

12-12-1972 - Chamblee, Ga.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. O'Nan :

Have thought of you folks often. Any luck on your Bowles line ?

I finally located the tombstone of Elizabeth Roberts (daughter of my William Roberts and Mary Bowles Roberts) in St. Vincent's Cemetery, Indian Creek, (Monroe County,), Missouri. Stephens'

Notes inserted

Hoping Mary is buried there or roundabout, but no luck yet.

Would enjoy hearing from you.

Have a good Christmas and an extra good New Year.

Dear Mrs Kirby: -

Clara (Clarissa) Bowles was born Oct. 1, 1797 & died Oct. 17, 1859. She & Dennis O'Nan are buried in St. Vincent's, Sacred Heart Cemetery, Union County.

Dennis O'Nan is listed as one of the first parishioners & helped build the Church. (B. J. Webb's, Centenary of Catholicity in Ky. p. 366).

In haste —

Dear Mrs Kirby ,

I enjoyed the letter from you in February , and have intended to answer it sooner .

Last week end I was out at the St. Stephens Cemetery at Indian Creek Mo and came across the Buckman stone you wrote about . I think you would like the inscriptions from it. It is a large four sided stone and is inscribed on four sides .

JOHN S. BUCKMAN BORN 8-21-1791. DIED 5-5-1865

(2)

ELIZABETH wife of JOHN S. BUCKMAN B.2-8-1795. d. 3-3-1868.

(3)

BENEDICT J.F.BUCKMAN b. 4-19-1817 d. 1-22-1837 .

(4)

MARGARET ANN BUCKMAN 1824 -1865 .

Wife of William Hardesty and after his death the wife of ROBERT CALHOUN

see page 44-C 45

check into this

I think the no 3 and 4 are children of John and Elizabeth , But Now I must find out who Robert Calhoun was . I have no Idea., and wonder if he belonged to the family of Calhouns that I married into .

I did not realize when I copied this down that it was your people . But on getting home I remembered your letter and referred to it . I will be going back soon as it is only 6 miles and I will look all around that part of the cemetery for MARY BOWLES ROBERTS LEAKE . Some stones are missing in this old part of the cemetery but I will certainly try . I will look for all three names ,

I keep busy and did not want to let this run along and forget about it so am sending it on to you . I will let you know if something is found

As I want to keep in touch with you , and tell you how I have enjoyed reading your book and that I always feel like I am going home when I go to Galvry and Lebanon Ky. I would love to live to see the OLD HOLY MARY Cemetery restored . Having been in it the last two years I feel it could be restored . Like every thing old , it means a lot to the state of Kentucky , as so many of the pioneers are interred there .

I thought about you when I read of that explosion which was very close , was it not . ? Did you have damage ?

Hoping you are keeping well and still find life enjoyable , I remain , sincerely ,

Alice Calhoun .

Dear Mrs Kirby;

Here is the info. on the Union County History.
History of Union County Kentucky; Published by the Courier Co., Printers, Binders, and Engravers; Evansville Indiana 1886. (Evidently no author) ✓

A reproduction was made for Mrs Nell O'Nan of Sturgis in a limited quantity by UNIGRAPHIC, INC.
of Evansville. The first reprinting is long gone.
Of the second printing there are only 2 copies left.
If you should want one my cousin Edna said that Nell O'Nan would sell a copy for $12.75...but should be told as soon as possible.

I don't remember how much I have told you about my continuing research on the Bowles line. Did I get up to the point of telling you that I am having sources searched? The D.A.R. in Washington seems at the moment to be the most promising--so I am ordering them to go ahead and search on JOHN BOWLES and JOSHUA HILL.

Always glad to hear from you---and will keep you informed of any progress made.

Sincerely,

J. F. O'Nan

The Bowles name is of both Saxon and Norman origin, and dates back to 449 A.D. altho not plainly until 400 years thereafter. The name is found on ancient records in various forms: Bolla, Bello, Boel, Bowle, Bowls, Boles, Bolles and Bowles. Families bearing this name were found at early dates in English countries of Lincoln, Kent, Nottingham, Hereford, Berks, Wilts, Middlesex, Suffolk, Warwick, Leicester, Northampton, Stafford, Oxford and London, and were of landed gentry and nobility of Great Britian.

