in England, while it was believed that his brother Thomas Glascock II was born in Virginia. He settled on Virginia's Northern Neck and became a tobacco planter on the Rappahannock River. George Glascock began to expand his holdings and deepen the family roots as a tobacco planter as he acquired additional land. George was the oldest son inasmuch as his father's land passed into his possession, probably according to the ancient custom of primogeniture. He was married to Mary Barber by January 18, 1662, when George and his wife Mary inherited land from Thomas Glascock in Old Rappahannock County, Virginia. He and his wife Mary deeded Morattico Creek land that had been his father's to his brother, Thomas II in 1667. In 1677, listing himself as a Rappahannock planter, he gave power of attorney to "my loving brother Thomas Glascock of ye same County planter in the settlement of an estate. An old tobacco bill of Gregory Glascock survives. "p. 312. Raw Travers of the County of Lancast Mercht do acknowledge that I have recd of Will Hall within mentioned bills amounting to 12472 lb tobac for use of Mr Rich Gower & Company the sd bills were delivered to the sd Hall and James Sumpner by Mr Leo Howson x x. Dated 26th May 1665. Wit. Will Travers signed Raleigh Travers Gregory Glascocke Recorded 29th May 1665." Gregory Glascock died in St. James Parish, Virginia in 1690. "George Glascock departed this life 1690." (St. James Parish, Virginia). By 1695, Gregory's widow had married Richard Peacock, who on February 14, 1695 made a deed of a gift of 10,000 pounds of tobacco to her children. North Farnham Parish Register: "1695--Richard Peacock, having lately married the relict of George Glascock." Colonel Edmund Jennings was given administration of the estate of George Glascock. He writes of George Glascock in the Court of 24 July 1702. "I am also further compelled to acquaint you that I have also received notice from the Clerk that William Cobb, Orphan of Ambrose Cobb hath entered plaint against me. I do not remember I was ever concerned with any estate except the former and George Glascock's estate with which I was instructed by the Court to receive Bills in my name which amount to about 4000 lbs. tobacco; if that relates to Cobbs and the Court please to direct me pay it to him ready, for I can't pay it without your order...The great respect I have for the Court obliges me to wait on you, but I am necessitated to pass to Rappahannock having long appointed business of moment which will occasion my stay there till after the Court so please will excuse the present attendance of Worthy Gentlemen your most faithful servant E. Jennings....on Hall 20th March 1701/1702." Gregory and Mary Glascock had the following children: 1) Thomas Glascock born June 1, 1662, and married 1689 Sarah Stone, daughter of William and Sarah Stone; 2) Mary and Anne, twins born November 10, 1673. Mary married (1) Zacharias Nichols and (2) Thomas Carpenter on January 13, 1717. She had no children in her 1721 will. Anne married John Wilson and died before 1704, without children. Mary and Anne married but had no children. Thus, Gregory's branch of the Glascock family is all descended from Thomas, his son.

- Children of Gregory Glascock and Mary Glascock are:
5. i. THOMAS4 GLASCOCK, b. June 01, 1662, Farnham Creek, Virginia; d. January 08, 1729/30, Fauquier County, Virginia.
 - ii. MARY GLASCOCK, b. November 10, 1673, Rappahannock Co., Virginia; d. WFT Est 1674-1767.
 - iii. ANNE GLASCOCK, b. November 10, 1673, Rappahannock Co., Virginia; d. WFT Est 1674-1767.
4. THOMAS3 GLASCOCK II (THOMAS2, ROBERT1) was born 1645 in Rappahannock Co., Virginia, and died 1701 in Morattico Creek, Virginia. He married ANNE NICHOLS GLASCOCK 1672 in Morattico Creek, Virginia.

Notes
 Thomas Glascock II, the second son of Thomas and Jane and born and raised in Virginia, apparently amassed a considerable amount of land and wealth for his family. In 1667 and again in 1683 he was deeded parts of Thomas' original Morattico Creek land by his brother Gregory, or George Glascock. In about 1672 he married Anne Nichols and between 1682 and 1691 he and his wife were willed over 1,000 acres of land on Totaskey Creek, the second creek north of the Morattico, by her father George Nichols. He is listed in these documents as Thomas Glascock, GENT., indicating that he was enough of a landowner to be classified as a "gentleman," which was a title which meant much more than it does now. In 1691 he also bought for 14,000 lbs. of tobacco another 400 acre plantation near Totaskey mill that had belonged to his father-in-law Nichols.

Will of George Nichols, Old Rappahannock County, Virginia. Will Book 2: 1677--1682, page 1, undated but proved 2nd May and 6th June 1677. Will of George Nicholls: Leg; to grandchild George Glascock; I have already confirmed to my daughter, Ann Glascock. To son Zacharias Nicholls; To grandchild Ann Downing; To grandchild Jane Glascock.

Witnesses: Thomas Dawsin, Paul Woodbridge; Executor: Thomas Glascock

Thomas Glascock and Anne Nichols had six children:

- 1) Jean born July 10, 1673; married Rowland Lawson
- 2) George born c.1675 d.1714; married Million Downman
- 3) Frances born July 14, 1680; married Captain Charles Barber
- 4) Anne married Colonel John Tarpley
- 5) Winifred married Anthony Sydnor
- 6) Mary born January 22, 1690; married John Hipkins

In 1701 Anne Nichols Glascock was a widow, and deeded a house to each of her daughters, Winifred, Anne, and Mary, who were not yet of age. Anne Nichols Glascock died in 1713.

Will of Ann Glascock, State of Virginia, County of Richmond, Will Book 3, page 163. Will dated 3 March 1713; Proved 7 April 1714. Leg; To grandson John Tarpley; To grandson Anthony Sydnor; To granddaughter Ann Barber; to grandson George Glascock; to son in law Charles Barber; to son in law Rowland Lawson; to daughter Jean Lawson; to daughter Frances Barber; to daughter Ann Tarpley; to daughter Mary Hipkins; To grandson George Glascock. Witnesses: Joseph Bragg, William Downman, Thomas Glascock; Executors: Charles Barber, Rowland Lawson.

Excerpts from Lebanon, Kentucky newspapers

Lebanon Weekly Standard - August 23, 1871 - 80 Yrs Column

"At the sale of the estate of David Rollins, Esq., on the 21st, ult, a large crowd was present and good prices realized. The farm of 142 acres was sold to Buford N. Penick Jr., Esq., at $26.50 an acre; corn in the field brought $7.20 per acre; horses $150.00, $90.00 and $32.00; a yearling mule $72.00; milch cows $35.00; yearling steers $20.10 per head; sheep $2.60 to $3.60 and a sow and pigs $12.00. The sale was well advertised in the columns of The Standard and also by handbills; which accounted for the big attendance and strong prices."

Lebanon Weekly Standard - December 27, 1871

"Posted: All persons are hereby warned not to ride or hunt over, or otherwise trespass upon my farm, situated in Marion Co. Ky near Bradsfordsville and bounded on the North by the Rolling Fork; on the South by the land of John McElroy; on the East by John Avritt's land, and on the West by the land of Moses M. Beard."

signed: F.G. Phillips

note: F.G. Phillips was son in law of Edward Penick 1773-1841.)

Marion Co. Ky Deed Book 3, pg. 235 24 August 1866

Buford N. Penick & Easter A. Penick conveyed to Theophilus Brussell for $450.00 2 tracts of land: 1) 42 acres, 2) 30 acres bounded by lands of Anthony Walston and James McMullen.

note: This land in Popes Creek area. Theo Brussell's son, Marion and wife, Nancy, raised my mother.)

Lebanon Weekly Standard - 17 Apr 1878

"The residence of Mr. Buford N. Penick, at Penick Station in this County, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night about 9:00. It is believed that the fire had its origin in the agency of an incendiary. Two previous attempts to fire the house had been made within a month or two preceding."

GEORGE WASHINGTON GLASSCOCK
(Abraham Lincoln's Fellow Flatboater)

Glasscock opened the first flour mill in West Texas, an early pioneer in wheat growing in Texas. He was a partner of Abraham Lincoln in flatboating on the Sangamon River. He moved to Texas to partake in the Grass Fight and the siege of Bexar. After annexation, he helped manage the Austin lunatic asylum. Born in Hardin County, Kentucky, in 1810. Married Cynthia C. Knight in 1840. Died in 1879. Glasscock County is named in his honor. (See also Carriage Trade, under Jasper County.)

Twentieth-century descendants include the families of Albert Horton Glasscock, George Washington Glasscock, L.L. Redford, William Samuel Sellers, James M. Keese, W.J. Compton, Seth Darnaby Breeding. (DRT nos. 4684, 4840, 4900, 4954.)

Description:

This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1900 United States Federal Census, the Twelfth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, address, relationship to the head of household, color or race, sex, month and year of birth, age at last birthday, marital status, number of years married, the total number of children born of the mother, the number of those children living, birthplace, birthplace of father and mother, if the individual was foreign born, the year of immigration and the number of years in the United States, the citizenship status of foreign-born individuals over age twenty-one, occupation, and more. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1900 Federal Census.

In 1832, Jarvis McKay was appointed pastor of the Reformers. Green Duncan was appointed clerk with Zachariah Green as his assistant. Duncan resigned and Zachariah Green became the clerk. John Stone and Haden Edwards were elders. There are 73 names on the records of the people who withdrew along with some slaves of their owners.

Now, let us think what is the church? It is the people, the body of Christ, with Christ the head. It is the gathered people as we are now and the scattered church we will be tomorrow. Let us look at some of the people who made up the early church here. In 1848, Alexander Hall compiled the "Christian Register" containing a statistical report of the Christian Churches in Europe and America, the first ever compiled from the records that were kept. It is a rare work. It was reprinted by the College of the Bible in 1948. It listed the name of the county, of the church, the number of members, the pastor, and a leading member. Five churches were listed in Nelson County. Bloomfield had 105 members, the minister was Jarvis McKay, and a leading member was John Stone.

John Stone came to Nelson County from Fairfax County, Virginia before Kentucky was a state. He had the house that is still standing on what most of us know as the Eli Brown Farm on the Springfield Road. He and his family were active in the church. Haden Edwards married twice, two of the Stone girls; Sally Edwards married John McKay, parents of Jarvis McKay; George O'Neal married Eleanor McKay. The Moores sisters: Elizabeth (Bess) Graham, Catherine (Kat) Terrell, and Sarah Moore are descendents of them. Bob Moore is Sarah's son and was the organist here in the fifties. Their father, Rueben Moores, was an elder many years. Volney Gore married Elizabeth Stone. Their son, Thomas Jefferson Gore was a minister in Australia. He was called the Grand Old Man of Australia. He was to them what J.W. McGarvey was to the Christian Church in America.

Another son, Minor Gore, was clerk of the church. His granddaughter, Willette Gore Yewell gave me this early record of our beginning, our separation on into the 1890's. Micajah Glascock married Rebecca Stone; Hugh Berkeley married Sally Glascock; the sister of Jarvis McKay; Emily McKay married Gregory Glascock; some of us remember Eli Brown, Mrs. Sarah Stone Sterrett and Miss Sallie Dorsey. Micajah Glascock was a druggist and lived on the Taylorsville Road where Hagan has his antique shop.

...These are a few of the people who made up the church in earlier years. It is time to get back to the building of a house of worship.

In 1849 trustees were appointed to buy ground and superintend the construction of the building. Trustees were Bros. Haden Edwards, John Stone, M. Glascock, John D. Lewis, and Thomas Duncan Green. David Cakendolpher, Sr., made the bricks, and George Batcheldor, Poterfield Hodges, and Field Watson, erected the building. It was received by the church on December 2, 1849. At this time, 182 members had been received into the church. The church was remodeled in 1896, adding a self-supporting roof, a vestibule, a baptistery, and stained glass windows.

James H. Glasscock, who resides in his pleasant home on a small farm adjoining the City of Lebanon and who has long been a successful exponent of agricultural and livestock industry in Marion County, is a representative of the fourth generation of the Glasscock family in this county. His great-grandfather, Horton Glasscock, was born and reared in Culpepper County, Virginia, and became the founder of the family in Marion County, Kentucky, where he settled in the early pioneer days and instituted the reclamation and development of a farm. He served as a private in the War of 1812 and took part in the battle of New Orleans. His son, Elijah, grandfather of the subject of this review, passed his entire life in Marion County, where he became a substantial farmer and where he was an honored pioneer citizen at the time of his death.

