

ISAACS

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1931

Lebanon Girl Sponsor Of Danville Band

MISS ELIZABETH ISAACS

Miss Isaacs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Isaacs of this city, has been chosen sponsor of the Danville Club band for the Centre-Mercer University home-coming football game in Danville Saturday afternoon, October 31.

Isaacs-Reid.

Isaacs

The wedding of Miss Addie Louise Isaacs of this city and Charles Edward Reid of Lexington was quietly solemnized Saturday night at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Isaacs, on High street, the Rev. Bedford Turner, pastor of the local Methodist church, officiating. Only the immediate family and a few close friends were present at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Reid left immediately after the ceremony for Lexington where they will make their home.

News of the wedding came as a surprise to the many friends in this city of the bride, who is an attractive young woman and a popular member of Lebanon's younger social set. She is a graduate of the Lebanon High School and attended the University of Kentucky, Lexington, the past year. The Isaacs family moved to Lebanon from Gravel Switch about a year ago.

The groom, who is a civil engineer, is a splendid young man. He is a son of Charles Reid of Macon, Ga.

May 11 1930
Ammerman-Isaacs.

An announcement that will come as a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the couple is that of the marriage of Miss Edwina Ammerman and Lucian Isaacs, both of this city, which took place yesterday at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. T. J. Porter.

The bride has for the past six years been connected with The Falcon office, but resigned her position there a few weeks ago. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ammerman.

Mr. Isaacs is a son of Shelby Isaacs and for a year or more has been employed at a local billiard room.

Isaacs