Dear Mrs Kirby:

Thanks for your long, warm, welcome letter. You are a wonderful to correspond with & I've enjoyed every bit of it!

This is just to let you know that, following the advice of the D.A.R. Librarian, I am having a recommended genealogist look up John Bowler & Joshua Hill. John is supposed to have married Anna Hill, grand-daughter of Joshua Hill - Per War Soldier. I know it sounds bookee but I asked a genealogist to make me a line from the info in a Compendium

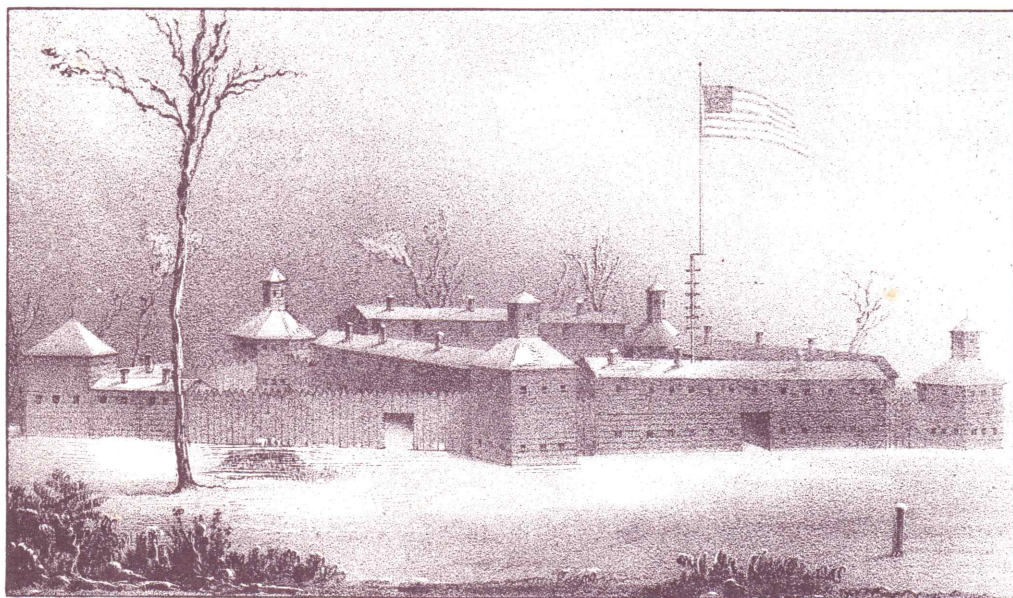

From the collections of The Cincinnati Historical Society: Fort Washington at Cincinnati, major military post built above the Ohio shore in 1799, provided protection for settlers until 1803.

Dear Kentucky Kin:

This note is for both of you, And I am enclosing a newspaper article I saw recently in paper about Agnes Scott College that I thought might interest you folks since the "better Half" of your family - if I recall correctly went to Agnes Scott. Perhaps some of these houses are ones she will recognize.

I have been fighting a losing battle - it seems - ever New Years's Eve (when I came down with a terrible ear and throat deal - finally having ear operated on again (like four years ago) to relieve congestion. (Actually a tube they insert - mostly in children nowadays) but in my case applicable. Had marvelous success first time, but not this time. Ear still closed up - and hurts some - but mainly throbbing. Can count every heart-beat - night and day, and hoping the doctor specialist can tell me why. And give me some relief.

Too, have never caught up with all the jobs I came hear to when I moved back last Fall - - am trying little by little to strip my files, but with small success. I like my new place much better than the previous place, but since I know several people down here (already when I came, I mean) and my sister lives in this big complex, I seem to be always opening the door to visitors. And get little done.