James H. Glasscock was born in what is now known as the Haysville District of Marion County, on the 16th of August, 1853, and is a son of Chaffin and Susan Glasscock, both of whom remained on their farm in this county until their deaths. The father began his independent career with no financial resources or backing, and it was by the most arduous application, self-denial and economy that he and his devoted wife eventually acquired a good farm and enjoyed the prosperity and comfort that were eminently their due. Concerning their children the following brief record may consistently be entered at this juncture: Sallie was born in 1851 and died in 1894; James H., of this sketch, was the second child; Elijah was born in 1855 and died in 1913; Virginia was born in 1858 and died in infancy; George, who was born in 1861, resides on his father's old home farm near Lebanon; Winnie, who was born in 1863, is the wife of William Canghnangher, of Lebanon; Frank W., died in infancy; and Buenavista, who was born in 1871, died in 1894.

Owing to existing exigencies and conditions, James H. Glasscock received but limited educational advantages in his youth, but through self-discipline and through his active association with the practical affairs of life he has effectively overcome this youthful handicap and is a man of business ability and mature judgment. He continued to assist in the work of his father's farm until he had attained to his legal majority, and on the 26th of January, 1875, he gained a worthy helpmeet by his marriage to Miss Elizabeth Hays, who was born in Marion County on the 14th of January, 1855, a daughter of John and Augusta (Cox) Hays, the former of whom was born in Marion County, February 22, 1833, and the latter was born in Washington County, July 15, 1833. Her father was born in the old fort at Frankfort, this state, and his parents later established their home in Washington County, where he was reared to manhood and proved himself worthy of his sterling pioneer ancestry. John and Augusta (Cox) Hays became the parents of five children, of whom Elizabeth, wife of the subject of this sketch, is the eldest; James A. was born March 10, 1858, and his death occurred October 1, 1874; Virginia was born July 15, 1864, and died July 11, 1865; Samuel was born August 7, 1867, and his death occurred April 28, 1888; Mary Lee was born April 25, 1870, and now resides in the southern part of the State of Kansas. After his marriage Mr. Glasscock established his residence on a farm of sixty acres on North Rolling Fork, and to this tract he later added at intervals until he had accumulated a valuable property of 288 acres, this land being still in his possession. On this farm Mr. and Mrs. Glasscock maintained their home for twenty years, and both were indefatigable in their labors, even as they conserved economy by every possible means in order to place themselves in a position of financial independence and to provide OBITUARY. - Died in Bloomfield, Nelson county, Kentucky, May 28th, 1884, at 11 a.m. of consumption, Dr. Hugh BERKLEY, of De Soto, Mo., aged 58 years, 4 months and 25 days.

The remains of the deceased were brought to De Soto on Friday, 30th inst., and interred at the City cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. Wesley JOHNSON of the Congregational Church, of which he was a member. After the services at the Church were concluded, De Soto Lodge A.F. & A.M. of which he was also a member, conveyed the remains to the Cemetery and interred them with Masonic honors.

Dr. Hugh BERKLEY was born in Spencer county, Ky., Jan 3d, 1826, and was married Sept 21st 1854, to Miss Sarah E. GLASSCOCKE, daughter of Dr. GLASSCOCKE, of Nelson county, Ky. Seven children were born to them--of whom six--two daughters and four sons, are still living. The eldest daughter, Mrs. J.D. PEERS, resides at Springfield, Mo.; the younger, Mrs. J.W. JENKINS, at South St. Louis, Mo. The sons--Jephthah, Hugh, James Gore and Joseph Harvey, are in De Soto. His medical education was completed in New York City, after a full course of lectures in Louisville, Ky. He had diploma's from both the medical and surgical department, and eye and ear infirmary, of the New York medical college. He had begun the practice of medicine at 23 years of age, with Dr. ASHBURNE, in St. Francois county, Mo., remaining in Missouri, 4 years, when he returned to Kentucky and continued practicing in Bloomfield, Nelson county, Ky., until the spring of 1866, when he returned to Missouri, settling in Jefferson county, where he practiced until sickness compelled him to stop, his health being too poor to allow him to practice during the last two or three years of his life. He made De Soto his home, during his life in Missouri, excepting two or three years. He was a most consistent Christian and was an elder in the Presbyterian

"The Irish family fell back upon the original name of Glascott, and called themselves by that name for many generations.

"The history of the English and Irish families of Glascock, or Glascott, is told in extenso in Burke's "Dictionary of the Landed Gentry of Great Britain and Ireland." The Coat of Arms is thus described: "Ermine on a chevron sable between three cocks azure legged and combed or; crest: An antelope's head argent attired or, gorged with a belt sable beaked and rimmed of the second."

"The Glascocks prospered in Virginia, and though they did not multiply to the same extent that some other families did, they furnished five soldiers to the Revolutionary armies: B. K. George, Spencer, Thomas and Robert Glascock.

"But in the meanwhile, a branch of these Virginia Glascocks had, prior to the Revolutionary War, migrated to the new colony of Georgia. This family consisted of William and his son Thomas. William moved to Georgia with the reputation of an able lawyer, and instantly took a prominent place in that colony. He had been preceded a year or two by his son Thomas, who was born in Virginia about 1750, and to whom he had given an excellent education. Both were patriots to the core.

"When the Revolutionary War came on, William Glascock became eminent in the legislative work of the new colony, and his son Thomas made a brilliant soldier. He served as a Captain in the famous legion commanded by the Polish nobleman, Count Pulaski, and by the Fall of 1780, being then only in his thirty-first year, had risen to the rank of Brigadier General.

"He held important positions after the war, was a man of great enterprise for that time, and left large estates. He died at his home, "The Maples," in Richmond County, at the age of fifty-four.

"While he was making military reputation, his father was making civil reputation. He served as Speaker of the House of the Assembly of the State of Georgia in 1780. He was one of the commissioners appointed to plan for the improvement and enlargement of Augusta; and the work they did is a standing monument to them to this day. He was a trust-

Carl Ronald Hudson, 62, who had been associated with the Leitchfield Mercantile Company for 47 years died on Monday at Norton Infirmary, Louisville, after suffering a heart attack at the store. Starting as a clerk in the store's hardware department at the age of 15, Mr. Hudson was one of the county's best known merchants. His interest and energy in serving customers have been recognized under different ownerships. He was named manager of the store in 1957 upon retirement of David R. Cannon, son of one of the original owners. Born in Grayson County on July 22, 1906, he was the son of Marshall and Ella Whobrey Hudson. Surviving are his wife, Myrtle McCormick Hudson; a son, Ronald Hudson of Leitchfield; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Glasscock of Frankfort; two brothers, Roy Hudson of California and Duard Leach of North Vernon, Ind.; a sister, Mrs. Georgia Small of Leitchfield and four grandchildren. A member of the First Baptist Church, funeral services for Mr. Hudson will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Ellis Chapel by Bro. John Penick. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

CODICIL

Be it known to all men by these presents that I Reuben Strother of Fauquier County have made and declared by last will and testament dated on the 30th day of January 1832. I the said Reuben Strother by this present Codicil do ratify and confirm my said last will and testament in all points except so far as I shall alter the same by the following articles. 1st: I revoke and disannul the trust vested in William Rawlings as to the parts of my estate intended respectively for Thomas Strother, Ann Pearle, and Susannah Glasscock and French Strother, and now I will to each of them their respective parts to be enjoyed by them and their children (and the issue of those that may be dead) as fully and freely as if my trust had ever been created. I repeat that William Pearle the husband of my daughter Ann Pearle is never under any circumstances to have or enjoy any benefit from my estate or any part thereof.

Two: The following advancements I desire shall be charged in addition to those named in an aforesaid last will and testament. Viz: To Ann Pearle Seventy five dollars. To Susannah Glasscock three hundred and seventy dollars and 97 cents. To Charlotte Elliott two hundred and eight dollars. To George Sayhock and wife four hundred and seventy six dollars and 25 cents. To French Strother two hundred and fifty dollars and 68 cents. To John Strother thirty dollars. To Wiliam W. Strother one hundred and forty seven dollars and 37 cents. To William Rawlings two hundred and sixty dollars.

3rd: I continue the nomination of the same executors with this explanation that William Rawlings is to be acting executor but in case of his death or refusal to act then George Love is to be sole executor. In witness thereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed by seal this 22nd day of January 1836.

REUBEN STROTHER (Seal)

Signed, Sealed & acknowledged by Reuben Strother to be a codicil to his last will and testament in the presence of us, who at his request and in his presence have subscribe our names as witnesses "And

Harry Aldea Glasscock was editor and publisher of the Owens Valley Herald in the 1920s. I am looking for copies of the paper while Harry was editor. He is my grandfather. My grandmother Eva Belle Leidy Glasscock also lived in Independence in the 19teens and 20s and my father Jack Donaldson Glasscock was born there. Any information would be appreciated. Email me.

H. W. Glasscock, mayor of Paragould and real estate dealer, was born in Randolph County, Ark., February 19, 1834, and is the son of George W. and Catherine (Gray) Glasscock, natives of Tennessee. The parents were married in their native State, and in about 1830 they emigrated to Arkansas, locating in Randolph County, and were among its very first settlers. Here the father died in 1834 and the mother three days later. They were the parents of seven children, three now living: William, Henry W., and George F. When the parents first made their home in Arkansas, the country was a wilderness, and wild animals were plentiful, the red man's face frequently being seen at the door of the log cabin. H. W. Glasscock was reared in Randolph County, Ark., until twelve years of age, when he moved to Gainesville, Greene County. He was educated principally at Gainesville and in Mississippi. In 1858 he was elected county clerk of Greene County, and served until after the war. In 1861 he enlisted in the first regiment that was organized in Greene County, and left a deputy to attend to his business. He served in the eastern army and was discharged in 1862 on account of his health. He then came home and re-enlisted in Kitchens' regiment in the cavalry, and was in command of Company E, serving until the surrender; he was on the raid through Missouri. After returning to his home he took charge of the clerk's office, and in 1868 engaged in mercantile business at Gainesville, which he continued until 1883, when he sold out and came to Paragould. Since that time he has been occupied in the real estate business. He owns about 12,000 acres of land, with some 600 under cultivation. His lands are among the best in the country, as he has been investing and buying since 1857. Mr. Glasscock was elected mayor of Paragould in April, 1888, which position he is now filling. He was married first in 1858 to Miss Amanda Conduff, by whom he had four children, two now living: H. F. and Sudie. His second marriage was to Mrs. Emily J. Williamson, by whom he has six children, four now living: John, Jennie, Etta and Albert (twins). Mr. and Mrs. Glasscock and family are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Mr. Glasscock is a member of the Masouic fraternity and Knights of Pythias. He is one of the prominent and leading citizens of his vicinity.

Hi Edwin,

John Ryan Glasscock b. 10-10-1813 married 12-23-1832 to Martha Patsy Rutherford b. 8-2-1815, was the brother to my gggrandfather, Macabees Glasscock, who went to Texas and who was married to Nancy Byers. Their father was Gregory Glasscock, who was born in 1792 in Washington Co., TN and m. Sarah Ryan 4-18-1811. Gregory was the son of Archibald Glasscock d. 1837, Washington Co., TN and Hannah Kincheloe. Gregory came to Alabama before 1821 and settled in Blount Springs, Blount County Alabama. According to tradition the family landed at Guntersville, Marshall Co., AL from a flat raft with their livestock and went to Locust Fork, or nearby, and with them part of the Musgrove, Nichols, and John Families (from the records of Letah R. Glasscock). I have in my records that they were buried in Cox's Cove Cemetery. This cemetery is located on private property and is maintained by the family that lives there. The old Glasscock home is directly across the road from the property where the cemetery is located. The land is no longer in the Glasscock family. Gregory Glasscock d. 1-9-1869, and his son John Ryan Glasscock was appointed to be the administrator on 1-25-1869. John Ryan Glasscock's mother, Sarah Ryan was the daughter of John Ryan and Christiane Scott. I have been trying to locate the parents of John Ryan and Christiane Scott for several years. I know that when they came to Alabama they settled first in Cotaco Co., which has now been divided up I believe into Cullman and Blount Counties. I found a marriage record for Gregory and Sarah in Greene Co., TN. and this is also where Sarah was born on Jan. 9, 1795. Here are a few Bible records that you may be interested in:

Grace Glasscock was born on 1 September 1738 in Fauquier Co., Virginia.^{3,5,6} She was the daughter of Gregory Glasscock and Elizabeth Elder.^{3,4} Grace Glasscock married John Rector Jr. before 1771.⁷ Grace Glasscock married William Quaintance, son of William Quaintance and Tamson Buffington, circa 1778.⁸ Grace Glasscock and William Quaintance were divorced in September 1829 in Fleming Co., Kentucky.⁹ Grace Glasscock died on 7 November 1832 in Fleming County at age 94.¹ She was buried in the Ringo family cemetery, Fleming Co., Kentucky.¹ She was reburied on 4 July 1978 in Flemingsburg Cemetery, Fleming Co., Kentucky. She was moved when the Ringo cemetery was threatened due to flooding.¹⁰ Grace had a reputation for being very energetic and ambitious, and also rather eccentric. At 75 years of age, she decided to go back for a visit to Virginia with a party that was preparing to make the journey. She climbed onto a four-year-old stallion at the Court House steps in Flemingsburg and rode it all the way to Culpepper, Virginia and back, showing no more fatigue than the rest of the group. Shortly afterwards, she rode to Maysville on horseback to bring back some apples newly arrived from upriver, planted the seeds, and eventually ate the apples from a large orchard grown from them.¹¹

T.A. HENDERSON was born in Fleming County, Ky., in 1816, and is the second in a family of six children born to Alexander and Elizabeth (Morrison) Henderson. Alexander Henderson, a native of Virginia, was a son of David, who was born in Ireland. Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson was a daughter of Major Morrison, of Fleming County, who was a farmer and soldier. T.A. Henderson was born and reared on a farm, and when sixteen years of age engaged in merchandising at Flemingsburg, he subsequently located in Mt. Gilead for a short time and at Mt. Carmel in 1845, where he has been engaged in the same business most of the time since. In 1838 he married Harriet Quaintance (a daughter of William Quaintance), who died in 1875, the mother of three children, of whom one is living, Claude. In 1878 Mr. Henderson married Nancy Glasscock, a daughter of Newman Glasscock, and a member of an old and prominent family of Virginia, who were early settlers of Kentucky. Mrs. Henderson is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, while Mr. Henderson has been a member of the Presbyterian Church for twenty-five years.

ALEXANDER HAWES BEDFORD, farmer and stock raiser; P. O. Paris; was born in this precinct March 1, 1838, and is the youngest member of the family, born to Benjamin F. Bedford, Sr., and Ellen G. Buckner, his wife. Benjamin F., Sr., was born May 1799, on the farm now owned by Mrs. Sallie Cunningham on the Winchester Pike. He was a son of Benjamin, a native of Virginia, who came to Kentucky about the year 1787. Ellen G. Buckner was born Nov. 2, 1799. The old family Bible, now in the possession of A. H., tells the following tale: Elizabeth H., born Nov. 12, 1819; Benjamin T., March 19, 1821; John C., Nov. 17, 1822; Mary A., Sept. 22, 1824; Henry P., April 10, 1826; Stephen, Jan. 17, 1829; Sarah E., Nov. 5, 1830; Franklin, Aug. 29, 1833; Hillory, Aug. 15, 1835; Alexander Hawes, March 1, 1838. A. H. was brought up a farmer, in which business, he has since been engaged. He has a farm of 285 acres, which is stocked with Cotswold sheep and short-horn cattle. Nov. 29, 1869, he married Ida R., daughter of Samson D. and Sarah (Stemmons) Talbott, both natives of Kentucky. He was born in this county in 1809, son of Demoval Talbott, of Virginia. Sarah D. was a daughter of Martin and Charlotte (Glasscock) Stemmons. Mr. Bedford removed from the homestead to the place he now owns, after his marriage. He has one child, Dousie P. He and wife are members of the Christian Church.

Beer-Glasscock

Jacob Beeee, father of Penny Beee, died about 1848. In the tax list for Davie County, of 1847 he was taxed on 700 acres of land and 8 black poles.

In 1849 the 700 acres and 8 black poles were listed by William Beee March, a grandson., also in 1850. some property listed for Jacob Beee estate by W.F. March administrator., and again 1852.
In 1854 March sold 130 acres of the Jacob estate to Alexander M. Beee.
Deed book 3 page 807.

This land was on both sides of Elisha's Creek and was adjacent to the Mill tract.

In the 1880's James Sain rented the Jacob Beee house. etc. from Ephraim Gaither and lived there for 44 years.
The mother of James Sain was Mary Elizabeth Beee, 1823-1896, who married Cheshire Sain.
Mary Elizabeth Beee was the daughter of Philip Beee and granddaughter of George Beee, who died about 1837.

Mrs. Fattie Owings says her father, James L. Glasscock, born 1848, went back to visit the old Jacob Beee house and told her that it was his grandfather's house.

With all the Glasscock-Beee intermarrying, James L. Glasscock may have become confused as to relations and the original owner could have been the Jacob Beee who was his great grandfather. whose wife was Sarah Beee, daughter of Jacob and Eve Beee, and born 1789.

Conclusion: If two generations of Jacob Beees lived in the house, The first Jacob, with wife Eve were sponsors at the baptism of Benjamin Beee born in 1778 and if they were the builders of the house, it must have been erected in the 1770's.
(Benjamin was the son of Christopher Buhe and wife Margaretha.)

James Glasscock

Data given by Mrs. Jane Layfette Glasscock Owings of Mocksville
N.C. January 29, 1967.

James Glasscock married Sally Booe.
Their children, birthdates for most of them are not in Mrs. Owen's record:

- * Thomas Napoleon Glasscock Died October 24, 1901 aged "about 82".
Richmond Glasscock went to Miss.
Harmon Glasscock " " " Abner Glasscock " was the youngest child. Was killed by a bushwacker after the Civil War."

Fanny Glasscock married James White and had no children. She is buried in the old Glasscock graveyard.

Elvira Glasscock married the Rev. Nathan Chaffin. Buried at Bear Creek Ch.

Patsy Glasscock born in 1824. Married a Mr. Klutz who was killed in Civil War.

Emaline Glasscock married Ransom Booe.

- * Thomas Napoleon Bonapart Glasscock who died Oct. 24, 1901 aged about 82
years, married Mary Anderson born 1818

A son of Thomas and Mary Glasscock was-James Layfette Glasscock born 11-18-1848 and died 2-25-1937.
and married Nancy Catherine Kurfess born 1-12-1855.

Mrs. Jane Layfette Glasscock Owings is a daughter of James L.

Mrs. Owings has been told that James Glasscock who married Sally Booe, owned all the land from Little Bear Creek to Ellis's Mill

She remembers taking her father, James L. Glasscock, back to visit the old
Jacob Booe house on Elisha Creek (torn down by E.C. Morris in about 1956)
James L. Glasscock spoke of it as having been his grandfather's house.

Some notes from other records.

.10 Lucy Ann Kerfoot (6 December 1814-9 January 1880). She married Dr Bailey Rust Glasscock (1 April 1809-16 June 1863) on 31 February 1831²⁴. The couple had 11 children: Emily Catherine (24 October 1833-?); Mariah Louisa (26 July 1835-1910); Mary Emma Lee (1837-1920); Thomas Uriel (26 May 1839-1925; his name really caused confusion: in the 1850 census he was listed as Thomas R. and as Charles U. in 1860); Richardetta Virginia (10 February 1841-1886); Bushrod Henry (1842-?); Lucy Temple (24 December 1844--1860); Sydney Bailey (9 March 1847-1862); Annie Elizabeth (15 May 1850-1908); John Carr (5 March 1853--1934); and Lydia Kerfoot (2 February 1855-1926). The first three of these children were born in Virginia but the rest in Missouri, according to the 1850 and 1860 census returns.

Bailey Glasscock came to a violent end. His wife's obituary in the Kahoka Gazette for January 17, 1880 stated that "Mrs. Glasscock was suddenly plunged into deepest grief by the murder of her husband in 1863 for the crime of being an honest man." This was apparently part of the "dirty war" being fought by partisans and regulars in Clark Co Missouri. Several weeks after the execution of two alleged bushwackers in Fairmont Missouri, Union soldiers (or at least persons purporting to be Union soldiers) came to Dr Glasscock's home about 5 mi SE of Fairmont and persuaded Dr Glasscock to accompany them because he was needed as a witness. Although he was suspicious, he was persuaded to accompany them and never returned; his mutilated body was found near his home with five bullet wounds. (Accounts of this event, all more or less sensational, have been posted to the Glasscock Forum at Genforum by family historian Jay McAfee [<http://genforum.genealogy.com/glasscock/messages/2163.html>]) Curiously Bailey Glasscock was a cousin to the Bedford Glasscock who, with Daniel S and Maria C Kerfoot, was one of the founding members of the Upperville Baptist Church, showing that a tenuous connection continues between the Kerfoots and Montmorenci, now the property of Bedford's grandson.

JAMES⁵ LAKE, SR. (JOHN⁴ LAKE/LEAKE, WILLIAM³ LAKE*, JOHN LAKE/² LEAKE*, UNKNOWN¹ LAKE/LEAKE) was born Abt. 1760 in Fauquier County, Virginia, and died in Fauquier County, Virginia. He married ELIZABETH GLASSCOCK June 1785 in Fauquier County, Virginia, daughter of LT. GLASSCOCK and CATHERINE RECTOR. She was born July 17, 1763 in Fauquier County, Virginia, and died January 28, 1837 in Fauquier County, Virginia (Aquilla Glasscock's farm, private cemetery).

Children of JAMES LAKE and ELIZABETH GLASSCOCK are:

29. i. MARGARET⁶ LAKE/LEAKE, b. July 15, 1803, Fauquier County, Virginia; d. April 09, 1891, Bloomington, Illinois.
30. ii. SPENCER LAKE, b. January 21, 1786, Fauquier Co., Virginia (moved to Coshocton County, Ohio) (this information came from "The History of Bishop Family", State of Virginia, Richmond Archives); d. October 10, 1848, Fauquier Co., Virginia.
31. iii. GEORGE LAKE, b. January 08, 1788, Fauquier Co., Virginia; d. June 15, 1842, Fauquier Co., Virginia.
32. iv. SUSANNA LAKE/LEAKE, b. November 15, 1790, Fauquier Co., Virginia; d. December 22, 1835, Fauquier County, Virginia (buried Rockburn Farm).
33. v. ELIAS LAKE/LEAKE, b. March 14, 1791, Fauquier Co., Virginia (Never married); d. October 16, 1865, Fauquier County, Virginia.
34. vi. BAYLISS G. LAKE/LEAKE, b. November 01, 1795, Fauquier Co., Virginia; d. November 27, 1881, Sangamon, Illinois.
35. vii. MARY "POLLY" LAKE, b. September 20, 1798, Fauquier Co., Virginia (Loddin County?); d. April 01, 1840, Near Fancy Creek, Sangamon, Illinois.
36. viii. THOMAS LAKE, b. December 20, 1800, Fauquier Co., Virginia; d. April 30, 1853, Williamsville, Sangamon County, Illinois.
37. ix. FRENCH LAKE/LEAKE, b. June 22, 1807, Fauquier Co., Virginia; d. November 22, 1885, Spring Grove Township, Green County, Wisconsin.
38. x. JAMES BUSHROD LAKE JR., b. Abt. 1811, (family needs to be verified !!!!) yet (might be wrong one but it does fit right time period); d. July 30, 1884, Maryland.

Apparently there are at least 3 Downing
H. Glascocks.

The 1st is my ggg grandfather,
Downing Glascock b. 1775 in Fauquier
County, Virginia, son of John Glascock
Sr.. This is the Downing who married Susannah "Sukey" Strother. Apparently
his father, John Sr., moved from Fauquier County, VA to Adams County, Ohio (bordering Kentucky). John Sr. owned land in Kentucky. John Sr. died in Ohio and is presumed buried in Adams Co., Ohio. There was a lawsuit over the Kentucky land in the later 1800's and depositions were taken from relatives in Ralls County, Missouri.
Downing and Susannah Glascock moved to Ralls County, Missouri about the mid 1830's. Susannah died and is presumed buried in Ralls County, MO. I have been unable to locate Downing or Susannah's graves todate (still searching possibilities).
Downing remarried a Nancy Clalon.
He is shown in an 1850 Ralls County, MO
Census as living with his son, James S.
Glascock in Ralls County. This would be in the village of Centenary area.
I have located James S. Glascock's grave, along with his sister, Susannah (single) and his other sister, Charlotte Hickman and her husband and family in Ralls Co. It appears that most or all of Downing's children came to Ralls County, Missouri about the 1830's.

One of this Downing's sons, French Joseph Glascock b. 1818 had a son named, Downing H. born about 1842 in Missouri.

The other Downing H. Glascock is Downing H. "Howard" Glascock, Jr., son of Downing H. Glascock and Susannah "Sukey" Strother. Apparently, he identifies himself as "Howard" in a deed from 1841 (which state, unknown but most likely Ralls Co., Missouri). This must be your Downing H. b. ca. 1810.

Most of this information I obtained from both Glasscock books written by Lawrence A. Glassco. (posted here at other postings). Some from personal family knowledge. I don't have any other info on the Downing H. "Howard" Jr. that is presumably the one that you are looking for. He may have moved away as indicated in the marriage you show in your postings. If he came back to Ralls County, MO, you could possibly check with the Ralls County Clerk or Recorder of Deeds at the Ralls County Courthouse, 311 S. Main New London, MO 63459 . (area code (573) and prefix (985) . Their number is (573) 985 - 5631.