Do hope you and your family have a happy Easter. Believe it or not I have not been to church since New Year's Eve! Sounds incredible. But I jaber missed even as much as 10 Sundays in all my life going to church - BUT - whoever designed this church certainly did not take into consideration the older generation. There are many steps to climb to get to the front door - (built into the side of hill) - or one had choice of a long ramp to walk up - which I cannot negotiate in cold windy weather on account of the ear. (Guess you know though they call this the Sunny South, - we do have cold weather - and a lot of rain, and that ramp is

Dear Mr. O'Nan:

He already has this

Your letter was just the sort of letter we who have been through the mill of compiling a family history book hopes for and enjoys receiving. So few people can put their feelings into words. But you expressed yours beautifully, and the time you spent enumerating by hand all the names my book contained and others of people you grew up with makes me doubly happy to tell you I want you to keep my book and I shall be honored and happy to receive yours. (am using about Library copy)

About Union County, it seems that hardly had our Nelson and Washington County ancestors got comfortably settled than those with the itchy foot set forth again - that time for Union County. When this exodus started could have been as early as 1811 when Henderson was divided to form Nelson, but I think more likely in the early 1820's and continued until well up into the 1840's, with the result that today both Henderson and Union can boast of descendants of the Nelson and Washington County pioneers, and in great number.

For that reason am placing copies of my book in the Henderson and Morganfield Libraries. Mailing them this week.

About the D.A.R. - Unfortunately before you mentioned the S.A.R. my sister asked to be allowed to present a copy of my book to the D.A.R. in Washington D. C. and has now received a gracious letter from the Librarian General to send it along. It is my understanding that one copy suffices for all three branches - the D.A.R., S.A.R. and C.A.R.

But, I am hoping when I get a little further along in the distribution of the books, that perhaps I can spare a copy for some Library of your particular choice, in which case I would consider it a privilege for you to present it. If so, let me know.

Dear Mrs Kirby!

Regarding my book

I'm really enjoying your book -- the index is great! So glad you went to all the extra trouble for it. When I did mine, it nearly drove me up the wall -- & since yours is longer than mine, I can appreciate all the work that went into it.

While reading the early part about the first Catholics in Ky, I made notes ~~of~~ Xerox pages from my copy of Catholicity in Ky. After Xeroxing the pages it suddenly occurred to me that I had already sent you this data. If I have, please forgive me for repeating myself & chalk it up to the forgetfulness of "old-age!" not all previously

The more I read, the more I am convinced that all these Maryland Catholics who came into Kentucky are all en-meshed together. (After all, there were few Catholics for them to marry -- ^{only} their friends & neighbors). Walter, Leo & Catherine Bowles (the sisters' brother) Clarissa who married Dennis Onan) married, respectively, Rose McAttee, Theresa McAttee & Stephen McAttee -- all the children of Elisha McAttee who along with John Bowles, John Cruz, Dennis Onan, Clement Riney & Thomas Wathen were the founders of Sacred Heart Church at St. Vincent Ky.

one of John Cruz daughters married (2)
a son of Thomas Wathen, because I went to grade school in Henderson, Ky (Holy name) with the children of a man called Cruz Wathen. (Cruz married a girl named Fenwick -- another prominent & revered Ky.
name. (the Index in Catholicity in Ky lists, under Fenwick; Thomas, Cornelius, Henry, Richard, Reverend Edward Fenwick.) I went to school with Wathens, Drurys, Abels, Mattingly (my sister Irene married Richard Mattingly.) Alveys, Drurys, (Catherine O'Nan (of Dennis & Clarissa Bowles)) married
"Nace" (Ignatius Drury.) Another daughter, Elizabeth, married James Bernard Malohon (he was a grandson of James Malohon who came into Ky with Basil Hayden, et al.) their son Thomas married Mary Ellen Riney (a descendant of Clement Riney), an O'Nan girl married a Luckett & we had a Cousin Luckett O'Nan.