In the Glasscock books there is an address of a lady with more info on this family. Write to:

Sheryl Miller, 4203 Linwood Place,
Riverside, California 92506

that address is several years old so it maybe out of date.

That is all the information that appears in the Glasscock books by Rev. Glassco.

I am descended from John Glascock Sr. of Ohio to Downing H. & Susannah "Sukey" Glascock to James S. Glascock to James Henry Glascock to Samuel Downing Glascock to Mary E. McAfee (Glascock).

the factory attended in a body and the business of the city, at the request of the city council, was suspended for the day.

Mrs. James H. Hall was born in Virginia on March 17, 1815, and she was called to her eternal rest two years after her beloved husband.

Samuel M. Hall was reared in Maysville and received his preliminary education in the public schools of the place, subsequently matriculating at Williamsburg and at Transylvania University at Lexington. Even before his school days were finished, he knew the fatigue which comes from honest labor, for his Saturdays were spent in his father's factory, learning the minutiae of business, it being the father's idea that his sons should start at the bottom and, by their own efforts, work their way upward. He believed firmly in the beneficial effect of hard work in the moulding of character, and Samuel can remember many fine mornings when he arose at 4:00 a.m. and went to the shop to strike for his blacksmith. His sons all lived to thank their father for instilling the "work germ" so effectually and for affording them a practical knowledge of the business from the ground up.

The factory today (1911) and indeed, since Mr. Hall's death, is and has been conducted as if he were alive. The factory has continually been expanded and enlarged and there has never been any difficulty in creating a demand which more than equalled the output. The Hall Plow Company is especially distinguished for the fact that nothing but natural seasoned and hard-split plow beams are used in the manufacturing of their plows, a remarkable advantage. In the capacity of employers they have ever been distinctly successful, their fairness and justice being unrivaled, and in some instances the fifth generation of the same family is at work in their factories. Their wood foreman recently resigned and retired after 42 years of continuous service. Samuel M. Hall spent 12 years on the road as a traveling representative, and thus is acquainted with the business from the commercial side as well as from the manufacturers.

For a number of years, Samuel M. Hall was director of the State National Bank and has remained in the capacity of president since 1900. Like his father he is valuable to the municipality as a promoter of enterprises and, among other things, he assisted in establishing the Sphar Pressed Brick Company of Maysville, he being the largest stockholder of the concern.

On February 28, 1882, Samuel M. Hall laid the foundation of a household of his own by his marriage to Ms. Sallie Nesbitt, a native of Bath County, Kentucky, and a daughter of Hon. James M. and Mary Calk Nesbitt. Hon. Mr. Nesbitt was born in Bath County, Kentucky, on March 29, 1819, and died at Owingsville, Bath County. He was the only child of Hugh and Maria McAllister Nesbitt, the mother's birthplace being Richmond, Virginia, and the father's Tennessee.

Hugh Nesbitt came to Kentucky when a young man and pursued in Bath County the occupation of a saddler. His parents (Mrs. Hall's great-grandparents) were James and Sarah Logan Nesbitt, natives of Ireland, who early in life joined the tide of emigration to the newer and more resourceful America.

James Nesbitt was reared on the farm, attended the common schools of the neighborhood and, in 1837, received the appointment of deputy sheriff of his native county, which office he held until 1839. He then removed to Mt. Sterling, Montgomery County, Kentucky, and made a valiant attack upon Blackstone, under the captaincy of those able jurists, Judge French and Hon. B. J. Peters, the latter having served 16 years as one of the judges of the Kentucky court of appeals. In August of 1842, Mr. Nesbitt was admitted to the bar, immediately launched upon a successful career, and became one of Kentucky's foremost attorneys. He made a permanent location at Owingsville, Bath County, Kentucky, and served as county attorney under the old Constitution and for one term under the new. He was one of the youngest members of the Constitutional Convention of Kentucky, and for six years he served as commonwealth attorney. He was one of the commissioners who revised the statutes of Kentucky in 1873.

Having always been devoted to the cause of the Democratic Party, Mr. Nesbitt was nominated as one of the electors of the presidential race between Pierce and Scott and was put on the ticket for president of the board of internal improvements, which was headed by Burley L. Clark, candidate for governor.

On March 9, 1842, Mr. Nesbitt married Mary Calk, born in Montgomery County, and died July 30, 1887, a daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Keys) Calk, and a descendant of William Calk, who located at Boonesboro in 1795 and later removed to Montgomery County, where he entered a large tract of land. He was a surgeon by profession. To Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt were born nine children, five of whom are living at the present (1911) day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall have three daughters, Mary B., Sallie Milton and Ruth Nesbitt, all of whom are at home. The Hall residence is one of Maysville's charming homes and the center of a gracious hospitality.

Kincheloe

Allen Morris Kincheloe, M. D., one of the most active and prominent physicians of Hardinsburg, Breckinridge County, Kentucky, has been a lifelong resident of this city, his birth occurring here on January 17, 1848. His father, the late Hon. Jesse W. Kincheloe, was born in Hardinsburg, Kentucky, on December 22, 1805, of pioneer ancestry, and his grandfather, William Kincheloe, was among the earlier settlers of Kentucky.

Born in Virginia on May 26, 1736, William Kincheloe spent the early part of his life there. Enlisting as a soldier during the Revolutionary War, he was appointed lieutenant of his company on November 5, 1776, and, in March of 1777, he received his commission. He was loyal to his country and served through two enlistments. In 1780, during the Revolutionary War, he came to Kentucky for the first time, landing at the Falls of Ohio, from there pushing his way on to Nelson County, where, on Simpson Creek, he erected Kincheloe Station, a number of whose inmates were afterward massacred by the Indians. He died in Nelson County, Kentucky, in 1797, and his ashes now repose in the family burying ground at Chaplin, in that county. He married Molly White, and five of their stalwart sons served as soldiers in the War of 1812.

Born in Virginia on October 8, 1761, Thomas Kincheloe was but a boy when he joined the patriot ranks and assisted the colonists in their struggle for independence. He served likewise in the War of 1812, being at the forefront at the River Raisin, and at the engagement on the banks of the Thames River. One of the very early settlers of Hardinsburg, Breckinridge County, he was the pioneer hotelkeeper of this part of the state, keeping a public house several years and here residing until his death, in 1845, at the age of 84. The maiden name of his wife was Nancy Edwards. She was born on April 18, 1779, in Virginia, a daughter of Philip and Nelly Williams Edwards, and died in June of 1869. She succeeded to her husband's pension, being one of the last Revolutionary War pensioners.

Hon. Jesse W. Kincheloe determined, when a youth, to prepare himself for the legal profession, and with this end in view he studied law with Joseph Allen. Being admitted to the bar, he began practicing law in Hardinsburg, and showed such marked ability that in 1851 he was elected circuit judge, succeeding Judge Calhoun, the district over which he had jurisdiction embracing 10 counties. As a judge he displayed great knowledge of the technicalities of the law, making his mark in the legal world. At a meeting held after his death, Col. Alfred Allen said that in the noted "Matt Ward case" Judge Kincheloe admitted evidence that had previously been excluded in all other courts. His ruling was sustained in the higher courts, and the admittance of such evidence has now become statutory law. With the exception of his term of service on the bench, he was actively engaged in the practice of law until his death, August 10, 1887, at the age of 82 years.

Judge Jesse W. Kincheloe married first Clara Reno, a daughter of Lewis Reno. She died in 1842, leaving four children, Sally A., Mary E., Hannah T., and Clara C. He married second Catharine Columbus Morris, who was born July 17, 1813, in Winchester, Clark County, Kentucky, a daughter of Jonathan and Catharine (Skillman) Morris. She passed to the higher life on February 27, 1900, leaving five children, namely: Marcus L., Adaline M., Allen Morris, Catharine G., and Ellen S.

Concluding his studies in the public schools, Allen Morris Kincheloe taught school one term. Then, after reading medicine under the preceptorship of Dr. John W. Moorman for a time, he went to Louisville, where he entered the Kentucky School of Medicine, from which he graduated with the Class of 1870. He immediately began the practice of his profession in Hardinsburg, where he has since continued, his 40 years of residence and active practice in this city bearing visible evidence of the trust and confidence placed by the people in his skill and ability as a physician, and of the respect and esteem in which he is held as a man and a citizen.

He has been twice married, first on November 13, 1872, to Nannie J. Stith. She was born in Perry County, Indiana, a daughter of William B. and Eliza (Harl) Stith, natives of Hardin County, Kentucky, and died April 2, 1894. Dr. Kincheloe married second, July 29, 1895, Elizabeth C. Smith, a native of Hardinsburg. Her father, Robert Smith, a native of Hardinsburg. Her father, Robert Smith, was born at Axtel, Breckinridge County, Kentucky, while his father, Thornton Smith, was born in Virginia, on or near the site of the Bull Run Battlefield. On coming to Kentucky Thornton Smith settled at Axtel, where he followed the trade of a blacksmith and wagon maker, and where both he and his good wife, whose maiden name was Theresa Rogers, spent the later years of their lives. Learning the trade of a blacksmith under his father's instruction, Robert Smith followed it in Axtel for many years, and is now (1911) a resident of Hardinsburg. He married Mariam Colgan, who was born in Louisville, Kentucky, a daughter of William and Elizabeth (Christopher) Colgan. Her paternal grandmother was Susan (Gooch) Colgan, while her maternal grandparents were Ebenezer and Polly (Sturgis) Christopher. Mrs. Kincheloe's mother died in 1881, leaving five children: Elizabeth C., Florence, deceased; Margaret; Frances; and Mary.

By his first marriage Dr. Kincheloe had eight children: Ammon M., James, John E., Lewis H., Franklin S., Allen L., Nancy, and Della. By his second union he has three children, Morris C., Miriam, and Catharine.

Ammon M. Kincheloe, the eldest son, now engaged in the furniture business at Walla Walla, Washington, married Mary Henderson, and they are the parents of five children. Ray, W. Lewis, Clara, Conley, and Elizabeth.

James Kincheloe, a furniture dealer in Los Angeles, California, married Jackie Owen, and they have two children, William and James.

John E. Kincheloe, the doctor's third son, began the study of medicine with his father, was graduated from the Kentucky School of Medicine with the Class of 1899, after which he continued his studies for two years, taking an advanced course in surgery with Dr. Ap Morgan Vance, and as an intern at Saint Joseph's Hospital, in Louisville, Jefferson County, Kentucky. Returning then to Hardinsburg Dr. John E. Kincheloe has since been associated with his father as a physician and surgeon. He married Margaret Moorman, and they have two children, Robert Wickliffe and Nancy Edwards.

Lewis H., employed in Louisville, was in the Spanish-American War and was with the First Kentucky Regiment in Puerto Rico.

Franklin S. Kincheloe is a druggist in Hardinsburg.

Allen L. Kincheloe began the study of medicine with his father and is now attending the University of Kentucky, belonging to the class of 1911.

Politically, Dr. Kincheloe is a staunch Republican and cast his first presidential vote for Gen. U. S. Grant. Religiously he is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Mrs. Kincheloe belongs to the Christian Church.

GLASSCOCK, THOMAS

Thomas Glasscock and Jean/Jane Jett/Joust were married in London, England in 1634. They sailed from England and arrived in Virginia around 1640. The family not only paid for their passage and brought livestock, they also paid for the passage of four others. The family settled on the Morticco Creek of the Rappahannock River which empties into the Chesapeake Bay. Thomas and Jean/Jane have three sons, Thomas Jr., Gregory and John. Thomas Glasscock died in 1667 and Gregory inherited most of the property.

Thomas' son, Gregory, married Mary (Barber?) and they had three children, Thomas and twin daughters Anne and Mary.

Thomas Glasscock, grandson of the first Thomas, was born before 1671 and married Sarah Stone, daughter of William Stone in 1698. Thomas was a well to do land owner in the Chesapeake Bay area. He built the 'ancestral home' Indian Banks, which is still standing and is on the National Historic Register. Thomas and Sarah had seven children, John (b.1-14-98), Gregory (b. 3-10-1699), Frances Milner, Elizabeth (b.4-20-1703), Thomas (b. 4-12-1705), Sarah Hightower (b. around 1707), Peter (b. 3-13-1713).

In the fall of 1723, in a disagreement with William Forrester over a survey, Thomas Glasscock kills Forrester. Two of Thomas' sons, Gregory and Thomas, help their father escape. Thomas is charged with murder and the two sons are charged as accessories. Thomas is ever captured and is tried in absentia. The two sons are acquitted. The 1023 acres owned by Thomas Glasscock are confiscated and sold at auction. Robert Carter buys "Indian Banks" and most of the land. The family moves inward and south to Warrenton, Virginia.

Peter Glasscock, son of Thomas and Sarah Glasscock married twice, the first marriage to Jane (?), to this union were born John (b. 1736), Gregory (b. 1738), James (b. 1741), Peter (b. 1744), Sarah (b. 1746), Jesse (b. 1748), Jane Grace (b.1750), Frances (b.1751), and Elizabeth (b. 1754). After the death of his first wife, Peter moves to the Yadkin Valley, Rowan County, North Carolina. There he was a neighbor to Squire Boone, Daniel's father. In 1760, Peter married Jane Rector and had the following children: Spencer (b. 1761), Charles (b. 1765), Moses (b. 1766), William (b.1768), Wharton (b.1770), Margaret (b. 1774), and Elijah (b. 1777).

Wharton marries Nancy Chaffin, daughter of Stanley Chaffin. Around 1798, they move to then Washington County, Kentucky. To this union was born the following children: Elijah (b. 1799), Keziah Milburn (B. 1804), Lucinda Skinner (b. 1807), Polly Webb, Elizabeth McKinley, Mary C. (b.4-22-1816), and Chaffin (b.2-10-1811). Wharton lived to be over 80 years old and his wife lived to be over 70. When the records were burned, all deeds and accounts of land that he owned were destroyed. However, subsequent deeds made by the family indicate the family lived in the Beech Ford area. Many of the Glasscocks in Marion and Boyle Counties today can trace their family line back to him.

Glasscock Reunion

Reminiscing Scotland Heritage

When the Glasscock clan has a family reunion there's more than fried chicken, potato salad and reminiscing.

The group, over 70 strong, captures a part of their heritage. The annual reunion held last week in Davie County is based on the traditions of ancestors originating from the lowlands of Scotland.

Approximately 85 descendants of Thomas Napoleon Bonapart Glasscock (1818-1981) gathered at the Center Community Building Sunday to share in the occasion.

There was plenty of good food and conversation, but there was also the unusual. Clan members participated in the loch jump...caber toss...and the Prince and Princess Greenhills contest...all totally Scottish traditions. Also, many wore the traditional green, blue and red plaids of Scotland.

Chip Essic, member of the Glasscock Clan, explained that the reunion helps to preserve the history of their ancestors. There is a very indepth record book, containing the happenings of each reunion held over the past 22 years. Deaths and births are recorded at each clan gathering along with written memoirs and remembrances of some of the older clansmen.

A history of the Glasscock family is also contained in the book. It traces the family to 1683 as descendants of Thomas and Jane Glasscock of Scotland. Thomas Glasscock came to America in 1643 settling in the tidewater section of Virginia. Several generations are traced leading to Peter Glasscock of Davie County, father of Thomas Napoleon Bonapart Glasscock (1818-1901). His descendants comprise the current Glasscock clan. James Lafayette Glasscock (1848-1937), son of Thomas Napoleon Glasscock, spent his life in Davie County

Erin Glasscock...5th generation.

residing in the James area. He was married to Nannie Kuitrees who bore him six children. Their children are the late Mary Cornelia Miss Nelia of the Center Community, Fannie Jane, Nellie Marshall, James G., Thomas and Marshall E. The youngest, Marshall, is the oldest surviving member of the Glasscock clan at 85 years old. He resides at Route 1, Mocksville.

The clan has grown to include not only the Glasscock name, but the names of Hepler, Anderson, Forrest, Essic, Jones and others. Keeping up with the tradition of southern Scotland, family members are asked to prepare food common to the area of their ancestors. Women up to 35 years in age bring a dish containing fish. Women over 35 years bring dishes based on whole grain foods such as oats and barley. These were the main products of Southern Scotland when ancestors migrated to America.

Most of the recipes have been altered to meet more modern tastes, but there were many delicate fish and grain dishes at Sunday's gathering. Last year's favorite was a Triple O casserole comprised of oatmeal, onions and okra.

Following the meal, clan members enjoyed many Scottish games. Included are the Caber toss, in which a 50-pound log is balanced and thrown for distance; the loch jump, better known as the broad jump; and the hammer toss, where a hammer is thrown for distance.

Most members agree that these games are more prevalent to Northern Scotland, but add interest and fun to the gathering. Silver dollars are awarded to winners in each division.

Members of the Glasscock family feel that keeping alive their Scottish traditions and backgrounds will preserve its history with future generations to come. It isn't just a family reunion...it's a look at the past.

JAMES G. GLASCOCK

James Grover Glascock of Mocksville, Rt. 1, a retired farmer, died January 1st at Davie County Hospital after a short illness. He was 83 and had been in bad health for about a year.

He was a member of Ijames Crossroad Baptist Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Catherine G. Baker of Mocksville, Rt. 6; a son, Raleigh Glascock; two sisters, Mrs. Nellie G. Anderson and Mrs. Fatie Owings and a brother, Marshall Glascock, all of Mocksville, Rt. 1.

The funeral was held Friday at Ijames Crossroad Baptist Church.

Mrs. James Glasscock.

Mrs. James L. Glasscock, 85, well-known and highly esteemed woman, died suddenly at her home near Ijames X Roads, on Monday night, Dec. 23rd.

Funeral services were held on Christmas day at the home, with W. F. Stonestreet in charge, and the body laid to rest in Center Methodist Church cemetery.

Mrs. Glasscock is survived by two sons and three daughters, all of Davie county, viz: Mrs. J. G. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Owings, Mrs. W. H. Barneycastle, J. B. and M. E. Glasscock.

Mrs. Glasscock had many friends throughout the community in which she lived, who were saddened by her death. She was the widow of the late James Glasscock, Davie county Confederate soldier.

Dear Mrs. Aycock:

Miss Flossie Martin received your letter of February 25, 1985. We have not had much time to do research and are sorry we could not answer your letter sooner.

We have one of the books by Rev. Glasco, so we did not use that since you have it already. One clipping in our files about a 1981 Glascock Reunion in Davie County tells something of the Scottish heritage, but not enough. We do not find other Scottish reference in the small amount of material we have, with the exception of one reference in Tepper's Volume II, and we are not very sure of that. Enclosed is a sheet from the first (1790) census showing Peter Glascock in what is now Davie County. You may have all of this already.

We regret that we cannot make the Scottish connection you need for your files.

Very truly yours,

Feb. 25, 1985

Dear Miss Flossie Martin,

I am writing you asking for information about the Glascock Clan. Since our little town of Shellman is now the Scottish American Heritage Center for Ga. and many have joined in the group, as Shellman was more or less founded by Scots.

I was before marriage Rubie Glascock of North Alabama, and I have much genealogy of the family, also the two books written by Rev. Glasco. Most of our info. refers back to England, so how do we connect with Scotland?

Where in Scotland did Thomas and Jane come from. town or section?
What was the name of the ship they came over on? What year etc?
Quite a number of our families have worked for years and we all came up with much of the same information as Rev. Glasco, some have visited with me from Texas and California, while doing research.

If you have this information
 please let me know, also the cost of whatever research you have that we do not have.

I am -

Sincerely

RE: Glasscock photograph in April 12, 1990 edition of the Davie County Enterprise Record

I think the people in the picture (left to right) are:

Cornelia Elizabeth Glasscock (Aunt Kay)
Janie Glasscock (Aunt Jane)
Emma Glasscock Brown (Aunt Emmy)
James H. Brown (Uncle Jim)

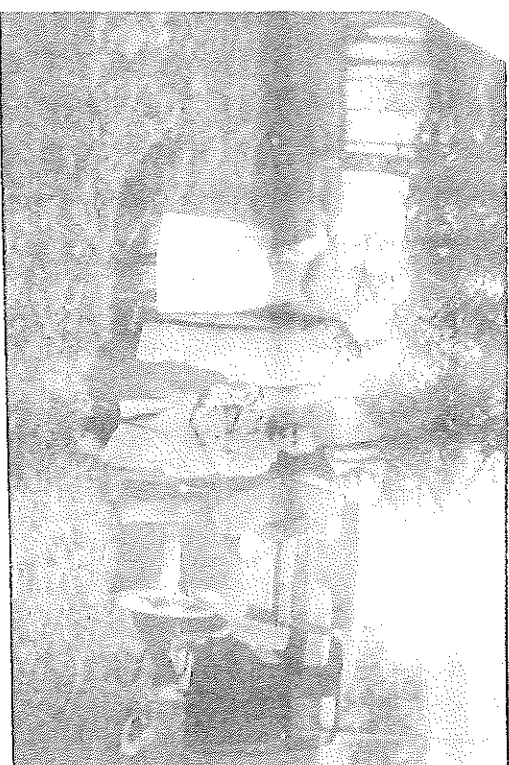

The three women were sisters of my grandfather, James Lafayette Glasscock.
Their parents were Thomas Napoleon Bonapart Glasscock (1818-1901) and Mary Ellen Anderson Glasscock (1824-1905).

I can't identify the baby, but it is most likely the grandson of Uncle "Jim" and Aunt "Emmy" Brown. The people pictured are deceased (with the exception, perhaps, of the infant) and buried in the Union Chapel Methodist Church Cemetery, Davie County.

the whites to act with the Indians in negotiating terms of peace. The Indians, persuading them to go to a certain deep ravine, there massacred them.

As previously noted Colonel Glasscock came to Texas in 1834, locating in Zavalla, in the munisipility of Jasper, where he formed a partnership alliance with Thomas B. Huling and Henry Millard to engage in the merchandise _____ and to deal in land certificates. Colonel Glasscock was a surveyor by vocation and during the 7 years, from 1838 to 1845, he surveyed more than two hundred thousand acres of land in the countties of Hayes, Travis, Williamson, Burnett, Lampass, Bell, Milam and Lee. Prior to 1838 he was engaged chiefly in helping to settle the dispute between Texas and Mexico, this resulting in the birth of the Republic of Texas. He joined the army of independence in 1835 and aided in the storming and recapture of the Alamo, Dec. 10th and 11th of that year. In that engagement he stood within 10 feet of Colonel Ben Milam when that noted soldier was shot and killed on the banks of the San Antonio river. Colonel Glasscock was first lieutenant in Captain Chesshire's Co. from Jasper, which command had participated in the celebrated "grass fights" in the previous October, besides which it also took part in several Indian fights.

In 1842 an expedition was sent against the Mexicans, called the "Mier expedition," in which Colonel Glasscock's brother James was taken prisoner, with others of the command. They were confined in Castle Perote and after 2 years' retention the Mexicans decided to destroy ^{1/10} [1/2] of the prisoners, the unique method of picking the fatal ones being as follows: An equal number of black and white beans were placed in a pouch, from which each prisoner was to draw one bean,

JUDGE GEORGE W. GLASSCOCK

Judge George W. Glasscock is a son of the father of the village of Georgetown, Colonel George W. Glasscock, Sr., whose life work was intimately connected with the early history-making period of Texas and who served her with distinction as a public man and as a private citizen, in recognition of which service the legislature of the state honored him by naming a county of her vast domain Glasscock County.

The state of Kentucky gave birth to this pioneer patriot in the year 1810, and the early death of his parents somewhat curtailed his educational training. His father was Thomas Glasscock and his mother was ^{Jane} ~~Elizabeth~~ ^{nee Milligan} Glasscock and he was one of seven children, namely: George W., Joseph, James, Gregory, Elizabeth Ellis, Sarah Ward and Melvina. Colonel George W. Glasscock and Abraham Lincoln were school-boys together in Hardin county, this state. Lincoln was one year older than Colonel and both boys lost their fathers at an early age, the father of the former having died when he was a lad of thirteen years of age and the father of the latter having passed away when he was twelve years of age. In the early '30s George W. and his brother Gregory went to Illinois and at Springfield, that state, they renewed their acquaintanceship with Lincoln, and George W. formed a partnership with Lincoln to cut wood and rails, shipping the same down the Sangamon and Illinois rivers to market. After dissolving this partnership Lincoln remained in Illinois and the Colonel went to Jefferson City, Mo., whence he later removed to Texas about 1834. These two men were comrades in the Black Hawk war, Lincoln having been transferred to the company in which his friend Glasscock was lieutenant. In that war Gregory Glasscock likewise participated and in the same was treacherously killed. With four companions he was appointed by it having been previously agreed that the white ones should mean liberty and the black ones death. James Glasscock being fortunate enough to draw one of the former escaped with his life. He subsequently went to California during the exciting days of '49, and there his death accured about the time of the inception of the Civil War.