all of these names are as familiar to me as the back of my hand! (Oh yes, Elizabeth McAttee married Benedict Wathen). (Rose, Theresa, Elizabeth & Stephen McAttee were children of Eliza McAttee.)
Regarding mass stations, I forgot to Xerox page 96 of Catholicity in Ky. It contains a portion of Father George Elder's letter to the incoming pastor, Fr.
Fenrick. (St. Pius, Scott Co. Ky, Aug 14, 1827.)

probably refers to Theresa Carrion whose sister Rebecca married John O'Nan + are my ancestors

I went to school with Abels, Alvay, Blandford, Roberts, Elders, Fenwicks, Fowlers, Hardesty, Hinton, (we own 1/2 a cemetery lot with the Jarboes), Mattingly's, Mudds, Wathen's & Whalen's! Reading your book has been like "old-home-week."

I hope that you can see your way to letting me keep it -- in anticipation, I am sending you a copy of mine in exchange! If it is too great a sacrifice, O.K. ... I understand, & I'll return it; but you may keep mine in exchange for all the generous, unselfish you gave me when I was desperately trying to find Bowles material. I count you one of my true friends & benefactors. Keep yours & swift return for

Dear Mr. O/Nan:

I had in mind writing you a thank-you on some fancy note-paper someone gave me, to say the book arrived, and that I do appreciate it so much. But the truth is, am quite sure you would rather have this typewritten note than my handwriting, which I find hard to read myself - once it gets cold!

Seems will never get through with my book job - but then had a houseguest again - this time my brother's son from California, and old man Winter "snook" in, and had to stop everything and get out suitable clothing, etc. So no wonder the book job came to a standstill.

Note you say my book will eventually find its way to a genealogical library. Might be a good idea if and when that happens to check with me. Have had requests from some additional libraries since I made the list that you find in the book itself in the Preface, and there will be no use in duplicating in case the situation arises.

Dear Friend: -

Thank you for the gift of your book...
I appreciate it, as I now each book is precious to you! My book, as a "thank you"

Dear Mr. O'Nan:

I did enjoy so much receiving the copy of the History of Pioneer Families of Missouri, and have made copy for my files, and herewith returning yours.

Seeing at a glance through this copy that so many of of my Mary Bowles Roberts ^{family} moved to Missouri focuses attention on something I had long suspected that perhaps after her second husband's death in Union County Ky, that Mary went to Missouri, where her daughter Elizabeth and husband John Buckman loved - and perhaps died there - which would account for the fact that we could never find her grave either in Washington Co. Ky. or in Union County Ky where she lived and where her husband died. This has been checked out by one of my very thorough helpers, with no avail. Which does not mean that some evidence may not even yet turn up. Seems courthouses burn all over the country and cemeteries do not always remain in tact either. But this is an idea and one that may some day be solved.

And I certainly appreciate the clipping about myself and my book from the Ky. Historical Society news letter. No, I do not get this. Never got around to joining the society (if that is what it takes). Think shall write them - if not too expensive perhaps shall join.

Believe you will like to hear about some of the comments I have had about my book. Really they far surpass my highest expectations. Several of the libraries when acknowledging receipt of the books spoke of the magnitude of the book, and went on to say that since its arrival on their shelves it had been in almost constant demand - in some instances taken out by specially screened people. This is never done I imagine in large city libraries, but in small towns where everyone knows everyone else, it appears it is done in some instances. And subsequently I received letters from some of these people, which were also a delight to my heart, which asked for copies of their own. And only this week I had a letter from a mid-central State from someone who had seen a book in the hands of a friend of mine in Texas, this lady asking for copy. I don't have to tell you that the feeling the book is reaching a lot of people - more than I thought possible, is very gratifying.

And how is your book coming along now? Imagine you are still getting requests also.

And also like myself you probably have a lot of letters to answer, and detail work to do - in some instances two of my helpers wanted many extra copies of their sections and this certainly was a tedious job. One is finished, the other still unfinished.