Colonel George W. Glasscock, after the war for Texas independence was ended, carried on the work of surveying, as above stated, and devoted himself to the material success of the firm of Thomas B. Huling & Co., at Zavalla, of which mention has been made. In 1840 he removed to Bastrop County, where he engaged in agricultural pursuits and where he resided until 1844, in which year he established his home in Travis county, again directing his energies to farming. In 1838 he located his league of land in Williamson county, settling near the site of the present county seat of Georgetown some ten years later and opening a farm on the San Gabriel river. He built the first combined saw and grist-mill in this locality, in the year 1850, and donated to Williamson county 172 acres of land for the original townsite of Georgetown, which took his Christian name as part of its own. In 1853 he removed to Travis county, where he was summoned to rest in 1868.

Colonel Glasscock's wife was Cynthia C. Knight, born and reared in Tennessee and died in Austin, Texas in 1866.

Colonel Glasscock's children: Mrs. E. J. Talbott, Georgetown, Tex.; Mrs. Margaret C. Boatner, Palestine, Tex.; George W. Glasscock, Georgetown, Tex.; Albert Glasscock, Bell County; Andrew J. Glasscock, _____; Mrs. Sarah J. Hall, Hardin County, Tex.; Mrs. Annie E. Hall, _____.

John,

I've found information on most of the Glascock's who lived in Ralls County and all are related if one goes back far enough.

Noah, Asa, and Stephen Glascock were among the first Glascock's to settle in Ralls County. Noah and Asa were second cousins.

Stephen and Asa were cousins and brothers-in-law. Noah was a son of Traverse and Dinah Bowles. I am descended from Asa.

According to the 1900 Missouri census there were more than 200 individuals with the last name of Glascock living in NE Missouri. All seem to be related.

Mike

IN MEMORIA

Died in Travis County, on the 28th day of February, A. D. 1868, George W. Glasscock.

The announcement of no death since the close of the war has occasioned so much regret as was pictured upon the countenances of all when they heard that "Uncle George" was mortally injured.

He was born in Kentucky, on the 11th day of April, A.D. 1810, and in that State were spent his boyhood days. In 1830, seized with the adventurous spirit common to the youth of the day, and enchanted by the glowing description given of the magnificent West, he left the paternal roof and journeyed to the then small town of St. Louis, Missouri. Two years after, we find him in Springfield, Illinois, a merchant, doing a large and extensive business. Not long was he left to the pursuits of private life. Soon the "tocsin of war" sounded. The Indian was on the war-path. Black Hawk must be met. A call to volunteers rang throughout the West. Young Glasscock, forgetful as he was of himself when public duty called, was among the first to place himself in line, and was elected 1st Lieutenant in Capt. J. M. Early's Company, and did his duty as a man throughout that short but trying and wearisome campaign. The time he thus lost was fatal to his business as a merchant. Next we find him "flat-boating in partnership with Abraham Lincoln, on the Sangamon and Illinois Rivers. Not finding the pursuit congenial to his taste, he abandoned it, and returned to his Uncle near St. Louis, Missouri, where he remained until tidings of the chivalrous deeds of daring going on in the bright land of the South-West started him on a new field of adventure. We next hear of him in 1834, at ^Zavalla, in the municipality of Jasper, again following the occupation of merchant, in the partnership of T. B. Huling and Henry Millard. It was here, in 1837, that he married Miss Cynthia C. Knight, a lady well calculated to win the love of a lofty and generous soul.

In the later part of 1836, his firm was devoted intensely to the land locating business, and Glasscock was the surveyor. It was in this capacity that he first became acquainted with Western Texas. Again and again did he traverse the then wild but beautiful and flower-bedecked prairies of the counties of Travis, Williamson, Burnet, Lampasas, and Milam, and many of the hardy frontiersmen, with whom he then explored these counties, have gone, long since, before him to that land unexplored by mortals. Once, by a fortunate division of his party, while surveying in Williamson County, he and those with him escaped the torturing death of the Indians, while those of the other party were heard of in life no more. While the Independence of Texas was quivering in the balance, and Aztec hordes pressed forward to tear down the young flag of liberty that proudly flaunted in the breeze, and cries were made for help, all the martial enthusiasm of the young surveyor was aroused; the compass and surveying chain were thrown aside for the musket and sabre. How he did his duty as a soldier, the survivors of Grass Fight and the captures^r_^ of the Alamo can best tell.

When Santa Ana was a captive - when the "tri-colored flag of Mexico" was pushed beyond the Rio Grande, and the clouds of war were breaking before the advance of the sun of peace, then did the soldier rest and return to the bosom of his family in Jasper, and those of us who have known him longest miss, and will always miss, his presence from our mystic circle; and as we cast our eyes around us, while we notice the absence of many with whom we have been associated in former years, the remembrance of no one will call with a deeper sigh than we heave as we mark the vacant seat of him whose loss we now deplore.

And the suddenness of his departure from among us increase the force of the blow under which we bend in unavailing sorrow. One day we saw him among us, living, strong, active, full of energy and vitality; and though slightly past the prime of life, with the apparent prospect of many years of active life and prolonged usefulness; the next, our hearts are chilled with the sad news that he is done with us and life and time, and that we shall no more see and associate with him till the Great Author of life shall call us all from the grave. So sudden, so stunning the event, that we can hardly yet realize its actual truth.

And if such to us, what must this event be to those, his nearest and dearest on earth? We would not invade the privacy of the grief of that bereaved family; but as men, as masons, we will remember that the death of our brother has left a family of orphans to whom all our sympathies are justly due.

We therefore submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of our lamented brother, George W. Glasscock, we feel that we have sustained a loss not easily repaired; and while we bow in humble submission to that Overruling Providence, more wise than we, we cannot but give way to the grief so great a misfortune calculate to produce.

Resolved, That while we forget the frailties of our departed brother, to which all are liable, we will cultivate the recollection of his many virtues, and emulate his example in all that was good and excellent in his character.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family of our deceased brother, and will never forget the ties by which they are united to us, nor the obligations upon us to befriend them under all circumstances.

Resolved, That a copy of this report and Resolutions be furnished by the Secretary to the family of the deceased.

George W. G. Browne,

M. H. Bowers,

Ed Finnin.

Report received and ordered to be spread on the Minutes, 7th March, 1868, A. D. 5868

Swante Palm,

Secretary.

REVERSE SIDE OF NUMBER

George Washington Glasscock 1st and his wife Cynthia C. Knight had the following children, all born in Texas:

1. Josephine Glasscock - b. Mar. 25, 1838, in Jasper County, d. June 10, 1839.
2. Eliza A. Glasscock - b. Aug. 4, 1839, in Jasper County, d. May 1, 1841.
3. Elizabeth Jane Glasscock - b. October 3, 1841, in Bastrop County, d. Mar. 1, 1917, at Georgetown and is buried there. Her first marriage was to Alonzo T. Logan in Hays County. Children of this marriage were sons Thaddeus and Jefferson both of whom left descendants. Elizabeth Jane married Logan June 28, 1857, and divorced him in Travis County June 6, 1873. Her second marriage was to Sampson G. Talbot at Austin Sept. 11, 1876. Only children by Talbot were twin sons, Lee and Terrell, who died as infants. Apparently the second marriage was short lived. During 1875 to 1878 Elizabeth Jane lived at times in Kentucky, California and Oregon; otherwise, she lived in Texas.
4. Margaret C. (Mug) Glasscock - b. June 3, 1843, in Bastrop County, d. Oct. 29, 1931 in Palestine, buried in Glasscock family plot in Oakwood Cemetery at Austin. Her first marriage was to Richard Milton Davis at Austin on May 8, 1861. She lived with Davis about two years. One child, a daughter Catherine is known to have been born of this marriage. Catherine died Sept. 13, 1867, at Navasota, Texas, of yellow fever and was buried in the Glasscock family plot in Oakwood Cemetery at Austin. Margaret's second marriage was to Micajah S. Boatner at Austin Oct. 16, 1866. She had one child by Boatner, Edward M., who had one child, a daughter Eddie Mae. Margaret divorced Boatner in Robertson County July 3, 1875.
5. George Washington Glasscock, Jr. - b. Jan. 10, 1846, in Travis County, d. May 30, 1911 at Georgetown and is buried there. He married Jane Helen Boatner Mar. 19, 1865, at Tennessee Colony in Anderson County. They had no children. George W. Jr. was in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. He lived at Austin, Navasota and Georgetown. He was a lawyer and was State Senator at one time.
6. Albert Horton Glasscock - b. Dec. 15, 1847, in Travis County, d. July 27, 1920, at Abilene and is buried there. He married Rebecca Jane Northington Dec. 16, 1872, at Georgetown. Rebecca Jane was the daughter of Marshall Washington Northington and Jane M. Chism. She died Jan. 1, 1916, at Abilene and is buried there. This couple had seven children: Elizabeth Jane, George Washington, 3rd, John Albert Northington, Mary, Earl Horton and Thomas. Only the first three children left descendants. (The writer's wife is a granddaughter of Albert Horton).
7. Andrew J. Glasscock - b. Aug. 8, 1851, in Williamson County, d. Jan. 28, 1886, at Georgetown and is buried there. He married Esth L. Lemond Sept. 3, 1874, at Georgetown. Two daughters, Annie and Virginia, were born of this marriage. Virginia died less than a month after her father's death. Annie married Dillard E. Shofner at Georgetown Feb. 3, 1894. Andrew's widow married Geo. L. Hollabaugh at Georgetown Jan. 30, 1887. When the estate of Andrew's father was divided in 1870, Andrew received the family home at 1400 West Ave.

Austin, as part of his inheritance. Andrew sold this place to his brother George in 1873 for $17,000.00. George in turn traded it to D. M. Wilson for a farm on Colorado River 5 miles from Austin on April 15, 1886.

8. Sarah J. (Sallie) Glasscock - b. Mar. 25, 1855, in Travis County, date and place of death unknown. She was known to have been alive as late as about 1920. First marriage was to Phidella W. Hall at Calvert, Texas, on Mar. 27, 1873. Hall was about twice Sallie's age. Hall came to Texas after the Civil War having been a First Lieut. in Co. L, 11th Regt. Ky. Calv., Union Army. Hall had a number of political positions during reconstruction days, one of them being State Senator from Robertson County. Hall and Sallie had four children: Phidella W. Jr., George G., Charles O., and Maggie E. Hall had two sons by a former marriage, William and Jesse N. P. W. Hall, Sr. died in April 1888 at Cottonwood in Callahan County. Sallie then married David P. Rawlings of Cottonwood. They had no children. Sallie and David moved to Bandera County to a place very near Utopia which is in Uvalde County, in 1897 or 1898. They lived there several years at which time they separated. Sallie is shown as living at Louise, Wharton County, in Feb. 1905. She signs deed selling property in Bandera County in the Indian Territory in June 1905. She is shown as living in Hardin County in 1911 and after that she is said to have lived in Seadrift, Calhoun County. During 1870-72 Sallie attended school at the Ursuline Convent, San Antonio.
9. Anna Eliza (Annie) Glasscock - b. Nov. 26, 1856, in Travis County, date and place of death unknown. Annie is known to have been alive and in Texas about 1915. Nothing known of her after that date. Annie's first marriage was to Francis M. Hall Mar. 27, 1873, at Calvert, Texas, (Same date her sister Sallie married P.W. Hall). Hall was sheriff of Robertson County. This was during the reconstruction era and it is probable that Francis M. Hall was related to Phidella W. Hall and may also have been from the North. Francis M. Hall died in Robertson County in early 1876. Annie's second marriage was to William Crawford Allen at Austin Nov. 16, 1876. They had one child, William Crawford Allen, Jr. who died at Hearne Mar. 1, 1945, leaving no descendants except two adopted children. W. C. Allen divorced Annie at Austin Mar. 30, 1889; Annie was then living at Cincinnati, Ohio. Annie later married a Mr. Nichols and lived at Loeta Landing, Washington County, Miss., at one time prior to 1910. Annie also attended school at Ursuline Convent at San Antonio during 1870-72.
10. John Thomas Glasscock - b. Aug. 29, 1857, in Travis County, d. Sept. 23, 1857.