Dear Mrs Kirby;

Include this in my line Rec'd 10/31/68

I don't have time for a proper letter--and yet I do not want ~~you~~ to leave you "hanging" on the John Bowles thing. Unfortunately, the Compendium of American Genealogy did not give any further information save that John Bowles (Rev. War) was the father of John Baptist Bowles, and that he married Anna Hill, the daughter of Joshua Hill, the granddaughter of Joshua Hill (Rev. War). It was a great find for me, because I have been searching for 15 years, and the name of the book you sent me broke the barrier! I've placed many ads trying to find out Clarissa's father.

I am writing to The Hall of Records at Annapolis, The Maryland Historical Society, and the National Archives at Washington. Naturally, anything I uncover, you will share in--we are "kin-folk". Permit me to say that when I read that you were 72 years old I nearly flipped my lid! I had no idea you were anything except a "youngish" person. My hat is off to you!!

He gave me this letter

I will have to write to my cousin in Union County Ky. for the exact title and author of the Union County History as I did not buy a copy of it. Incidentally, it was reprinted thru the efforts of a cousin of mine--an O'Nan.

Was glad to hear about your connection with the Delaware Roberts line. Hope it is just what you need. I have uncovered 7 ancestors who served in the Rev. War. I have S. A. R. Membership, and my oldest daughter is going into D.A.R. Regardless of the location of the nearest Chapter to you, I think you ought to go in on John Bowles, if we can find the proper confirmation of his service.

This letter is jerky, disjointed, and miserably typed--but you will have to accept the will for the deed!

Sincerely,

J. F. O'Nan

Dear Mr. O'Kan:

It was so nice hearing from you and as this is my weekend to try and catch up on my correspondence am writing you first of all. And I am delighted that you have definitely proved your connection with John Baptist and John his father. Nothing gives one so much pleasure as finding a new link in his lines - and I have good news for you about myself too, at last - on Roberts.

We have - it seems- finally made our connection with the Delaware Roberts line. I think there can be no doubt about it- and am accepting the data as put together by a Kentucky relative who made another trip over there, and came back with some really conclusive documents. But not, however, with the positive proof I had hoped for. In other words though all data there ties up in many, many ways - wording of wills for example of William Roberts in Delaware, whom we think is the father of our Kentucky William, whose will dated only a few years later (he died young) is so similar is almost uncanny. I still do not have anything in writing anywhere that says this William's son emigrated to Kentucky. Perhaps we shall find that yet, and I have one more contact in Delaware who may throw some light on this.

However, by the process of elimination - and I mean elimination, all through Maryland, and Virginia - in which places I have never in all my research found two Williams of the right ages to be father and son, and did find hundreds of Williams - it does seem we have at last hit the jackpot. And I am even now writing up the "copy" for the book on Roberts, something have never felt ready to do before. And I think I shall write the lady you called Mrs. Mallie Coyle of Florence Ky, in one last attempt to track down the marriage bond, if any, in Scott County.

I am not sure whether I thank ^{ed} you for the Pottinger Creek photo copies - think so, but in case I didn't- I do appreciate everything you have sent me. In regards the ones just received with your letter which came this week about Tombstone records of Calvary Cemetery (Holy Mark actually) --- yes, these Abells and Spaldings are my lines, and also the Basil Hayden records, but I do have all of these already - having come across this Tombstone record a long while ago and have found it worth its weight in gold. So don't worry about sending other leaves from Dr. Johnson's Cemetery records.

So that you will know just where I stand now on all my different lines, it is like this:

All Hayden- Abell- Spalding chapters are written and printed for my book - Finished.

And on Wathen I have all information I need- writing that "copy" now.

Only thing left is the marriage bond for William Roberts and Mary Bowles - and I am vitally interested in the item you mention about John Bowles, Mary and John Baptists father being a soldier in the American Revolution. Note you say you found this in the Compendium of American Genealogy - and am wondering if you made a note of his war record - - just where he served. In all probability since he was not young (or I imagine not too young) at the time, he was in the St. Mary's County Maryland Militia. If you have this reference I would certainly appreciate it.

It's been a strange thing really - that with as many lines as I have handled for the book, only two others (besides this John Bowles) have shown up as fighting in the Revolution - or more to the point being in the St. Mary's Militia. Family ages seem to run pretty true to form in the age group of the ancestors. Most of my lines were either too old, or too young - to be in the actively fighting units, it seems.

But wherever John Bowles served - in whatever capacity is of great interest to me.

for two reasons, first, I was able to give my niece (the one who sent me the Bowles Farquhar' reference) one family line that put her in the D.A.R. as a member. And it would be so very nice if she could get an added bar, or whatever they call a second revolutionary ancestor, on the Bowles line, as without her reference I would never have known about Scott County - never met you, and - so if you know anything - give me any reference where we can get sufficient facts to apply to the Daughter s of the American Revolution on this Bowles line, it would make us all very happy, I am sure - My family say I am the one who ought to be a member since I have done all the work , but I live in a small town, where there is no chapter, therefore could not take an active part. but my sisters and this niece got in on my research, and if I coldadd the Bowles line, would be so glad to do so.

I stay rushed to death continually - as mentioned before have had a lot of house guests recently and the lady of the house can't do much else under those circumstances than pitch in and forget genealogy temporarily which irritates me, because time is running out on this book. I was 72 years old yesterday - and while I still have my faculties and a fair amount of bodily health, I worry about finishing it. And right now my husband is pushing for a trip to Florida - which no doubt we will take shortly - so I am rusing myself every minute to write up all the "copy" for the book before I leave, so that is anything should happen to me, my sister could make the stancils and the mimeograph copies - and finish the book. Not that I anticipate anything, but one never knows, and since no one but I, myself can possibly write that "copy" I feel it is imperative to get it all finished as quickly as possible.

At present I have - stored in boxes - at least 15,000 pages of This book - and there is always the danger of fire also. So I waht to get on with it, but I do have so many interruptions - so many demands on my time - actually am struggling constantly to get on with this job- making good headway, but still some tax way to go yet.

So do wish me well - and know that I appreciate all the lovely photostats you have sent me. And happy I was able to help you some.

Sinc erely,

P.S. - the two things I want if possible are:

- (1) John Bowles Army record - reference I can use as substantiation for D.A.R.
- (2) The name of the Union County History - the exact Title of the book - and the name of the Author . I need this to make proper reference to it in my "copy". And I certinly mean to give you credit in the book for the hääp you ha ve given me.

Oct - 21 - 1968

Dear Mrs Kirby;

A bit more of information; I found out that the Clara-(issa) Bowles who married grandfather Dennis O'Nan was the daughter of John Baptist and Henrietta Wheatley Bowles. Today I found out in the Compendium of American Genealogy the John Baptist's father's name was JOHN, and that he served in the American Revolution. I also came across some old cemetery records that might be of use to you--I call your attention to the Roberts entries--and notice that they are for Marion County--might be a lead for you. In the same records, but I forgot to Xerox the page, occurs this entry;

BASIL HAYDEN born Aug 7, 1774 . died July 20, 1833

MARY, wife of Basil Hayden Born July 21, 1777. died Jan 30 1838.

I believe that you told me that Basil Hayden was a direct ancestor of yours. There were more Haydens on the page, and if this is your line, let me know and I will Xerox the "H" page for you. I appreciate the help you have given me--it was thru your mention of the Bowles Family History by Farquar that I got a positive proof that John Baptist was indeed Clarissa's father. If that Scott record had not been so badly burnt, I would have had it there--but too much was destroyed to make a positive identification.

Let me hear from you!