Joseph Milligan Glasscock (brother of George W. Glasscock 1st) - Records in the Ellis Bible spell the middle name as "Millican" but no doubt ^{Milligan} ~~Milligan~~ was the spelling used earlier and it was changed to "Millican" by the one recording the data in the Bible in the later years. One entry in the Ellis Bible shows Joseph Millican born Jan.
1799. Another entry shows Joseph Millican Glasscock born 1799 in Hardin Co., Kentucky. (See earlier discussion concerning the reliability of this date). Another entry which seems correct is this: "Joseph M.
Glasscock was married to Agnes Priscilla Epperson at Springfield, Ill.,
January 26th, 1832." An entry in the Ellis Bible shows that Joseph M.
Glasscock died in January 1839. A written statement left by his daughter Lucy Ann stated that he died July 22, 1839, in Liberty County, now a part of Polk County. (The fact that Jane Milligan Glasscock named her oldest son Joseph Milligan strongly points up the probability that Jane was the daughter of Joseph Milligan whose will was probated in Nelson County, Ky., May 9, 1836. The terms of this will are not yet available to this writer). *See mss of later date
by same author*

Joseph M. Glasscock received a Second Class Headright Land Grant for 1,240 acres from the Board of Land Commissioners of Jasper County, Texas, June 6, 1838. The class and size of this grant shows that Joseph came to Texas between Mar. 2, 1836, and Oct. 1, 1837. Joseph shows in the tax rolls of Jasper County in 1838 which is also the first year his brother George shows in the tax rolls of that county. However, if Joseph had come to Texas in 1835 with George he would have been entitled to a First Class Headright Land Grant of one league and one labor of land (4,605 acres) rather than the 1,240 acres he got. Joseph's land grant was patented in Williamson County.

An examination of Milam Land District File No. 48 in the State General Land Office at Austin shows that when Joseph M. Glasscock received the Second Class Headright Land Grant for 1,240 acres referred to in the preceeding paragraph, he "proved according to law that he arrived in this Republic subsequent to the Declaration of Independence". This proves that Joseph M. arrived in Texas after March 2, 1836, and also that the note in the Ellis Bible indicating that Joseph M. fought at the Siege of Bexar in 1835 is in error.

A letter from George W. to his brother Joseph M. previously quoted shows that Joseph was living at Zavala, Jasper County in June 1838.

Joseph Milligan Glasscock and Agnes Priscella Epperson had the following children:

1. Lucy Ann J. Glasscock - b. April 23, 1833, d. March 25, 1896. Lucy Ann's first marriage was to William Stamper whom she divorced in Williamson County June 3, 1854. Her second marriage was to Robert English Moore in Williamson County on Sept. 25, 1854. Moore is shown as "of Travis County". Several children were born of this marriage, one of the daughters marrying first a Francis and having a daughter, Daisy Lucy Francis, born May 4, 1874. Daisy Lucy Francis married L. D. Lewis. Lucy Ann's daughter who first married a Francis, later married a Murdock and became well known as Mrs. Moore Murdock. She died at San Antonio Sept. 24, 1932, and was buried at Llano. R. E. Moore was veteran of U. S. -Mexican War and of Civil War. Lucy Ann Glasscock and her second husband R. E. Moore are buried in marked graves at Llano, Texas.
2. Joseph Abner Glasscock - born in Illinois. The Ellis Bible shows that Joseph Abner was born Jan. 20, 1835, whereas the marker on his grave at Menard, Texas, shows that he was born Aug. 22, 1835 and died Oct. 5, 1917. As the entry in the Bible was clearly not an original entry, the date on the marker is considered correct. The 1850 census of Williamson County shows that Joseph Abner was living in the household of his uncle, George W. Glasscock, in that year. He married Eliza R. Bowmer in Williamson County Feb. 14, 1856. Eliza R. was born May 14, 1838, and died Mar. 12, 1907 and is buried at Menard. Joseph Abner lived at Austin, Georgetown and Burnet and moved to Menard in 1875. Joseph Abner Glasscock had these children: Sam, William, Andrew, Robert, Sonora, Percilla, Lucian, Katherine, Anne, Jim Brown, Moses Perry, Emmett Milligan and Edward.

3. Catherine B. Glasscock - b. March 23, 1837, d. 1885. The middle initial "B" is as given in the Ellis Bible. Records in Williamson County show the initial as "C". Catherine married John C. Camp in Williamson County December 27, 1855. This couple is said to have lived at Abilene and to have left descendants. Only one child can be named and that is Sarah B. Camp born Nov. 17, 1856.

A record was found where Lucy Ann Glasscock Moore and her husband R. E. Moore in June 1885 gave Power of Attorney to A. G. Walker at Lampasas, Texas, to sue for recovery of property once belonging to Joseph M. Glasscock in Macon County, Ill. This indicates that Joseph M. once lived in Macon County. Macon County is just East of Sangamon County. Springfield is county seat of Sangamon.

A letter was found dated June 12, 1853, at Hights Town, Mercer County, N. J., written by Lucien Britton to "My Dear Sister" Mrs. Agnes P. Britton which shows that the widow of Joseph M. Glasscock had married Alfred Britton, brother of Lucien, and that Alfred had died May 20, 1853, as a result of accident. Letter shows that three children, Sarah, Lucien and Agness Britton were born to this marriage. The Ellis Bible shows names and birth dates as follows: Sarah Dorinda Britton born 1847, Lucien Britton born 1849, and Agnes Pricella Britton born 1850. This Bible also shows that Sarah D. Britton married David Standifer March 15, 1864. Marriage records in Williamson County, Texas, show that Mrs. Agnes P. Britton married Jeptha Billingsley on Aug. 11, 1856, and that Miss Agness Britton married J. P. Wilson Oct. 26, 1869. Records in the Ellis Bible show that Agnes Priscilla Epperson was born April 15, 1813, near Owensburg, Ky., Davies County, and died as Agnes Priscilla Billingsley on Nov. 16, 1880. She is buried at Smithwick Mill in Burnet County.

The probate records in Williamson County on the estate of Joseph M. Glasscock are voluminous and cover the period 1848 to 1856.

George W. Glasscock was made administrator of the estate in Nov. 1848. On Nov, 30, 1852, the record names the following heirs: Agnes P. Eritton surviving wife of Joseph M. Glasscock, and children Lucy Ann Stamper, Joseph Glasscock and Catherine Glasscock all of whom were residing in Williamson County. On June 27, 1853, George W. Glasscock was made guardian of minor heirs of Joseph M., namely Joseph A., and Catherine.

Elizabeth Glasscock (sister of G. W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows that Elizabeth was born in 1801 (questionable) and that she married William Ward in 1833. Nothing else known.

Sarah Jane Glasscock (sister of George W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows that Sarah Jane was born in 1804 (questionable) and that she married Nathaniel J. Cross in 1831. Nothing else known.

Gregory Glasscock (brother of G. W. Glasscock 1st). --- The Ellis Bible shows that Gregory was born in 1812 and died in 1832. He was killed in the Black Hawk War.

Ann Mariah Glasscock (sister of G. W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows that Ann Mariah was born Nov. 15, 1815, and died Jan. 16, 1834. Also that she married Abner Yates Ellis Jan. 26, 1832. Two children were born - Levina Jane Ellis b. Nov. 23, 1832 and d. Jan. 23, 1833, and Mary Ellen Ellis b. Nov. 24, 1833 and d. Dec. 26, 1833.

James Abner Glasscock (brother of G. W. Glasscock 1st). -- The Ellis Bible shows James Abner as born in 1816 and as having died in 1876. James Abner seems to have been enumerated twice in the 1850 census of Bexar County, Texas. In both places he is shown as a single man and a printer by occupation and is shown as 28 years old in one place and 30 years old in the other, neither age agreeing with that given in the Bible.

The date James Abner arrived in Texas is not known. There is no record that he received a land grant which could mean one of two things. One that he arrived in Texas after Jan. 1, 1842, and second that if he arrived in Texas prior to that date he was too young to receive a grant. The latter could have been the case if James Abner was born in 1822 as indicated in one census entry. It is known that James Abner was in Texas in 1842 as he joined the Mier Expedition late that year. He was taken prisoner with that group and was held prisoner in Mexico for nearly two years. He kept a diary during his imprisonment which is on file in the Texas State Archives.

The writer has copies of two letters written by James Abner Glasscock to his brother George W. Glasscock at Georgetown, Texas. In the first letter dated at Austin, Texas, Jan. 4, 1850, James tells his brother that he has quit the Gazette office and expects to start in a few days for El Paso in company with Maj. Neighbors, and from El Paso to work his way on to California. The Gazette was an Austin newspaper. The second letter was written from San Antonio on Feb. 10, 1850. James tells his brother that he arrived in San Antonio on Thursday last and had not decided whether to go on to California or to take an interest in a new paper that was to be started there soon. According to the census James was still in San Antonio in Oct. 1850 when the census was enumerated.

In The Annals of Travis County, Vol. 12, by Frank Brown, the author, Brown states that he together with Michael Cronican and James A. Glasscock went to San Antonio in 1848 to establish the Western Texian the first newspaper to be published in that town, and that about 1850 Glasscock went to California where he died. It is known that the Western Texian was a going concern in San Antonio for a period of time. However, Brown may be off in the dates given. Another source states that James Abner Glasscock died in California about the beginning of the Civil War. Possibly the date of 1876 given in the Ellis Bible as date of the death of James is more likely correct.

Melvina Glasscock (sister of G. W. Glasscock 1st). - The Ellis Bible shows that Melvina was born in 1818 and died in 1848. Nothing else known.

Conclusion

The father of George Washington Glasscock 1st may have been either John Glasscock or Thomas Glasscock or possibly John Thomas Glasscock as George W. named one of his sons John Thomas. Some of the information in the Ellis Bible, especially some of the early dates, is considered unreliable.

Tom, I think you might find the following extract from "The GLASSCOCK Saga"
 by Rev. Laurence GLASSCO interesting

John GLASSCOCK b' Jan 14 1699 m'Margaret OREAR. questioned about his father's flight in 1724. Was granted Apr 10 1728 633 acres "above the thoroughfare of Broad Run & at the foot of Mother Leathercoat Mtn." in what after 1759 was Faquier Co. Built "Rockburn" of four rooms and a cellar (which still remains.)

He is listed on rent rolls of Prince Wm. Co. (which later became Faquier) in 1737, 38, & 39 and on a poll list of 1741. A 1773 deed indicates that his property was in P.W. Co. The deed descriptions indicate that his holdings were in the vicinity of Thorofare Gap, mostly lying on Broad Run w of the gap, but he r' e of the County line in P.W.
 Co. He died in 1784 in Faquier Co. He was certified by the DAR for service in the Revolution (PS VA). Children:

1. William	b' 1729	5. Susanna	b' 1739

Mrs. Brown Of Davie Dies at 93

MOCKSVILLE. — Mrs. Emma Eliza Glasscock Brown, 93, one of three Davie County sisters who lived to be nearly a hundred years old, died yesterday at her home in the Callahan Township, Mocksville, Route 2.

Her only surviving sister, Mrs. Cornelia Glasscock of the home, is 87. Another sister, Miss Martha Jane Glasscock died Feb. 25 at the age of 99.

Mrs. Brown lived her entire life in Davie County where she was born April 14, 1836, the daughter of Thomas N. and Mary Ellen Anderson Glasscock.

She was married Nov. 29, 1863, to James H. Brown, a Davie County farmer, who died April 25, 1941. Mrs. Brown had been a member of the Center Methodist Church since early childhood.

Surviving in addition to the sister are two sons, S. N. Brown of Mocksville, Route 2, and J. H. Brown of the home; one daughter, Miss Sophia Brown of the home; one grandson, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Union Chapel Methodist Church. The Rev. William Anderson and the Rev. H. D. Jessup will officiate. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The body will be taken to the home at 1 p.m. today where it will remain until the funeral hour.

Last Glasscock Sister Dies at 98

Special to The Journal and Sentinel
MOCKSVILLE. — The last of the long-lived Glasscock sisters, the youngest, died at her home in Callahan Township Friday night.

Miss Cornelia Elizabeth Glasscock (everybody called her Aunt Kay) died at the age of 98, leaving the house empty for the first time in many a year.

She was one of the county's oldest residents. Lying to ripe old age was a tradition with the girls in her family. Just a little over two years ago there were three of the Glasscock sisters living in the home on Mary Anderson Glasscock. Then, on Feb. 25, 1941, "Miss Cornelia" Glasscock died at the age of 99. She was the last surviving member of the immediate Glasscock family.

About 10 months later, on Dec. 12 of the same year, Mrs. Emma Eliza Glasscock, the youngest of the three sisters, died.

Aunt Kay was hoping to reach 100, but she became ill about six weeks ago and died yesterday. Just several months short of Miss Kay's record of 99.

The Rev. William Anderson will officiate and burial will be in the family plot at Union Chapel Methodist Church cemetery.