Sincerely

J. F. O'Nan

JOHN BOWLES was one of three brothers who came from England with Lord Baltimore and settled in St. Mary's County Maryland. He was accompanied by his wife, and the family remained in St. Mary's for four generations. ^{my mother} John Bowles and wife, living in St. Mary's in 1774 had eight children; William, JOHN BAPTIST, Joseph, Jane, James J, Susan, Henrietta, and Mary. In 1789 John Baptist, Joseph, Jane, James J. and Mary moved to Kentucky and settled in Scott County. Joseph married Alice Raley and lived and died in Washington County Kentucky. Jane married Ignatius Greenwell, and their son Robert married Maria Twynan and settled in St. Charles County Maryland. Mary married William Roberts and their daughter Elizabeth married John Burkman, who settled in Montgomery County Missouri. Spends him this then he saw the for author 3000

⇒ JOHN BAPTIST married Henrietta Wheatley, and their eight children were Walter, James W. (born near Bradstown Ky, in 1795,) Leo, Clara, Elizabeth, Catherine, Matilda, and Cecelia. Walter married Rose McAtee, and settled in St. Charles County Missouri in 1828. He was a soldier in the war of 1812 and was still living in 1875 in his 87th year. Leo married Theresa McAtee and settled in St. Charles County Missouri in 1831; they had 7 children. CLARA married DENNIS ONAN, and they lived in Ky. They had 12 children. Catherine married Stephen McAtee, who settled in St. Charles County in 1834; they had 8 children. Matilda married Walter Barnes (an error—the name was Walter Barron according to the marriage bond. Matilda was a ward of Walter and he signed her bond), and they lived in Kentucky. Cecelia married James W. Drury who settled in St. Charles County in 1835; they had 13 children.

⑤ CATHERINE

She married Stephen McAttee, who settled in St. Charles Missouri in 1834. They had eight children. (The writer is not sure whether or not Stephen was a son of Elisha McAtee, but since his name is on the marriage bond of his sister, one assumes that he was a brother acting in "loco parentis".)

⑥ MATILDA

She married 10 May 1823 in Union County Kentucky, Walter Barron. Matilda was the ward of her brother Walter, and he signed as such on her marriage bond. Matilda and Clarissa were married on the same dday.)

⑦ CECELIA

She married James W. Drury and settled in St. Charles County Missouri, in 1835. They had thirteen children.

substantiating papers

Dear Mrs Kirby;

Was most distressed to hear of your great loss--and all the upheaval attendant on the change of status. You are lucky that you have the book to occupy your mind--keep busy!

Use what you want of what I have sent you. My people were never in Washington County--only Nelson, Scott and Union. (Clarissa, Walter, Leo, Matilda and Catherine all turn up in Union County Ky around 1823.) The father John Baptist had died in Scott County prior to 1819--we cannot find the exact date as most of the Scott County records were burnt in a fire. However, a researcher found part of a burnt document dated 13 January 1819 which speaks of John Baptist Bowles, deceased. At least from 1823 on, Clara lived and died and is buried in Union County (St. Vincents Kentucky).

Grandpa was born there and later moved into Henderson County, Henderson Kentucky where he died; Between Union County and Henderson County, Grandpa was a farm manager for some Bowles relatives in St. Charles Missouri--Mama and Aunt Belle were children there (tho both were born in Union County Ky.)
Mama Was born in Union County--Papa is Daviess County. Papa was the son of James O'Nan and Mary Magdalene Clayton. James was the son of John O'Nan and Rebecca Carrico O'Nan. Rebecca was the daughter of Basil Carrico, born in Montgomery County Md. served in the Militia there during the Rev. War. and later moved into Shelby County where his daughter Rebecca married John O'Nan. Basil had another daughter Theresa, who with another girl started the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth Kentucky. After a year they were joined by Catherine Spalding, the neice of Bishop Spalding, and gets all the credit for starting the order. She had more education than the two other girls, and they elected her Superior. The Sisters at Nazareth in their history book say that Theresa Carrico was the FIRST one. My book is at the printers and I am having an awful time getting just the way I want it--even so, I just can't cut it! I get one thing corrected and it causes two more headaches. It is mostly in the Format--they don't seem to want to do it like I have outlined it. O by the way--I had no luck at all in tracing wither John Bowles (Rev. War) or Joshua Hill. I just didn't have either the time or the money at that time to pursue it. If I ever find out anything, I will share it with you--you may be sure of that! Be sure and let me know your new address. Please accept my heartfelt sympathy, and know that I am thinking of you and praying for you and your welfare.

Sincerely, O'Nan