MARRIAGES OF RICHMOND COUNTY

- and Elizabeth (Pope) McCarty (q.v.); Ann(e) Barber was the daughter of Colonel Charles and Frances (Glascok) Barber (q.v.) p.9. AB#1,p.141,416; Colneal Charles and Frances (Glascok) McCarty (1709-1753) was named in the will of WB#5,p.480. Anne (Barber) McCarty (1709-1753) was named in the will of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Anne Glascock, in 1714. WB#3,p.163.]
- MC CARTY, BILLINGTON and Elizabeth Downman, bond 18 October 1756. William Glascock, Sr. (b). [Billington McCarty (1736-1771) was the son of Billington and Anne (Barber) McCarty; he died testate in 1771. Hayden, p.87-88 mis-identifies Billington McCarty (1736-1771) as he did not take into consideration the will of his father, Billington McCarty (1709-1745), and thus a considerable part of the Rev. Mr. Hayden's "Excursus - McCarty Family" is out of focus.]
- MC CARTY, CHARLES BARBER (1741-1785) married circa 1760 Winifred Tarpley, daughter of Major Travers and Betty (Sydnor) Tarpley (q.v.). Major Charles Barber McCarty was the son of Billington and Anne (Barber) McCarty (q.v.); he died testate in Richmond County in 1785. WB#7,p.11,284,452.
- MC CARTY, CHARLES TRAVERS and Apphia Fauntleroy Tomlin, bond 12 January 1796. Bartholomew McCarty (b). [He was the son of Major Charles Barber and Winifred (Tarpley) McCarty (q.v.) and she was the daughter of Robert and Susanna (Fauntleroy) Tomlin (q.v.) AB#2,p.309; WB#9,p.19.] NFR.,p.141
- MC CARTY, CHRAIN married Mary Mazingo, 30 December 1729. [There were McCarts in Richmond and adjacent counties who cannot be identified with the family of Dennis McCarty, Gentleman, (167?-1694) and Elizabeth Ballington, his wife.]
- MC CARTY, DANIEL [CAPTAIN] (1679-1724) of Richmond and Westmoreland counties, son of Dennis and Elizabeth (Billington) McCarty, married (1) 19 October 1698 Elizabeth (Pope) Payne (1667-1716); widow of William Payne, Gentleman; of Westmoreland County; married (2) by 27 May 1719 Ann (Lee) Fitzhugh (1683-1732); daughter of the Honorable Richard Lee and widow of Colonel William Fitzhugh of Eagle's Nest where her tombstone now is. Captain McCarty acquired considerable land in the Northern Neck of Virginia which he devised by will of record in Westmoreland County. There are some errors in regard to Captain Daniel McCarty and his family in Hayden, p.86-87. Westmoreland County COB 1705-1721,p.368a; D&W#8,p.17,169; OPR,p.225-226; Payne,p.226. MC CARTY, DANIEL L. and Ann B. Yerby, bond 26 August 1806. Consent by William Gibson, guardian of the bride. George Saunders (b); John Redman (w).
- MC CARTY, DENNIS [GENTLEMAN] (167?-1694) of Rappahannock and Richmond counties married Elizabeth Ballington, daughter of Luke and Barbara Billington of Rappahannock County. He acquired considerable landed estate and died testate in Richmond County but his last will was recorded in now lost WB#1. COB#1, p.174; Hayden,p.84A,84B,85-86; Payne,p.226; Sweeney,p.16,17,29,127-128.
- MC CARTY, DENNIS and Elizabeth Yerby, bond 3 December 1790. Charles Travers McCarty (b). [Elizabeth Woodbridge Yerby was the daughter of John Yerby who died testate in Richmond County in 1775. WB#7,p.205.]

Hi Mary Ella,

Enclosed is a few pages of GLASCOCK data that I found on the computer bulletin boards. Since there are several GLASCOCK researchers using these boards, I was wondering if you would mind if I gave them your name, address and phone number? These networks go world wide, so you might get mail from anywhere. Say, "yes" or "no". I wouldn't send it out without your permission.

Also, let me know if you have your data on a computer, and if so, what geanology program you are using. These people will probably want to transfer data via floppy disk. If you don't have a program, I can send you a copy of the "Shareware" program I am using. It costs nothing to try it and only about $50.00 if you decide to buy it.

Good Luck in your research.

WILLIAM GLASSCOCK

William Glasscock married Frances Dailey, daughter of John H. Dailey. According to Mr. Burl St. Clair, Falls of Rough, Grayson County, Kentucky. William was Born ca 1796 in Virginia. His wife Frances was born ca 1798.

William died between November 15, 1838 and January 1839. According to Will Book No. 1 Breckinridge County Kentucky Records, volume 4 by Micheal Lewis Cook, the will was written on November 15, 1838 and probated January term 1839 in County Court.

According to William Glasscock's will, his wife Frances was still living.

Acc. to will: Children of William and Frances Glasscock were:

- (1) John B. Glasscock- Acc to 1860 census records - John B. Glasscock was 39 years old. (This would place his birth ca 1821, born Kentucky) John B. Glasscock and wife Martha were also living in Breckinridge County, during the 1850 census. No children were listed in the household for the 1850 census, other than a son William N. Glasscock, age 1 year. Quite possibly John B. married Martha _____ ca 1848/1849.

Acc. to 1860 census- John B. Glasscock and wife Martha had children:

- (1a) William N. Glasscock- Born ca 1849 in Kentucky. (age 11)
- (1b) Margaret E. Glasscock- Born ca 1851 in Kentucky. (age 9)
- (1c) Frank Glasscock- Born ca 1854 in Kentucky. (age 6)
- (1d) Jasper H. Glasscock- Born ca 1857 in Kentucky (age 3)

- (2) Mary Ann Glasscock-

- (3) Sarah E. Glasscock- Acc. to 1850 census of Breckinridge, she was living in the home of her mother Frances Glasscock. Born ca 1829. (age 31).

- (4) Mehatabel Boyd Glasscock- Born the 18-June-1823 in Kentucky. She married Zachariah Isaac Green 1843/1844 in Breckinridge County. She died on 22-June-1886 in Grayson County, Kentucky. For more info on Mehatabel see Green family history- Zachariah Isaac Green.

- (5) Margaret Glasscock- Acc. to 1850 census of Breckinridge County, she was still living in the home of her mother Frances Glasscock. She was born ca 1826. (age was 24) She married Thomas J. Hall on the 8th of December 1857 in Breckinridge County. See Marriage Bond Book No. 2 1855-1858 by Micheal Cook.
- (6) William Glasscock- William is not listed in the 1850 census in the household of his mother Frances Glasscock. Since in William Glasscock (Sr) will between his sister Margaret who was born ca 1826 and sister Martha J. Glasscock born ca 1831, William was probably born between 1826-1831. Quite possibly born 1828-1829. Note- There is a William H. Glasscock age 22, listed in the 1850 census. The age would be right. He is listed as living alone.
- (7) Martha J. Glasscock- Acc. to 1850 census she was living in her mother Frances Glasscock's household. She was born ca 1831. (age 19).

(8) James W. Glasscock- Was residing in the home of his mother Frances Glasscock during the 1850 census. Born ca 1833. (age 17) James is listed in the 1860 census of Breckinridge County. Age 26, farmer, born in Kentucky. His mother Frances Glasscock age 62, born in Kentucky, was living in his household. At the time of the 1860 census, James was not married. Also living in this household was a Thos. (Thomas?) J. Dewitt, male age 14, born in Kentucky.

(9) George D. Glasscock- At the time of the 1850 census he was living in the home of his mother Frances Glasscock. Born ca 1836 (age 14). Acc to Marriage Bond Book No. 4 1860-1863- George D. Glasscock, age 26, farmer (Mother and father born Nelson, County, Kentucky) to Mary Jane Hayes, age 25, (father born Virginia, mother born Nelson County) William C. Hayes, bondsman; to be married January 28, 1863 at residence of A.M. Hayes.

The first nine children are listed in William Glasscock's will. However, acc. to the 1850 census of Frances Glasscock, there was another child:

(10) Robert Glasscock- Acc. to 1850 census, living in household of Frances Glasscock. Born ca 1839. (age 11)

Frances Glasscock was still living during the 1860 census, as she was living with her son James W. Glasscock. Acc. to this census she was age 62, placing her birth ca 1798. Acc. to her son's George D. Glasscock marriage record, she was born in Nelson, County, Kentucky.

William Glasscock died between November 15, 1838 and January 1839 in Breckinridge County, Kentucky. Acc. to his son George D. Glasscock's marriage record, he was born in Nelson County, Kentucky.

CHILDREN OF ALEXANDER HENDERSON (26) AND ELIZABETH MORRISON.

(83) i Robert M. Henderson, b 1813; d -; m 1836-7, Lucinda Porter of Ky. Removed to Lexington, Mo., soon after marriage, and just before the Civil war, to St. Louis, Mo.

(84) ii Thomas Alexander J. Henderson, b 1816, Fleming Co., Ky.; d 1896, Mt. Carmel, KY; m (1st) 1838, Harriet S. Quaintance, b 1819; d 1877, Ky.; m (2nd) 1878, Nancy Katherine Glascock, b 1838, Ky.; d 1893, Ky. res. Mt. Carmel, Ky.

(85) iii James William Henderson, b 1817, Fleming Co., KY.; d suddenly of heart failure Dec. 1888; m (1st) 1865, Helen Hockaday, d 1870; in (2nd) 1878, Nannie T. Pittinger, b 1847, res. Covington, Ky., J. W. Henderson participated in the Mexican war and returning home became a merchant at Mt. Carmel, Ky.

(86) iv Martha Ellen Henderson, b 5, June 1819, Fleming Co. Ky.; d 7, June 1871, Urbana, Ill.; m 9, Mar. 1848, Jesse Falls, d 15, Jan. 1901, Champaign, Ill. (he m 2nd, 1872, Elizabeth R Porter (sister of Luinda Porter, see No. 83, d 24, Feb. 1915). Mr. Falls came from Ohio to Mt. Carmel, Ky. when 21 years of age and was a sailor; in 1855 he and Mrs. Falles removed to Urbana, Ill., where he became engaged in marble works.

(87) v George Austin Henderson (commonly called "Charlie,"), b 1823; d 1892, Mt. Carmel, KY.; m (1st) Mrs. Sara (Seybold) Nute, b 1834; d 1, Aug. 1888; m (2nd) 1890, Josephine Power, res. Kansas City, Mo. Charlie Henderson was a merchant in Mt. Carmel, Ky., and owned extensive lands in the county near the town, including old Henderson Place, which he sold in 1876. He was a substantial business man and became President of a large bank in Mt. Carmel.

(88) vii John Lowery Henderson, b 1821 Fleming Co., Ky.; d 1837; unm.; a highly respected young farmer. It is related that on the 4th of July, 1837, he had attended a horse race in the county and was returning home to late dinner. Old Siller, a negro slave woman, directed him to a "Hoe-cake" in the pantry, and being hungry, he ate heartily. On the following day he was found dead in a sitting posture, leaning against a tree by the creek. Investigations proved the guilt of the old negro woman, who confessed putting poison in the cake, intentionally. Feeling ran high in the community, the old slave was given money and invited to cross the river, which she did, but later returned and died in a cabin on the Henderson farm. Others of the family suffered from the poisoned hoe-cake and escaped death only because of having eaten sparingly.

Booe/Buhe/Bub Family

Philip Jacob Buhe was born in 1683 in Baden, Germany. It appears that Philip Jacob was married twice, first to Maria and second to Margaretha, unless his wife's name was Marie Margaretha, which is entirely possible. Both names, Maria and Margaretha appear on separate birth records in Weissenstein, Germany. Weissenstein was situated on the Enz River on the northern edge of the Black Forest. Philip Jacob and his family arrived in Philadelphia on October 12, 1738 aboard the snow Fox, a type of two-masted sailing vessel common in the 18th century. They remained in Pennsylvania for sometime and became a part of the Pennsylvania Dutch Society. Their son, Christopher/Stoffel Buhe/Booe left Pennsylvania and was in Rowan Co NC by 1756.

Second Generation:

Children of Philip Jacob Bub and Maria

Simon Bub m. Apollonis (?)

Catharine Bub (1703, Weissenstein, Germany-?) m. Melchior Hutchmacher (widower)

Children of Philip Jacob Bub and Margaretha

Philip Jacob Bub, Jr (1709, Weissenstein, Germany-?)

Christoph Bub (1712, Weissenstein, Germany-c1783) m. Margretha

Johannn George Bub (1715, Weissenstein, Germany-?)

Heinrich Booe (probably too young to be mentioned on ships passenger's list) (lived near Dutchman's Creek, and is mentioned later by Christoph to be his brother)

(note: from the Parish Weinssenstein, Germany the following record extracted:)

Agnes Louisa Buh, born August 23, 1736. "The unchaste father is Christoph Bub of Philipp Jacob Bub at Weissenstein. The harlot mother is Maria Dorothea Neyl, thoughtless daughter of Jacob Neyel, citizen and craftsmen here. Godparents: Philipp Jacob Haug at Weissenstein. Also Michael Hutchmacher citizen and craftsman here. Johann Jacob Bonenberger von of the late Jacob Bonenberger citizen and weaver here. Elisabetha Mercklin Single daughter of the cobbler here."

Third Generation:
